LOS ANGELES CROWD CHEERS ARBUCKLE

HOTEL ASHLAND LEASE SOLD TO PORTLAND MAN

LEASE AND FURNITURE SOLD BY COFFMAN AFTER 2 MONTHS' OWNERSHIP TO B. F. LEACH, FORMER BAKER HOTEL MAN.

Negotiations made during the past week for the purchase of the lease and furniture of the Hotel Ashland culminated today in the sale of that property by T. J. Coffman, the owner since August 1, to B. F. Leach, of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Leach will take possession of the hotel tomorrow morning. No change in the personnel of the hotel employes is contemplated.

Mr. Leach is an experienced hotel man. Until a few months ago he was the owner of the Geiser Grand hotel at Baker, Ore. For the past two months Mr. and Mrs. Leach have been in Portland.

The hotel will be partly refurbished, Mr. Leach states. Renovation of the property will start at once. Although definite plans have not been made, Mr. Leach contemplates leasing the recently-completed hotel annex over the Class A garage. Such a lease, if made, would be effected after the winter months, Mr. Leach said. "If the business justified it," the new owner is optimistic over the business prospects and believes that the hotel will average half and half tourist and commercial trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffman, who came here from Portland, will remain in Ashland for an indefinite time. Mr. Coffman states that he is disposing of the hotel property because of Mrs. Coffman's health.

Mr. Coffman, who formerly was sales manager for a large bottling concern at Salem, is pleased with Ashland and this afternoon announced his intention of locating his business here. Definite plans as to the nature of his enterprises have not yet been announced. Mr. Coffman still controls property in the rear of the Hotel Ashland. "For the time being," Mr. Coffman says, "Mrs. Coffman and I will take a vacation."

Elk's Show Seat Sale Tomorrow, Vining Reserved

The seat sale for "Purple Flashes," the Elks' big show at the Vining theater on next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, opens at the Vining theater tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and the wise ones will reserve their seats early. From the interest shown in the show, it is an assured fact that there will be a rush for seats when the box office opens in the morning. Every seat in the house is reserved, and those holding Elk tickets must exchange them. No phone orders will be accepted until noon.

C. J. McNaughtan, directing the show for the Elks, says everything is in readiness for the show, and when the curtain rises it will be on a peppy, smooth production. Rehearsals are being held nightly, and a dress rehearsal has been called for Sunday morning at the theater.

With forty to fifty people in the cast, "Purple Flashes" offers a varied program that will be sure to please every one. It gets away from the old-time minstrel idea for local productions, and offers the same type of show that is so popular in professional road shows at this time. Singing and dancing, clever comedians, beautiful costuming, elaborate scenic and pretty girls will be the program for the production.

County Sportsmen To Hold Medford Meet October 24

A mass meeting of the Jackson County Fish and Game Protective association will be held at the public library in Medford on Monday, October 24, to discuss proper revision of various fish and game laws, and to reorganize the association into an effective working body to have charge of all future proposed fish and game regulations. More details as to the scope of the meeting will be published later.

A large attendance is desired at this mass meeting, and every one is welcome to make suggestions. It is pointed out that all men interested in fish and game cannot afford to miss the meeting, and should be there to express their ideas.

PARENT-TEACHERS ADD EXTRA CLASS MILLINERY WORK

With a total enrollment of sixty women, inclusive of two high school girls, the dressmaking and millinery classes conducted by the Parent-Teachers' association with state assistance given under the Smith-Hughes act, have been so well supported that the employment of a third teacher has been found necessary. The third teacher, Mrs. W. T. Abbott, has taken charge of the millinery class that meets Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week at 2 o'clock. Two students can still be taken in this class, Mrs. Louis Dodge, president of the Parent-Teachers' association, announced this morning.

The dressmaking classes were started Monday of this week, the first being held at the library. The millinery class met for the first time on Tuesday evening. The evening class in millinery is instructed by Mrs. Selma Gray. Courses of instruction are divided into twelve lessons for the dressmaking students and six lessons for the millinery class. After the present classes have finished their courses new classes will be organized.

The Parent-Teachers' association will hold its regular business meeting Tuesday afternoon of next week at the Hawthorne school at 4 o'clock. Miss Florence Poole, county representative of the home economics department of the Oregon Agricultural college, will speak before the association on the opportunities offered by the extension department of the university.

