Report Claims Northwest Forest Future Involved nesses from the trial.

In an effort to bring about the the Pacific northwest and to insure the continued growth of new timber the United States forest service has recommended that the forest experimediately enlarged. A report has partment of agriculture in which it tion be enlarged so far as force and the scope of work is concerned.

The report calls attention to the dinner for 60 cents, 5:30 to 8. 58-2 of the nation, but that it has forged ahead to third place. It also recognizes that this state has the largest stand of timber in the country, with 5,000,000,000 feet. Washington is next with a stand of 3,000,000,000

The recommendation in the report suggests that the experiment station be enlarged for the purpose of determining what kinds of trees should be grown, how to plant, best methods of cutting, best methods for fire protection, and to supply the scien-58-2 tific basis for forestry.

Can a Dog Exercise Discretion?

A Massachusetts court was recently called upon to decide this Damages of $1000 against an automobilist who ran over a dog hung on the decision of the court. The dog owner contended that the dog was "in exercise of due care" when he was run down by an automobile.

If the court finds that the dog was discreet the automobilist will have to pay. We recommend that every auto-mobilist exercise a little discretion and protect himself with a ravelers Automobile Policy, so that he won't be a loser in case some court decides against him.
