WINTER STORM SWEEPS STATE

$900 IS RAISED FOR RED CROSS; QUOTA IN $12,000

Committee captains for the Red Cross roll call have raised $901.17 during the drive which will end in Ashland on Thanksgiving day. Mrs. Emil Peil, campaign director, reported this morning.

Mrs. Peil commends Dr. J. O. Jarvis, for his donation of $19 in addition to a regular membership and expresses the hope that "a few more generous gentlemen will help Ashland to reach its quota of $1200. We have until Thursday."

All committee captains are requested to leave their money and reports at either McNair Brothers' drug store or with Mrs. Peil, 52 Granite street.

The following new members are reported by Mrs. Peil:

Mrs. V. V. Mills, captain; Ella B. Mills, Mrs. J. M. Wagner, Mrs. H. H. Elhart, W. G. Curry, Mrs. C. F. Koehler, Mrs. H. G. McCarthy, Mrs. Sugg, Mrs. George Robison, Mrs. John Parson, Mrs. Stella Case, F. D. Wagner, Charles Johnson, E. V. Carter, Mrs. J. M. Wagner, Miss Emily Kaiser, Mrs. W. H. McNair, Mrs. W. C. ### Mission Society Prepares Program At Pres. Church

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will give a program Sunday evening, November 27, in place of the regular church service. This will be the annual praise meeting of the society, and the offering will go to the Women's board. Every woman of the congregation is urged to remember to express her gratitude to the Giver of all good things of the year in an offering. Mite boxes are on the literature table in the vestibule. The Guild will open their mite boxes, later.

The Sunday evening program will be in two parts, "The Clinic of a Missionary Specialist" will be given first by the Guild.

SWEDENBURGS LAUD ASHLAND AFTER SIX WEEKS EASTERN TRIP

"We are more firmly convinced than ever that Ashland is one of the very best places in the world to live," says Dr. Francis G. Swedenburg, 990 Boulevard, who returned last week with Mrs. Swedenburg, from a six weeks tour of the southern, eastern and western states, traveling by both rail and water.

"The more we see of other places the more we think of Ashland," testified Dr. Swedenburg. "The weather was generally good during our absence, but when we left Minne-

ROCKEFELLER LOSES APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT IN TAX CASE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—John D. Rockefeller and Mrs. Edith Hale Darkness, in their appeal cases to the United States supreme court, lost in a decision handed down today. They resisted the payment of income tax on common stock distributions in an oil pipe company reorganization.

MARSHAL FOCH WILL PASS THRU CITY DECEMBER 3

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Marshal Foch will arrive in San Francisco from Portland, December 4 on his tour of the United States, the Southern Pacific company announced here. The marshal, in his special train of six cars, will leave Portland for the south December 2. He will remain here until the evening of December 4 and then leave for Los Angeles, arriving December 5.

General Diaz, the company also announces, will arrive here in his private car from the east November 24. He will travel by way of Ogden.

THIN 'FLAPPERS' RECEIVE RATION OF MILK DAILY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—Thin girls have been banned at the Lincoln high school here.

Skinny shoulder blades, sunken chests, neck bones, scrawny elbows and pipe stem legs are henceforth to be taboo.

The agitation among the students is not due to the school having been swept by a passion for the esthetic, but merely because nutrition experts at the institution have reached the conclusion that the perfect thirty-six is the fastest thinker.

So, in order to become brilliant scholars by the thrilling route of a perfect figure, all of the "flappers" at the school are taking a deep interest in Dr. Harriet G. Probasco's milk station.

Dr. Probasco is one of the assistant directors in the health department of the city schools and is winning quite a reputation in Southern California by her work in securing proper nutrition for the students.

The establishment of the "milk station" at Lincoln school, where twenty-five "flappers" considerably under weight are already enrolled, is the latest move of the nutrition expert. The girls duly registered come daily at 10 o'clock a. m. for their glasses of certified milk.

