PAPER ATTEMPTS TO OUST CURZON

ASHLAND BIBLE SCHOOL UNION IS ORGANIZED

The Bible School union of Ashland was organized yesterday evening at the Presbyterian church. The following officers were elected: President, H. E. Badger; vice president, O. F. Carson; secretary, H. C. Galey. These, together with the superintendents of Ashland Sunday schools, constitute the executive committee. It was voted to make an exhibit at the coming winter fair, and Mrs. Fred Engle, Miss Carson, Miss Mary Spencer, were appointed to put on the display, which will be somewhat similar to a public school exhibit, showing the work of the cradle roll, primary and home departments and other phases of systematic Bible study. The attendance was large and the interest in the new organization quite keen.

Among those present were a dozen superintendents and pastors and a number of teachers and assistant superintendents. A cordial invitation was extended to the officers and teachers of all the evangelical Sunday schools in Ashland to join the union and participate in its activities.

The purpose of the Sunday school organization is to effect a better conception of Christian work among the young people. A committee was appointed to arrange for future programs.

FLOOD THREATENS EASTERN CITIES FOLLOWING RAIN

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 29.—Seventy-two hours of almost continuous rain here was followed in some localities by a heavy fall of snow, which rapidly melted bringing a score of rivers and large streams in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia to dangerous flood stages.

Reports from any towns which were either already partly submerged or in danger of being flooded, showed that the angry waters were rising at all points.

College Maids Discourse On Marriage Cost; $100 A Week Men Demanded By Fair Co-Eds

Chicago, Nov. 29.—Love and marriage cannot be determined by dollars and cents per week, according to co-eds at the University of Chicago and at Northwestern University.

While they agree that love hasn't much of a chance and matrimony is likely to be a failure on less than from $50 to $75 per week these days, they are almost unanimous in the view that when the right Prince Charming comes along he is usually accepted "for better, for worse," without any undue emphasis put upon the size of his pay check.

"Money won't count at all when the ideal man comes along," said Miss Elizabeth Sholle, university of Chicago co-ed. "But isn't it funny—there aren't as many ideal young men as there used to be?"

Arbuckle Defense Claims Perjury; Harding Declares Education Week

GRUESOME EXHIBIT CAUSES SENSATION AT FATTY'S TRAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—District Attorney Brady sprang a sensation in the Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle case today by having a warrant drawn up for the arrest of Mrs. Minnie Neighbours on a charge of perjury. Mrs. Neighbours testified for the defense. Previously, the state, in its rebuttal argument, had attacked her testimony for Arbuckle.

Mrs. Neighbours had testified in August that she had given aid to Miss Rappe while the latter had suffered an attack of bladder trouble at Wheeler's Hot Springs.

Mrs. Kate Harbeck, "aunt" of Virginia Rappe, under oath today testified that Virginia had been at home every night for that month. Mrs. Mary Poulin, hostess at the Wheeler Springs hotel, produced the hotel register, showing that Miss Rappe had not registered at the hotel. She was shown a photograph of Miss Rappe but declared she had never seen her before.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Shudders passed through the court room as the most gruesome exhibit of the entire trial of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, charged with manslaughter incident to the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, was placed as evidence this morning.

Deputy Coroner Brown identified the organs as those removed from the body of Virginia Rappe. The organs were preserved in a glass jar for the purpose of securing the microscopic examination which the court ordered.

The state will probably have completed its rebuttal argument by tonight.

LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAM NOT TO PLAY PORTLAND

In response to a telegraphed challenge made by the local high school team Saturday, Washington high school, of Portland, today wired the Ashland school authorities that it would be unable to play. Reasons for declining the game are not known.

600 New Drug Stores Opened In New York Under Volstead Law

By LEO T. HEATLEY (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The increase in the number of new drug stores, started since the Eighteenth amendment became effective, has focused the attention of local enforcement officials upon the increased amount of distilled liquors dispensed by these establishments. More than 600 new drug stores have sprung up in the metropolitan area within the last year, according to local city officials.

Prohibition Director Yellowley declared that in numerous cases it was found that these new drug stores are owned by men who formerly conducted saloons, but found their incomes curtailed by rigid enforcement of the Volstead act. The ease with which a druggist can obtain a permit to sell spirituous liquors led many ex-saloon keepers to purchase old established drug stores, only to turn them into bootlegging joints in a short time. Investigation proved that these former saloon keepers frequently purchased drug stores, paying a fancy price in order to get the liquor permit of the owner, thus greatly simplifying his operations as a bootlegger. The New York state pharmacy law does not require that a drug store owner be a registered pharmacist; merely reciting the necessity of having such a registered practitioner on duty in the drug store during certain hours. Licensed prescription compounders are available in this territory at $40 per week.