CONTRACTS LET FOR BOSWELL MINE

The contractors who have been working on the Boswell Extension mine are within six feet of $20 a ton ore. The company has just let contracts for another sixty feet, and after that work is accomplished, will sink a shaft to the vein.

Another item of interest to local mining men is that A. M. Knapp, vice president of the Boswell Extension mine, has started a new camp at the Gold Coin quartz mine, on the west side of Forest creek, to get it in shape for development by eastern capital, which is ready to take hold of the project. This property, through which runs a fine six-foot vein, is very promising. Charles S. Phelps is in charge of the work.

CLEVELAND INDIANS WIN FROM WHITE SOX; CLOSE SCORE

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 30.—Cleveland Indians remained in the American baseball league pennant race by an eyelash today when they defeated the Chicago White Sox by a score of 3 to 2, while Jupiter Pluvius was drowning out the Wankees' Athletics at Philadelphia.

The Indians had to stage a batting rally at the expense of "Red" Faber, White Sox ace, to win, but they uncocked the punch to put it over.

Murderer Ragged Tramp Goes to Death With Song

CALIF.-ORE POWER COMPANY TO MOVE OFFICE TO MEDFORD

MEDFORD, Or., Sept. 30.—Announcement was made yesterday by Harry L. Walther, division manager of the California-Oregon Power company that the home offices of the power company would be moved at an early date from San Francisco to this city. The change is made to have the executive officers and department heads in the center of the territory they serve.

The present office building of the company in this city will be remodeled at once to accommodate the new conditions, and to take care of the new office forces. All the files and records of the company will be moved to this city.

The transfer means the addition of a number of new families to the valley, and a substantial increase in the permanent payroll of the community. As time and conditions warrant the building of warehouses and shops to take care of the business will take place.

Plans for the remodeling of the office building in this city are now under way. The California-Oregon Power company serves the northern California country, the Klamath country and the Rogue River valley, a total of seven counties, with eight hydro-electric plants in daily operation. It is one of the largest concerns of its kind west of the Mississippi valley, and has always taken an active part in the development of communities served from all angles.

Complete details for the large amount of work and preparation involved in the transfer have not been finished, but are being worked out, and it is expected that the home offices of the power company will be in operation in this city by the first of the year.

Former Resident Visits

C. M. Poley and daughter, Miss Lora, former residents of Ashland, are visiting Mrs. Josephine Poley and daughter on B street. C. M. Poley is an uncle of W. M. Poley.

Haz Kik

The Greeks were battering at the gates of Troy without success. Finally a truce was arranged and the enemy agreed, if the Trojans would break a hole in the wall of the city large enough to allow it to pass, they would make them a fine present. The walls of Troy were opened, in good faith, according to the truce, and the Greeks came forth with a tremendous wooden horse which, when it was safely within the walls, fell apart and a regiment of soldiers, who were concealed in it, rushed out, captured the city and destroyed the people of Troy. That is what history calls "The Trojan Horse," and out of that arose the saying, "Beware of Greeks bearing gifts."

Harding Issues Proclamation; Armistice Day

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—President Harding today issued a proclamation calling upon the nation to pay silent tribute to America's war dead on Armistice day, November 11.

The president's proclamation calls for two minutes' cessation of all business at noon on Armistice day in tribute to the unknown American soldier to be buried with full military honors in the Arlington cemetery on that day.

DEATH CAP STOPS "OLD PAL" STRAINS OF CARL WANDERER

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 30.—Carl Wanderer, arch murderer, who hanged here today with a song on his lips.

Wanderer, the convicted slayer of his wife, her unborn child and the ragged stranger during a fake hold-up, was paid in full for the murder of "the poor hobo," and went to his death singing a song in a harsh, tremulous voice, to the woman whose life he snuffed out more than a year ago. The song trailed off into silence as the "death cap" was dropped over his head.

