Ashland lodge, No. 23, Thursday evening, October 13. Stated communication.

Ashland lodge, No. 23, Friday evening, October 14. Special communication. Work third degree.

Baby Daughter Born

Dr. Parsons reports the arrival of a fine new daughter at the Lewis Wyant home on A street, yesterday.

You can give that $1.50 to the community club house if you want to. It's our loss. We are willing that you get the credit. Pay your Daily Tidings subscription this week and save the $1.50.

Columbus Day

Banks were closed all day in observance of Columbus day, commemorating the exploits of Christopher Columbus, the seafaring explorer who demonstrated that the world "wasn't on the square." School proceeded as usual today.

Hotel Ashland Grill caters to home folks as well as commercial and tourist business. 27-1f

Telephone Officials Visit

Messrs. Cole and Hutchins, of Portland, supervisors of vehicles for the Bell Telephone company, on an inspection tour, spent Monday in Ashland and left for Klamath Falls Tuesday morning.

Charles S. Wilson—Decorating, hardwood finishing and graining. Satisfaction guaranteed. P. O. Box 244.

Street Entertainer

A public entertainer by the name of Don Cameron performed on the street last evening at the intersection of Main and Second streets with some nifty selections on his bagpipe. He was dressed as the typical Scotch Highlander, kilts and all, even to a striking resemblance to the latest in roll-top hosiery. He has been in this country long enough to become an American citizen, and is a traveler with theatrical troupes.

Save $1.50 by paying your Daily Tidings subscription this week.

Boston Editor to Visit

W. F. Rogers, publisher of the Boston Transcript, will be a guest of his old friend, John H. Fuller, here tomorrow. A telegram to Mr. Fuller announces that he will arrive on the morning train and spend the full day here.

Leave for Clackamas County

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bates, of Eagle Creek, Clackamas county, left this morning for their home after a two weeks' visit at the home of Mr. Bates' sister, Mrs. E. W. Howell, Maple street. While here the Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Howell spent several days on a camping trip down the Rogue as far as Galice.

Business men having a ledger account with The Tidings may telephone the office if they wish to take advantage of the subscription discount this week and the amount will be added to their bill of November 1.

JOHN MALY

Tailor for ladies, gentlemen, boys and girls. Pell building, Plaza.

Local Writer Wins Prize

Mrs. Margaret Dill received word this morning from the Grants Pass chamber of commerce that she had been awarded first prize in a contest the chamber was having for a community song. Mrs. Dill is one of our most talented authors and is having great success both in the field of short story and song writing.

If citizens wishing to take advantage of the $1.50 discount on the subscription price of The Tidings find they have not time to call at the office, if they will telephone 39 we will send out a collector to get and receipt you for the money. Bargain week positively ends Saturday at 5 p.m. Telephone in early. Saturday will be a busy day for us. Thanks.

Football Game

High school students are eagerly waiting for Saturday, when the Klamath Falls and local high school football teams will battle on the local gridiron. The locals were trimmed in the first game of the season with Kalmath Falls at that city. Local sport fans, basing their judgment on the recent Ashland-Grants Pass game, when the locals showed better training and more speed, predict a "battle royal" in the coming clash.

Returns From Riddle, Ore.

H. S. Aitken, of the local telephone office here, has returned from a week's visit with his father at Riddle, Ore., and contemplates spending the remaining week of his vacation at Crater lake.

Hunters Return

Bob Shaw, Mike Morgan and Earl Hosler returned yesterday from a several days' hunting trip, well satisfied with their luck, and say if it hadn't been so "dry" they would have returned with the limit.

DISEASES OF TREES TRACED BY STATE FORESTER ELLIOTT

(Continued from Page One) twenty miles. These bushes in turn infect new pine trees, but only trees nearby, as the spores which cause this infection are very delicate and short lived, and will travel only short distances before losing their power to do harm. Hence, the spread of blister rust can be prevented locally ing news articles in the local press, setting forth fully the advantages to patrons, which, briefly, are as follows

House numbers enable carriers to locate promptly buildings to which mail is addressed, and avoid errors and delays in delivery.

E. J. Kaiser, Ashland postmaster, states the lack of mail boxes at many residences in the city is a handicap to the local carrier system. During inclement weather, especially, the difficulty is pronounced. Steps are being taken at the local postoffice to see that every Ashland home is equipped with a small box placed where it will be easily accessible to the carriers.

THE MAGNITUDE OF BEET CROP

On the basis of the heavy estimated crop of beets to be harvested this fall, it is calculated that beet growers in the sixteen districts of the Great Western Sugar company in Colorado, Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming will receive approximately $18,000,000 in cash for their crop. Almost as large a total expenditure will be made for labor, it is calculated, reckoning on an expected average factory campaign of 100 days.

The amount which will be paid by other beet companies of the west will probably bring the total amount paid the farmer for beets to over $100,000,000, exclusive of an amount almost as large for the cost and labor of turning the beets into sugar.
