COLORED FUR FAD

Dyed Peltry Prominent in Some of the Paris Studios.

Only Suitable for Evening Wear, to Trim Wraps, Scarves or Dresses, Correspondent Says.

The new furs are very lovely, and when I say "new" I mean just that, asserts a fashion correspondent. It has become the fashion to invent new furs, so much so that the really rare and valuable skins do not find such eager purchasers as do the made-up, dyed and cleverly prepared pelts. Such is the power of fashion.

In Paris colored furs, like colored laces, are very prominent in certain exclusive studios. And it must be admitted that some of these curious furs are exceedingly attractive. My personal opinion is that they are only suitable for evening wear; to trim elaborate wraps, scarves or dresses.

There is a beautiful shade of raspberry pink, which is produced in a fur which looks exactly like ermine, but which is in reality specially prepared rabbit. I saw an evening dress made of dark-blue lace and aluminum embroidery, which was trimmed with bands of this curious fur, and another in gray chiffon and long silver fringes. And then there is a lovely mauve fur is cut so close that it looks exactly like plush, but when one comes to touch it one recognizes the difference. This is probably a passing fancy, but it cannot be denied that it is a great favorite, in certain circles. I have seen cape-collars made of colored fur, for evening wraps, and long, very wide, scarves which are destined to partly cover bare shoulders at opera or restaurant.

FASHION FRILLS.

Black satin gowns are girdled with rich gold-brocaded ribbons. Deep bands of heavy crepe silk give the effect of Persian lamb. Arrows made of quill feathers find smart hats, welcome targets. Frosted grapes with tinted leaves are charming on a purple hat. Many rows of tassels form the unusual trimming of a duvetyne wrap. Loops of ribbon are smart trimming for one of the new high-crown hats. Gowns have their cape backs either floating free or confined by a girde. A novel beaded bag has a wrist ring attached to a long beaded handle. The fashionable Spanish heel is a cross between the Louis and Cuban heel. Lines and dots of braid form a check design on the skirt of a crepe gown. A smart dress and coat combination is made of Hudson seal on canton crepe.

DAHLIA SHADES NOW WORN

Popular Fall Colors Find Way Into Skirt Materials That Meet With Favor.

The dahlia shades, long hailed as the popular fall color, have found their way into the skirt materials, one of the latest prunella weaves having this color stripe in combination with green and a narrow pin stripe of the dahlia forming the box plait with the green stripe inverted. The garment has the dark hipline. Convertible pockets and side trims to simulate pockets are to be seen on some of the newer models, the advantage being that the ultimate consumer, by removing either the pockets or the trimmings, has a different style garment, with no earmarks of "last season."