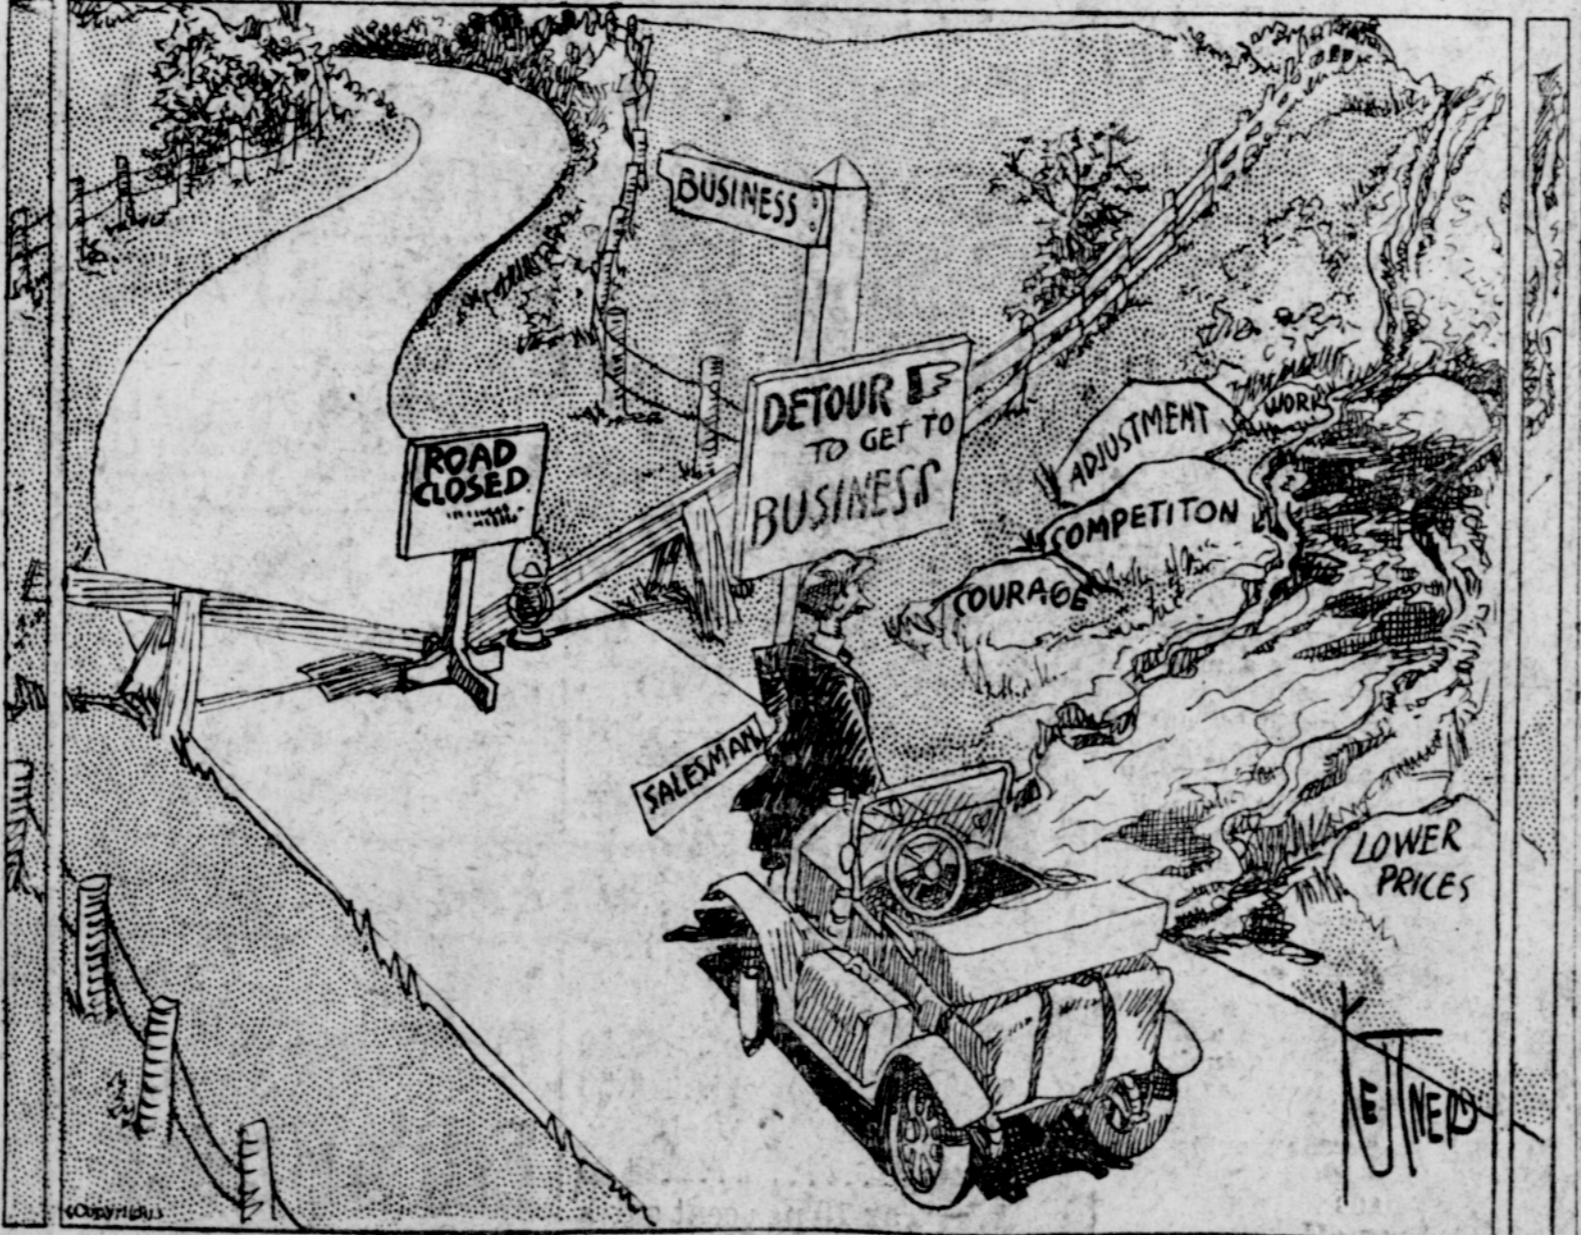

When asked for his last words, Wanderer broke into song. It was "Old Pal, Old Gal," and he sang it in a voice that sent shivers down the backs of the death audience.

The "ragged stranger" was the victim of a pseudo joke by Wanderer. The unknown man, a tramp, was hired to stage what he was told would be a fake holdup of Wanderer and his wife, whereupon Wanderer was to play the "hero" by besting the would-be holdup. The tramp was to fire one shot from a revolver supplied by Wanderer. When the tramp played his part, Wanderer turned a revolver on both the "ragged stranger" and his wife. The plot was laid to throw suspicion of the murder on the tramp, representing that the "ragged stranger" firing the first shot had killed Wanderer's wife, and then in turn was killed by Wanderer in self-protection. After investigation of the ownership of revolvers and the number of bullets fired, the evidence was presented before a jury in a trial that led to Wanderer's conviction.

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—Eamon De Valera, president of the Irish republic, has accepted the invitation of Lloyd George, premier of England, to the peace conference to be held in London October 11.

The announcement of De Valera's acceptance was made following a meeting with the Sinn Fein cabinet, which was discussing De Valera's reply to Lloyd George.

Rough Going Ahead

Premiums Sought For Coming Rogue River Apple Show

Arrangements for the Rogue River valley apple exposition, which is to be held in Medford some time during the month of October, are progressing and business men of that city and other valley towns who did not contribute premiums for the year show are being asked to provide the prizes.

A considerable number have already responded and as soon as sufficient time has elapsed to permit returns of the merchants from the valley towns, the list of premiums offered and the names of the merchants offering the same will be published.

This apple exposition will be for the entire Rogue River valley. It will be held at the exhibit room of the Medford chamber of commerce unless the floor space there is entirely too small.

JACKSON COUNTY CARRIES OFF 1ST HONORS AT FAIR

SALEM, Sept. 30.—Jackson county, with a score of 96.4, won first prize in the county exhibits at the state fair, awarded Wednesday night. The exhibit featured fruits, Coos county, featuring cheese and dairy products, was second, with a score of 93.3. Douglas took third place with a score of 89.7.

SALEM, Sept. 30.—Mrs. C. E. Gates of Medford won first prize for the largest pumpkin pie, exhibited in the domestic science department at the state fair.

