ARMISTICE DAY IN ASHLAND

The third anniversary of Armistice day will be on us within a very few days—isn't it time to begin preparations for the memorializing of this occasion? President Harding, in a proclamation, asks all citizens to fly flags at half mast that occasion and to offer a silent two-minute prayer—from 12 o'clock noon until two minutes past 12—to "give thanks to the Giver of all good things for these valuable and valorous lives and supplication for His divine mercy and for "blessings on our beloved country."

Armistice day is not to be one of hilarity, but one of reverence, and Ashland should unite in one combined effort to do justice to not only the victory of the allies in this terrible world war, but to the memory of those dear boys who sleep in Flanders field as well as those who are now scattered abroad on the face of the earth, maimed and crippled and in many cases disheartened by the load of sorrow on them that at times seems too great to bear.

ing these various holidays in Ashland.
A huge parade in the morning, with exercises around the flagpole in Lithia park at high noon, with a prayer service conducted by the citizenship at large and a gigantic basket lunch free to all and served on the ground in picnic style by every one in Ashland will be one of the best things in the world to promote the things our boys fought and died for in the great conflict.

We do not see any reason why any of the "small-town sham" that is often allowed to creep into our various endeavors should be allowed to predominate here—such a thing as "dignifiedness" has no place in an Armistice day program. Sons of rich and sons of poor both fought "shoulder to shoulder and blade to blade." The efforts of one boy were as good as the efforts of another, no matter whether he came from a poor family or rich; whether he wore shoulderstraps or was just a common "buck private." And the best way to show your appreciation of the meaning of Armistice day is to see how human and humble we can be in honoring these world war heroes.

Armistice day is on Monday, November 11, and it is not too soon to begin to formulate a real, worthwhile program for that day.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Ashland, Ore., Oct. 24.
To the editor:
We, the undersigned citizens, tax payers and legal voters of Ashland, Oregon, hereby register our unalterable opposition to the proposition of having our Chautauqua tabernacle used for the purpose of housing live stock during the mid winter fair by any person or persons now or at any future time.

Civic Club Plans Annual Meeting At Hotel Ashland

At the Civic Improvement club business meeting, held in Pioneer hall yesterday afternoon, the ladies made preparations for their annual meeting, which will take the form of one of the Hotel Ashland's popular luncheons next Tuesday. Plates will be sixty cents and reservations should be made not later than Saturday of Mrs. Mary Wilshire, telephone 267-L.

The salvage shop continues to be a great success. This enterprise benefits not only the Civic club's building fund but those who make purchases, because of the saving made possible by the extremely low price at which goods are sold. The latter point is especially important in view of the coming winter and the number of people who are apt to suffer for lack of sufficient clothing.

The military department of the Civic Improvement club is making hats for the salvage shop, under the direction of Miss Blanche Hicks, whose interest has for the present been diverted from golf links to head gear.

Your state of health largely depends upon the food you eat. No one who is physically ailing in any way can afford to take chances with the food he eats. For upon the selection of your food, and upon its perfect digestion and assimilation largely depends your state of health. Grape-Nuts, the rich cereal food made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, is probably baked longer than any other cereal food. A large part of the starch of the wheat and barley is changed into dextrin and grape-sugar in preparing Grape-Nuts. This is one reason why Grape-Nuts is so easily digested by even the most delicate people. Grape-Nuts is wheat and barley so processed as to make it delicious and appetizing; even young children thrive on it and grow strong and rosy. Go to your grocer today and get a package of Grape-Nuts. Eat it as a cereal with milk or cream, or make it into a delicious pudding. It will be enjoyed and relished by every member of the family. Grape-Nuts — the Body Builder "There's a Reason"

ADMINISTRATION HAS METED OUT DIPLOMATIC JOBS

By FRANK A. STETSON

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—Half of the much-sought-for diplomatic plums have now been given out by the Harding administration. Of the forty-six positions listed under the heading, "Embassies and Legations of the United States," the president has thus far designated twenty-three appointees.

Of the remainder there are still two embassies and twenty legations to be disposed of, and, as one high official recently remarked, "there is no dearth of material from which to draw." The ambassadorial posts which have been filled are Brazil, where the Wilson appointee, Edwin V. Morgan, was retained; Chile by Dr. W. Miller Collier; France by Myron T. Herrick; Great Britain by Colonel George Harvey; Italy by Richard Washburn Child; Spain by Cyrus Wood; and Japan by Colonel Charles B. Warren. The two recognized embassies to which an ambassador is yet to be appointed are Argentina and Belgium.

With the ratification of the peace treaties President Harding will be enabled to nominate ambassadors to Germany and Turkey. The latter post has, by unwritten law, always gone to a member of the Jewish faith. The dismemberment of Austria as a result of the war will probably mean the lowering of our post at Vienna from an embassy to a legation. The appointment of an ambassador to Mexico waits upon the recognition of the Obregon government there by the United States, and no one can predict when the embassy at Petrograd will be restored.

The legations that have been filled and the appointees of the Harding administration are: Bulgaria, Charles W. Wilson; China, Dr. Jacob Gould-Schurman; Czechoslovakia, Lewis Einstein (promoted); Denmark, Dr. J. D. Prince; Finland, Charles L. Kagey; Guatemala, Roy Davis; Nicaragua, John E. Ramer; Panama, Dr. John G. South; Rumania, Peter Augustus Jay; Salvador, Montgomery Schuyler; Siam, Edward E. Brodie; Switzerland, Joseph C. Grew (promoted); Venezuela, Willis C. Cook; the Netherlands, William Phillips (retained); with this post goes also the responsibility of minister to Luxemburg, J. Morton Howell has been named as diplomatic agent and consular agent at Cairo, Egypt.

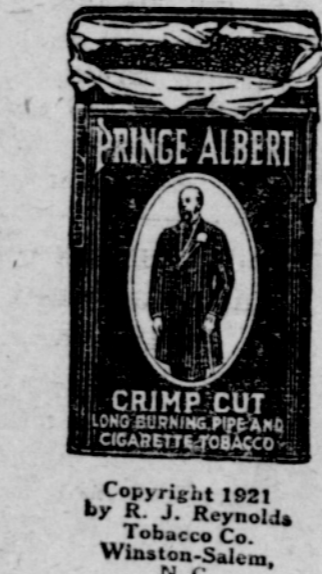

The remaining plums to be shaken from the legation tree as the posts in Bolivia, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Greece (when the government is recognized), Honduras, Haiti, Liberia, Montenegro, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, Sweden, and Uruguay. There is also a post as diplomatic agent and consular-general available in Morocco.

Some of the positions will be filled by transfer or promotion of men who have been in the service of the state department for a number of years, as it is the avowed purpose of President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes to reward merit and faithful service in the department; but there still remains enough "jobs" to keep the president and his state secretary busy listening to the "backers" of aspiring diplomats.

COAL Heating Is Not a Fixed Expense Some people are so "sot" in their fuel habits you'd think they would refuse to consider a change for the better. Discrimination in coal buying and coal burning can both reduce the cost of being comfortable. The first step is to say SUPERIOR Domestic Lump Coal to your dealer—and insist on getting it; the next is to make friends with your furnace, range and heater and treat them right. Superior Coal is high in heat value, burning with a long flame, without soot, excessive clinkers or ash. CARSON-FOWLER LUMBER CO. A. S. Boyd, N. W. Agent