Damage In Portland District Estimated Near Million; Train Service Stopped East Portland

While the sun shone brightly this afternoon on the hills surrounding Ashland, Northern Oregon was swept by rain, sleet and snow, according to news dispatches from northern cities and advices from the local telegraph and telephone offices and the Southern Pacific company station. Both telegraph and telephone service from Ashland to Portland has been cut off. Telephone communication was possible today as far north as Roseburg. According to statements made at the local office of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, seventeen telephone poles were swept out by the rushing torrents of the Santiam river which changed its course seven and a half miles north of Albany, inundating a strip of land a mile wide.

Telegraphed news to the Tidings was delayed and incomplete today. At a late hour news commenced to come in over the wires from San Francisco, where special arrangements were made after the discontinuance of Portland service.

Train service on the Southern Pacific company lines has been maintained, although several trains are running behind schedule, it was announced at the local station this afternoon. Train number 53, due here at 4:20 o'clock in the afternoon is expected at 6:30 o'clock this evening. Number 13, due at 9:45 o'clock this morning, was twenty minutes late. The latter train, it was stated, was forced to make a detour at Corvallis, the tracks having been washed out by the heavy rains at that place.

According to the information given out at the Southern Pacific company office, all train service north of Portland on the Spokane, Portland and Seattle line has been suspended, and no tickets are being sold for points beyond the state metropolis. Boats were necessary to rescue passengers from a marooned train east of Monmouth Falls, yesterday afternoon.

Last night and this forenoon 1.65 inches of rain fell in Ashland, according to Louis Dodge, government weather observer. This is the first real rain of the season, and was hailed with delight by the farmers, because of the benefit to grass and grain crops and the softening of the soil, which will greatly facilitate plowing. Owing to the unusually high temperature which prevailed there was no snow left in the surrounding mountains. This forenoon the streets of Ashland were flooded. Much sediment washed down from the hills onto the pavements, and Street Superintendent Freley and his helpers were busy keeping the drains unchoked in order to allow the surplus water to escape. Ashland creek is higher than it has been since last spring, and the season's accumulation of rubbish is being washed from the creek bed.

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 21.—Damage of between $500,000 and $1,000,000 has been estimated.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED BY MAYOR LAMKIN

It is proper, fitting and a time-honored custom during the autumn of the year especially, to render unto Almighty God praise and thanksgiving for the numberless blessings and mercies that we as a nation continually receive from His beneficent hand.

At this writing the envoys of the earth are sitting at Washington endeavoring to work out a plan of treating each other as we would be treated, and help bring about peace on earth, good will toward men.

And may divine guidance be given these men so that war shall forever be banished from the earth, and men shall learn to war no more.

President Harding and Governor Olcott have proclaimed Thursday, November the 24th, a legal holiday. I would therefore urge the people of our city upon that day to assemble in their several homes and places of worship, or in union services as is the custom of many, to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

C. B. LAMKIN, Mayor of Ashland.

BALING UNDER WAY AT TRIGONIA WELL

The work of baling out the Trigonía well began Saturday afternoon, and oil (gas and water started flowing, causing a rumor in the evening that oil had been struck. For a time owing to gas pressure, the water bubbled over the top of the casing like an artesian well. As soon as the water is shut off the work of drilling will continue. A fine showing of oil has been made.

U. OF O. AND O. A. C. TIE CHAMP GAME

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 21.—The football championship of the state of Oregon was hung on a limb Saturday. And it will hang right there for another twelve months, for the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural college in their annual game here, for the second time in two years, played to a no-score tie.

Oregon 4, Oregon Aggies 0. That was the score. Neither eleven won the gonfalon for 1921, but both earned abundant glory. To say that either had the edge, except to the minor extent that statistics of play may show, would be unjust to both. It was a hard-fought, fiercely played, mud-splattered game of football, spectacular to watch because of the many "breaks" that favored first one side and then the other, but never to the extent of a score either way—all in all, as near a case of "horse and horse" as any football game could be.

