What Constitutes Advertising?
In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken is ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals.
All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.
All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, inflation charged, or collection taken is NEWS.

Pioneer of Gold
Hill and Jackson
Co. Dies Saturday

GOLD HILL, Ore., Oct. 11.—John Kimmer Moore, 85 years old, residing on his original homestead in the Gold Hill district for over fifty-two years, passed away Saturday at 4 p.m. of infirmities incident to old age. Deceased was born in Tennessee February 14, 1837, and came to Jackson county, Oregon, in 1869. He was a nephew of C. C. McClendon, one of Rogue River valley's earliest settlers and Gold Hill's oldest man, being past 90 years of age. The de-

Moore and J. K. Moore, Rogue River; Mrs. Leslie Cooper, Weed, Calif.; Benj. H. Moore, Portland; Mrs. P. J. Gefges, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. Etta Hayter, Brooster, Wash. Funeral announcement will be made as soon as the deceased's son, Benj. Moore, a prominent business man of Portland, arrives.

Medford Fruit Dryer Plant Is Rased By Flames

MEDFORD, Ore., Oct. 11.—Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the Radovan fruit dryer plant, located at the end of North Fir street, between North Central avenue and the Southern Pacific tracks, and immediately adjoining the latter on the east.

The estimated loss is $33,500, divided into $28,000 on the building and equipment and $5,500 on fruit awaiting shipment and in process of drying. The exact amount of insurance carried has not yet been ascertained, but Mrs. Anna Radovan, who has operated the plant since the death of her husband last winter, said this forenoon that she thought it was in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Two carloads of dried pears sacked ready for shipment were destroyed in the fire. A large quantity of dried pears still in crates in the yard of the plant were saved. The fire, coming as it did in the midst of the season, will throw many women and girls out of employment. The average number employed throughout the drying season was from forty to fifty, although only a small number were employed lately, as it was between the pear and apple drying seasons.

Then, too, the destruction of the plant will be felt by the orchardists, as it formed a large market for eull pears and apples.

The cause of the fire is unknown, as the plant, a large one-story frame structure, was all ablaze when the fire was discovered at 5 a.m. Sunday. When the firemen reached the scene the building was doomed, so much so that to throw water on it would be a needless waste of time and energy. Therefore, the firemen laid 1,000 feet of hose in such a manner as to make it instantly available for use in case nearby buildings caught fire.

The fire was spectacular and dangerous in its menace to dwellings on Welch street, just across from the Southern Pacific tracks. Tenants of these structures, which were endangered by the intense heat and flying sparks, wet the roofs and sides of their homes with lawn hose as a matter of precaution. The firemen paid especial attention to the Puhlman bakery building on Central avenue, about 300 feet away. Fortunately, there was no wind or breeze, and the fire was confined to the dryer plant.

One conjecture is that the fire started from a sulphur pit. Saturday afternoon had been devoted at the plant to the bleaching of the dried fruit through the sulphur process, the sulphur being burned in pits to bleach the exposed dried fruit white. The sulphur fire was presumably out at 5 p.m. Saturday. No night watchman is employed at the plant.

The only part of the plant left standing is the exterior of the large dehydrator oven, an expensive one, which, however, is ruined.

Vining Has Big Production With "Mary" in Lead

In "Through the Back Door," Mary Pickford's forthcoming United Artists' release, this clever little artist will be afforded an opportunity for the display of talent equalled only in such previous productions as "Pollyanna" and "Daddy Long Legs." Arrangements were recently completed by Manager Bergner, of the Vining theater, to show this production beginning today.

It is the first picture in which little Mary ever worked under the guidance of two directors. Alfred E. Green and Mary's brother Jack sponsored this production, and the result of their combined efforts is said to prove further the truth of the old adage. "Two heads are better than one"

The biggest interior set in the world, built on the biggest motion picture stage in the world, will be one of the many features of "Through the Back Door."

This movie set shows five great rooms and a large hallway with stairs that reach to a landing on the second floor. All told, 4,300 square feet of floor space are included in this set, exclusive of the area required for "shooting space."

A Steadying Influence

Some one recently spoke of the Federal Reserve System as the great balance wheel of the country's finance. It proved itself that during the war, and in the recent business depression. That is why the First National is glad that its customers have the benefit of its membership in this great system. A "Nationalized" account drawing its regular interest is an incentive to further achievement.
