MASONIC NOTICE

Stated communication of Ashland Lodge No. 23, Thursday evening, November 10. Owing to the Armistice day dinner at Chautauqua Pioneer hall, also on Thursday evening, instead of Friday as originally planned the lodge supper and social scheduled for this date will be postponed until either the stated communication or on St. John's day in December, merely a business session being held November 10.

Bolsheviki at the Vining

Some remarkably interesting pictures of Russian immigrants are being shown at the Vining, illustrating Ralph Conner's famous story, "The Foreigner." These photos give a good idea of the dress, manners and mode of living of the people who are now known as Bolsheviki, only the events pictured are supposed to have taken place many years ago, when women wore long and ample skirts, rode a horse with both feet on one side and had puffed sleeves and real waists. The storm scene is most realistic, the mountain scenery sublime and picturesque. A big bunch of boys hilariously welcomed Charlie Chaplin last evening in "The Idle Class," which is running as a companion piece with "God's Crucible."

Forbes Leaving Soon

Mr. and Mrs. William Forbes and son Jack expect to leave within a few days for Los Angeles, where they will make their future home. Mr. Forbes has given his fine orchard home on Roca street, to his newly married son, who will locate here in the near future.

The ladies of the Wednesday Afternoon club are noted for their good dinners. You will not be disappointed in this one Thursday evening. Pioneer hall from 5:30 to 8.

Local Girl Married

Announcements of the marriage of Miss Elsie B. Harner, former Ashland girl, to Mr. George Riveros at San Francisco, have been received by Ashland friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harner, 145 Almond street, and is well known here, having attended the local schools. Mr. and Mrs. Riveros will make their home in San Francisco.

CITY INSTALLS NEW MOTOR AT LITHIA SPRINGS

The city is completing improvements on their power line to the Lithia springs pumping station four miles east of the city. The single line was replaced with a three-phase line, in order to give better service. The former style necessitates the use of a motor with brushes which frequently get out of order and therefore require constant attention to secure the best results. Being located several miles from town, it has been found impractical to give this single-phase motor the required attention, which has sometimes resulted in damage to the machine. When the brushes get out of order insufficient power is obtained, sometimes causing the copper wiring to burn up.

The pump at Murphy springs is driven by a motor of the three-phase type, obtaining current from a three-phase line. This motor needs no attention except oiling once a week. In order to hook onto this kind of a line, which supplies "juice" for the Pompadour Springs company, the city had to lengthen their line, two new poles being set on the Murphy property. This change avoided the bad crossing of the Falls City line. An extra wire was strung to make a three-phase line.

Surnames are rare in Iceland, and such as exist are mostly of foreign origin.

FEVER SPREAD IN PANAMA BY HUMAN TICK

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—By human experimentation, the human tick has been proven to be the transmitting agent of relapsing fever in Panama, according to information received here.

Three human volunteers risked their lives by being infected with the fever after tests on white rats and monkeys had indicated that the ticks carried the relapsing fever spirochaetes from one animal to another.

In the experiments conducted by Lewis B. Bates, Lawrence H. Dunn and Joe H. St. John of the board of health laboratory and Ancon hospital, in the Canal zone, one volunteer had injected beneath his skin some blood from a white rat infected with relapsing fever. Into another of the patients was injected hypodermically a suspension of naturally infected ticks, while the other volunteer submitted to being bitten by naturally infected ticks. All of these men fell ill with the fever and, with the evidence provided by animal experimentation, this is considered conclusive proof that the human tick is the carrier of the germ of relapsing fever.

Relapsing fever has been known also as famine fever in the past, as it often accompanies times of privation and famine. It is somewhat like typhoid, but it recurs and is intermittent, and thus derives its name.