OREGON PUBLIC UTILITIES TAXED AT $123,311,472

SALEM, Or., Nov. 21.—Public utilities of Oregon will pay taxes the coming year on a total apportioned property valuation in the state of $123,311,472.13, according to a statement made public by the state tax commission. This figure for the 1921 roll is $566,328.16 less than that of 1920. This reduction is due to lower rates, and it is notwithstanding the fact that the full value of the utilities this year as fixed by the state tax commission is $4,447,794.76 more than last year. The full value for 1920 was $181,057,000.53, and for this year $185,504,795.29.

The total apportioned value of the utilities combined with the general assessed property valuation of the state makes the total assessed property valuation in Oregon about $1,020,000,000.

COMMERCE SCHOOL LEADS ENROLLMENT OF O.A.C. STUDENTS

By EVA SCHULTZ
OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Or., Nov. 21.—The school of commerce at the Oregon Agricultural college is now the big school of the institution. The enrollment will likely reach 6000 before the college year is over, according to President Kerr. This includes short courses and summer session students.

Of this number, 750 are enrolled in commerce, 687 in engineering, 591 in agriculture, 520 in home eco-

JAP DECLARES NEW SHIPPING LAWS UNFAIR

By DUKE N. PARRY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
TOKIO, Nov. 21.—Discriminatory shipping laws passed by Great Britain and the United States are criticized by Mr. Y. Ito, president of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha (Japan Mail Steamship company) in a recent discussion of armament conference in Washington. In the opinion of Mr. Ito, the discriminatory laws, notably the preferential freight rates in the United States for goods shipped from the Orient in American bottoms, are worthy of consideration at the Pacific and disarmament conferences.

The countries referred to in Mr. Ito's criticism are Australia, whose coastwise shipping laws he feels are unjust; the United States, Great Britain and the British colonies. He makes the claim that the United States, while claiming a desire for "open door" policies, and the members of the League of Nations while apparently approving anti-trade barriers, proceed to pass laws which are nothing but the erection of the strictest sort of trade barriers against Japan and other nations.

Japan, according to Mr. Ito, is vitally concerned in keeping her present Pacific shipping up to the standard it has reached. To this end she must watch carefully all discriminatory laws and all attempts by other nations to unjustly harm Japanese shipping. Mr. Ito has recently been called to the presidency of Japan's greatest steamship line, from London, and for that reason he claims to know something of what is going on.

In addition to the claims he presents against England for her discriminatory acts in connection with shipping to her colonies, he alleges that the United States, by making preferential rates for passengers and freight carried from the Orient in American ships, violates one of President Woodrow Wilson's points advanced at Paris, in which the American president declared against the erection of commercial barriers.

While there has been expressed no intention to bring this subject up at Washington, it is not improbable that the delegates may decide to do so.

83 APPLICANTS FOR JOBS IN FORESTRY SERVICE

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 21.—Eighty-three applicants for forest service ranger took civil service examinations held recently at all forest supervisor's headquarters in Oregon and Washington, according to John D. Guthrie of the forest service. Only 43 took the examination last year. The papers have been forwarded to the civil service headquarters at Washington, where they will be graded and returned early next spring.

Haz Kik

The other day I got a cute little billet from my banker (not my local banker) that my account was overdrawn. As I had no available ready funds to make good, I had to confess to him in the following manner:

"My Dear Banker: For the following reasons I regret being unable to reduce my overdraft. I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, set upon, flattened out and squeezed by my bankers, the income tax, the super tax, the excess profits tax, war loans, war bonds, war saving certificates, the automobile tax, and by every society and organization that the inventive mind of man can invent to extract what I may or may not have in my possession.

"By the Red Cross, Blue Cross, St. Dunstan's, the Children's Home, the Y. M. C. A., the Salvation Army, the Belgian Relief, the Austrian Relief, and every hospital in the country.

"The government has governed my business so that I do not know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined and re-examined, informed, required and commanded, so that I don't know who I am or why I am here at all. All that I know is that I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I am cursed, discussed, boycotted, talked about, lied about, and held up and darned near killed, and the only reason why I am hanging on to life now is to see what in thunder will happen next.

"HAZ KIK.