SALEM, Sept. 30.—Jackson county wins by a mile. Not only does she get first prize at the state fair, but she lands over three points ahead of her nearest competitor, Coos county. C. C. Cate and Elmer Oatman are wearing smiles today that won't come off and to them Jackson county owes a big vote of thanks. Today everybody is crowding around the Jackson county booth to see the prize winner exhibition. Thousands of dollars worth of the best possible advertising is the result.

The outcome is a great blow for the Portland experts, particularly the Oregonian correspondents, who ignored Jackson county's exhibit from the start and played up Hood River, which scored only 89.7, compared to Jackson county's 96.4.

Jackson county's high grade in all exhibits, particularly in grain, grasses, grapes and peaches, in addition to its splendid pear and apple display, did the trick. The best agricultural district in the state is Jackson county's well-earned title as the result of the judges' verdict for the state fair of 1921. As one expert remarked today "A good rainfall landed the prize this year, but with irrigation in 1922 there is no reason why Jackson county shouldn't be the banner county of the state for an indefinite period."

SALEM, Sept. 30.—Jackson county, with a score of 96.4 out of a possible 100, was Wednesday awarded first prize in the county exhibits at this year's state fair. Jackson county's exhibits specialized in fine pears, although there was included some choice apples, small fruits and grains and grasses.

Coos county, which featured cheese and dairy products, obtained second prize with a score of 93.3, while Douglas county was awarded third prize with a score of 89.7. The Douglas county exhibit was diversified.

The awards as segregated by divisions follow:
Coast counties—Coos, first, 93.3; Tillamook, second, 87.05.
Willamette valley district—Pork, first, 86.1; Lane, second, 85.0.

FATTY IS MET BY FILM STARS AND HANGERS ON

ARBUCKLE RELEASED ON $5,000 BAIL IS RECEIVED WITH ROUSING CHEERS BY MOVIE CELEBRITIES AT LOS ANGELES.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 30.—Cheered by a miscellaneous crowd of 500 friends and admirers, ranging from film stars to the "hangers-on" in the railway district, Roscoe Arbuckle, the "fatty" of the movies, arrived here today from San Francisco, where he was held for eighteen days on a charge of murder following the death of Virginia Pappe, film actress of Los Angeles.

Arbuckle was freed Wednesday on $5,000 bail after the charge of murder preferred against him had been reduced to a charge of manslaughter. The charge was reduced by Police Judge Lazarus, of San Francisco, after a six days' hearing in police court. The judge based his decision on the grounds that not enough evidence had been presented to maintain the charge of murder. His action was protested by the district attorney.

Two charges of manslaughter now are pending against the film comedian. The county grand jury returned an indictment of manslaughter against Arbuckle at San Francisco two weeks ago. The arraignment on that charge is set for October 3.

Much comment was caused by the fact that the prosecution had failed to place Mrs. Bambina Delmont on the stand as a complaining witness. Judge Lazarus stated that such a skeleton of a case had been presented that barely was there enough evidence to hold Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter.

"We accept the invitation," De Valera said in his message to Lloyd George. "Our delegates will meet you in London on the date mentioned and explore every possibility of settlement by personal discussion."

Olcott Accepts As Budget Head Ore. Committee

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 30.—Governor Olcott has accepted the invitation of the national budget committee to become honorary chairman for Oregon in that organization's nation-wide effort to gain popular support for the movement to reduce the burden of federal taxation. Announcement of Governor Olcott's acceptance was made yesterday by John T. Pratt, chairman of the committee, whose headquarters are in New York city.

Active heads of local committees are being selected from among business and professional men throughout the state and the programme of the general committee is to obtain cooperation of leading citizens in a thousand cities and towns. Members of the "budget guard" simply pledge their support to the establishment of a businesslike administration of governmental appropriations and expenditures. Every taxpayer who favors a reduction of the present federal tax burden is invited to help in crystallizing public opinion and defeat unnecessary additions to federal expense.

Mayors of Salem, Pendleton, Dallas, Roseburg and Bend have been selected as honorary chairmen. S. S. Hudson is the active chairman of the budget committee in Bend and D. W. Eyre is active chairman in Salem.
