Shamrock Mine Looks Good—

The Shamrock copper mine, in the Meadows district, owned by W. J. Chisholm, is certainly looking fine. Copper, gold and silver show up strong in the assays. Cobalt in the ore has attracted wide attention. The mine is at present inactive, as development was stopped by Dr. Chisholm when work on the "Corporal G" was started this summer. Tunnels that have been run to tap the main ore body on a gravity level, are three in number, of 310 feet, 420 feet and 270 feet. The last work in the 310 foot tunnel reveals a face of rock completely shot through with sulphides of copper.—Gold Hill News.

Auto Collision—

Slight damage was done to cars driven by Mr. Fitzwater and W. J. Wallace late this afternoon when the machines collided in front of the Overland shoe shop.

"Ham" Lewis Sentenced—

John H. (Ham) Lewis, who pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods, in connection with the burglary by boys of the Medford national guard quarters in the Natatorium, was sentenced to serve one year in the county jail, and pay the costs, by Circuit Judge F. M. Calkins Saturday morning. Lewis will be paroled, but a provision of it will be that he turn over his earnings to his mother.—Medford Mail Tribune.

A Question of Glory—

It is probable that the unusual spectacle will be witnessed at Ashland next Saturday afternoon of a large delegation of Medford high students rooting hard for the Ashland high team to win over the Lebanon high team. The reason is this: Lebanon high so far is the champion high school team of the northern Willamette valley and northern part of the state, outside of Portland, and if Ashland high conquers them next Saturday there will be lots of glory for Medford should the latter defeat Ashland high in the Thanksgiving day game here.—Medford Mail Tribune.

Local Boy Married—

B. H. Grubb, son of Mrs. Mary E. Grubb, 112 B street, was married Saturday afternoon to Miss Lois Beebe, former bank employe at Woodburn, Or. The young couple passed through Ashland yesterday on their way to Los Angeles where they will make their home. Mr. Grubb is a well-known Ashland boy, having attended the local schools, and is employed by a company manufacturing an electrical burglar alarm for banks. His headquarters are at Los Angeles.

Taken to Hospital—

J. P. Holcomb, 895 Ashland street, has been taken to a local hospital for treatment today.

Forest Reserve Revenue—

Jackson county's share in the distribution of the $73,206.79 received by the state from the federal government as the state's share of forest reserve rentals, timber sales, etc., for the past year, based upon the amounts originating in the various counties containing forest reserves, is $6,371.61, Josephine county's share is $2,499.65, and Klamath county's bit is $5,440.02.

JUDGE CALKINS MAKES NEW DIVORCE RULING

MEDFORD, Or., Nov. 7.—By a ruling of the circuit court Saturday morning, the law requiring attorneys in divorce suits to file a copy of the summons on the district attorney will be strictly enforced, whether waivers on this process are procured or not. The court said he would postpone decisions in such cases from thirty to ninety days, to give the district attorney's office ample time to review the suits. Under the law the state is made a party in divorce suits. The court's ruling will have the effect of causing people desiring divorces in a hurry to wait awhile.

NEW CASING NOVEMBER 12 FOR TRIGONIA WELL

The carload of 6 1/4 inch casing for the Trigonía well was shipped October 28 direct from the factory at Indiana Harbor, Ind., and passed through Council Bluffs November 3, and should reach Medford about November 10 or 12.

The new Baker shoe for the casing arrived from Coalinga, Calif., also the 5 inch jars and 1000 feet of sandline is here from Portland; and the band wheel put in first class repair, as well as a number of other minor repairs made on the plant.

SHORT IS STILL SHORT SOME RUGS, BUT LUCKILY LOCATES HIS LOST CAR

F. H. Short, proprietor of the East Side pharmacy, left last evening for Red Bluff, Calif., where his lost Studebaker car was reported to have been found in bad condition awaiting its owner. This welcome information reached the Ashland druggist by wire yesterday morning, having been sent by B. W. McCay, of the Pacific Coast Underwriters' auto conference, of San Francisco. McCay was returning from Portland with a Ford coupe, which had wandered away from its Bay City owner, and had been asked by Chief Hatcher to keep one eye peeled for the Short Studebaker, which was long enough to set the owner back $2000 when it was stolen.

The recovery of Short's chummy roadster is the fifth act in a little drama which has engrossed our new prescription artist the past ten weeks. The curtain opened on the theft of the car in question the latter part of August, being followed in uncomfortable succession by the loss of $500 worth of rugs and a $250 auto. The latter was soon recovered, and now only the rugs remain to harrass the apothecary's mind. He believes that his luck has permanently turned, however, and looks for everything to come his way from now on.

The time of the whole of the United States east of the Rockies is regulated by three standard clocks kept in an underground vault at the naval observatory in Washington. These clocks are wound by electricity, and their beats are transmitted electrically throughout the observatory. The vault is never entered except in cases of emergency.

JURY UNABLE TO AGREE ON BOOZE CASE; DISCHARGED

them "locked up for twenty-four hours," under the belief they could come to a decision.

The joyride to Crater lake at county expense by Detective Gates, described vividly by witnesses in the Edwards case, influenced the jury, according to a statement made in open court this morning, though it had nothing to do with the Goodwin case, nor was it a part of the testimony. The court stated the "jury argued vociferously about it," and said that it was useless and "needless expense" to try any more bootleg cases with the present jury panel.

IRRIGATE 12,000 ACRES; OPENING OF S. RAPIDS DAM

waters of Southern Oregon's greatest stream.

The cost of uncleared land under the new dam is said to vary from $10 to $50 per acre, the best land in cultivation being priced at about $150 per acre, exclusive of the water right. The cost of the irrigation works is largely borne by long-time bonds, but each acre of land under the ditches must pay a proportionate share of the cost, which is expected to force development of idle acres.

President W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural college, made the principal address, calling attention to the various advantages of irrigation, and the problems encountered in a system of agriculture based upon artificial watering.