Cut-Rate System

Many of these "mushroom" drug stores, after their purchase by ex-saloon keepers, sell drugs, candies, cigars, perfumes, patent medicines and other sundries at reduced prices in order to attract a large trade. When a customer is known to the owner of the store he is approached with an offer of booze. In a short time an extremely profitable business in liquor is built up, and the drug trade assumes secondary importance, being used merely as a cloak for the real business of bootlegging carried on by the store owner.

When the saloons began to disappear here more than a year ago, they were replaced by soda fountains, confectionery, cigar and fruit stores. Recently these in their turn have given place to modern drug stores, carrying all the side-lines to be found in the legitimate dispensing establishments and catering to a new trade through their ability to cut prices below competitors.

Citizens Complained

Attention of the dry agents was called to activities of these drug stores when complaints were received from citizens that they were urged to buy booze whenever they purchased articles at these stores. Chief Enforcement Director Yellowley launched a campaign against these pseudo-druggists, with the result that many were arrested being charged with violation of the prohibition laws.

Big Zane Grey Story At Vining Theatre Tonight

Do you wish to blot out for a while the everyday facts of life, and tread a golden path of adventure—utterly forgetting the world and its cares in the thrills, the romance, the pathos, the humor and the breath of wide spaces and strange lands from a Zane Grey wonder-book, in a magnificent photoplay? Then drop in at the Vining theatre and see "The Man of the Forest," which opens there tonight.

"The Man of the Forest" is clean, wholesome drama of modern outdoor life. It is thrills and suspense from beginning to end, with some startling situations that are fresh to the screen. Pathos and humor, red-blooded thrills, and tender love scenes succeed one another and blend into the whole, making this big special photoplay one of the finest adventure documents the screen has ever offered.

Haz Kik

It is quite an unusual thing to find folks who do not wish their community to grow—but Ashland has some of them. California has none such—down there they are all boosters. Maybe that's why California is California and Oregon is Oregon. About the only difference I can see is in the spirit and ideals of their citizenship.

SPECIAL PROGRAM PLANNED BY LOCAL SCHOOLS, DEC. 4-10

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—Calling attention to the fact that there are 5,000,000 American boys and girls in the United States, all of whom are not availing themselves of free school advantages, President Harding issued a proclamation today designating the week of December 4 to 10 inclusive, as "American Education Week."

The president urged that all citizens, during the week, "give special and thorough attention to the needs and aims of the public schools." He pointed out that education "is the basis of good citizenship and is of primary importance to the welfare of the nation."

Ashland schools will observe "Education Week" programs and special work which has not yet been definitely arranged, it was announced by Prof. G. A. Briscoe, superintendent of city schools, this morning. All the programs and exercises will be open to the public. Rev. Charles A. Edwards will address the high school students Wednesday morning on "A Few Moments at Lincoln's Grave," emphasizing the ideals of Americanism. Rev. Edwards recently visited the grave of Lincoln.

ULSTER PREMIER DEMANDS PEACE PLAN WITH WEEK; CAUSES IRISH SENSATION

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The most sensational break in the Irish peace negotiations since their beginning came today when Sir James Craig, unionist premier of Ulster, the bitter foe of the Sinn Feiners, sent an ultimatum to the British cabinet, demanding a creation of the substitute peace plan within a week.

CLAIMS FRENCH AND BRITISH TO BE IN TANGLE

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The accord existing between Great Britain and France is on the point of dissolution, according to a statement published in the Daily Express.

The Express made a great display of the report, putting the responsibility on Marquis Curzon, the British secretary of foreign affairs, and demanding his resignation.

The relations between France and Great Britain have been strained for some time, particularly since the French entered into a treaty with the Turkish nationalists.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—

A committee of naval experts of the five great world powers were scheduled to meet today for the final show-down on the acceptance of the American naval program. When the hour of meeting arrived, however, it was announced that "one of the foreign powers" had requested a postponement of the session twenty-four hours.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—

The withdrawal of foreign troops in China was agreed upon in principle by the committee on the Far Eastern policies of the disarmament conference today. No date was set for such action, however.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—

The association of nations which President Harding proposed should follow in the wake of the disarmament conference, is not designated as a "rival" or "undermining agency" toward the European league of nations, it was stated officially at the White House today.
