

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Visits Parents— Philip Hammond and wife, who motored through Ashland ten days ago, on a honeymoon trip to California, returned yesterday and stopped for a short visit with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. P. K. Hammond. Philip Hammond was a representative from Clackamas county in the last legislature and introduced the soldiers' bonus bill. He is a prominent lawyer in Oregon City.

Don't miss the dramatic entertainment by Dr. Mattie B. Shaw Friday, October 28, at the Methodist church for the benefit of the community club house.

High School Warns Motorists— Automobile owners attending the football game at the high school grounds must park their cars in such a position that the machines will be braked against the fences, G. A. Briscoe, superintendent of schools, said this morning. The ruling, Mr. Briscoe stated, applied to all car drivers bringing their machines inside the enclosure. The past practice of parking the autos on the lines has caused considerable trouble both for the playing teams and onlookers watching the game from the ground.

Home Brew Brings Bottle Shortage— Soft drink bottlers in many sections of the country found themselves in a sad predicament during the past summer. And all the trouble is due to the habit which has been acquired by "home brewers"—collecting empty soda water bottles and withholding them from the bottler to whom they rightly belong.

E. P. HUGHES WINS SUIT AGAINST TALENT DISTRICT

MEDFORD, Or., Oct. 27.—A jury in the circuit court Tuesday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of Ed P. Hughes in the suit of the Talent irrigation district against him for condemnation of land for a dam site. Hughes was awarded $1000. He asked for $3500. The dam site, which is located on land in which Hughes holds a half interest, is ideally located for a dam site, having natural rocky abutments. The irrigation district offered $500 for the site.

in front of Judge Taylor.

The witness said he was driven to two residences and invitations extended for the trip. He said he was driven to one house and waited within while the defendant drove away to arrange the details. He said he knew the woman as "Billy" and that she was dressing for the occasion while he waited.

The defense questioned the witness at considerable length relative to dates and times and places.

Gates Intoxicated

Earl Short, proprietor of the Rex cafe, testified that Edwards had a taxi stand at his place during the month of August, and that he ran same except for short relief.

Glenn O. Taylor, justice of the peace, testified that he saw Edwards and party in a Nash car at Prospect on the night of August 6th. He saw
