Medford Bootleggers—

A notable feature of the latest bootleg case in Medford is that the buyer of the booze turned state's evidence, and as a result Henry C. Young, of Pine street, this city, was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond in Justice Taylor's court on a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. N. W. Weaver, a Medford painter, who bought the booze and so testified in court under the law goes free, as the law provides that where a liquor purchaser testifies against the man from whom he made the purchase, he cannot be prosecuted for his part in the transaction.—Medford Mail Tribune.

Prof. Wilson's Turkey Trot—

Among the wonders of Southern Oregon, Prof. I. C. Wilson would give a prominent place to the immense droves of turkeys which roam the deserts north of Medford. During a recent visit to that region Ashland's erudite instructor saw a stampede of 5000 turkeys—or maybe it was 500—which he declares was a fearsome sight, with a multitude of gobble-gobbles making an awful chorus in his distracted ears. The turkeys are reported to have been eating great quantities of grasshoppers and grinding them up with agates and other precious stones which are found in that interesting region.

Changes in Mail Service —

Beginning the first of the month, the local postoffice takes mail up to 5:40 p. m. for train number sixteen, which carries a closed pouch to Portland, where it is distributed there and to points beyond. This arrangement is proving a great convenience to patrons who miss getting their mail to the postoffice in time to catch the 3:45 shipment. Simultaneous with this innovation, the Klamath stages quit carrying mail over the Cascades, because of the likelihood of the service being at any time interrupted by bad roads. There has already been some snow in the mountains, although not enough to interfere seriously with auto traffic.

Stock Building Hearse—

H. C. Stock is building a new hearse to take the place of the one which he is now using. The latter is considered to be unnecessarily large, weighing over two tons, and says, to accommodate some portly individuals who have persistently refused to shuffle off this mortal coil. The old hearse is carried on an auto which has to be cranked by hand, a feature which does not appeal to the proprietor.

The new hearse will be transported by a new self-starting Overland, which was purchased of the Overland Marcy company and brought down from Portland Saturday by E. W. Hughes. Mr. Stock is laying the foundation for the coffin house, which is the one which was formerly used upon a horse-drawn vehicle. The new hearse will weigh only about 2,800 pounds. Now is the time to die.

The Office of the Oregon Gas & Electric Co. has been moved to Provost Bros. Where all business will be transacted and gas bill will be paid. Mr. Provost has been appointed agent for the company.

A SUBSTANTIAL BALANCE Every person engaged in business transactions in his home community finds it a wise measure to maintain a substantial balance at his bank. Don't, for the sake of your credit standing, allow your commercial account at the First National to drop low. Your friends find having a "nationalized" account is good business. FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Speed? Say, this guy's name is Man-O-War! TALK ABOUT being QUICK ON the trigger. ONE OF our salesmen. ONCE SAW a man. ROLL A cigarette. AND STOP to light it. JUST THEN a piece. OF FINE French pastry. (YOU KNOW the kind. IN THE one-arm joints. THEY CALL 'em "sinkers.") FELL ABOUT ten stories. FROM THE lunch-box. OF SOME wealthy plumber. AND BEANED the man. OUR SALESMAN dashed up. AND SAID, "My dear sir, WHAT HAPPENED?" THE MAN rubbed his dome. AND BEGAN, "I was just. LIGHTING A cigarette." "GEE WHIZ," our man said. "HERE—TRY mine. THEY'LL LET you know. YOU'RE SMOKING. AND THEY satisfy. BUT THEY'LL never. KNOCK YOU sat." AND THE man grinned. AND SAID, "Son. IF YOUR smokes. HAVE YOUR speed. THEY'LL SATISFY, all right." AND speaking of speed, the fastest-growing cigarette on the market is this same Chesterfield. The reason? Simple enough—people like 'em better. That "can't-be-copied blend"—that six-tight package—that moderate price—that "Satisfy" taste—no wonder Chesterfields are leaping ahead. On every count, they certainly do "Satisfy."