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL PREPARES RURAL TEACHERS

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Or., Nov. 9.—Preparation of teachers for work in rural communities is occupying a large share of attention at the Oregon Normal school. The rural school is admitted by all educators to be the weak link in the educational chain, and there is a greater shortage of teachers in this field than elsewhere. In support of this view may be cited the statement of President Landers that, although the teacher shortage in general is much less acute this fall than for several years past, calls have come to the normal from rural schools paying from $125 to $140 a month that were unable to obtain teachers at the beginning of the term.

The normal school has supervision over four rural center schools in the county where prospective teachers may become acquainted with the problems they will encounter in their work. Each of these is under the direct supervision of a competent critic. These rural schools are the subject of observation and study in the classes at the normal, where new plans for rural work are being worked out. Recently President Landers has given these schools his personal attention and has thoroughly acquainted himself with their problems and needs.

TO CLOSE SHOP FOR ASHLAND-LEBANON GAME

Considerable interest has been aroused among Ashland football enthusiasts and business men over the Lebanon-Ashland game to be played on the local field Saturday, and heralded as the championship tilt for all of Oregon outside of Portland. LAUNCH BIG BATTLESHIP ON NOVEMBER 17

By T. N. SANDIFER (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent) WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 9.—The huge battleship West Virginia, the last word in American dreadnoughts afloat, will be launched from the ways of the Newport News Shipbuilding company November 19, the navy department announced recently.

With her taking the water the last of the four newest type of American battleships will have been completed. The others of this class are the Colorado, Maryland and Washington, all three of which are afloat.

The only superiors of these fighting ships now contemplated by the American navy constitute the formidable North Carolina class, which will include the South Dakota, new Indiana, and other latest type of modern fighting ships, but which are not yet built. Until they are constructed and launched the West Virginia and her sister ships will constitute the cream of the American sea fighters, and probably will rank with anything else in the navies of other countries in the same class.

In fighting trim the West Virginia will carry a ringside weight of 32,600 tons. She is 624 feet long over all, with a breadth at the water line of over 97 feet, and draws thirty feet of water. She has a speed of twenty-one knots an hour.

The West Virginia's principal scrapping weapons are eight sixteen-inch turret guns of forty-five calibre each. Sixteen-inch guns, by the way are the largest size weapons actually carried by any ship now in commission. There is a great deal of talk of seventeen-inch and even twenty-inch guns, but so far they are only talked of and are not an accomplished reality. The largest gun carried by an English ship is a fifteen-inch, although the newest ships laid down over there are said to be intended for eighteen-inch guns. The secondary batteries of the West Virginia include fourteen five-inch guns, four three-inch anti-aircraft rifles and four six-pounders for saluting purposes.

The customary ceremonies, with high naval officers and dignitaries of the national and state groups will mark the launching.

The West Virginia was authorized August 29, 1916, and the contract for her construction signed December 5 of the same year, supplementary contracts being signed May 29, 1917 and June 18, 1920. The keel was laid April 12, 1920. This seeming delay, it is understood, is due to the fact that during the war, the navy gave priority to the completion of ships actually needed urgently, and which could be finished during the war, in preference to using material and labor on a huge ship that could not have been completed within the time necessary for war use, anyway.

On cards printed for dance at Kingsbury for November 12, reads "ladies free," which is incorrect. There will be the usual 10 cents war tax for extra ladies. I furthermore wish to state that I am manager at Helm's club house, Kingsbury Springs. Anyone wishing any information regarding the dances can get same from me. 59-1 D. A. SNYDER.

Attention, Amateur "Stokers"

You who keep the home fires burning, take out your pencils and figure the cost of your coal bills on the basis of interest on some good investment. Quite a lot, and worth whittling down, too, isn't it?

Then begin to discriminate in the coal you buy—and the way you burn it.

Superior Domestic Lump Coal costs no more—but does more. It turns to heat—not a great mass of clinkers, soot and ash. Therefore, the first saving is made. Then get on the good side of your heating or cooking apparatus and it will not burn up your money so rapidly.

Be sure and order SUPERIOR (not just coal) from your dealer.
