Calumet is made under such exacting conditions - packed in such a scientific manner, that its leavening strength and purity never vary. It retains its original strength for months after leaving the factories.

When you tip the can to get the last spoonful, you know your baking will turn out all right—the last spoonful is the same as the first. This uniform quality of is cause for its big demand. Housewives know they can depend upon the results obtainedthat climatic conditions or temperature cannot deteriorate its positive leavening power.

When you buy baking powder remember these facts-that a uniform leavener means bakings that do not vary in quality-that Calumet is uniform.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a lb. when you want it.
