

For Federal Control of Coal Mining

COINCIDENTLY with the failure to reach an agreement for a miners' wage scale to supplant the national agreement, which expires next March, two far-reaching bills concerning the coal industry were introduced in the senate by Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the committee on education and labor, which has been investigating conditions in West Virginia. The failure was announced after a four-hour discussion at the White House, at which were present the President, Secretaries Hoover and Davis and President Lewis and other officials of the United Mine Workers of America.

One of the Kenyon measures imposes heavy penalties for profiteering in coal. The other is a revision of the original Calder bill, giving broad powers to the President, the federal trade commission, the geological survey and the interstate commerce commission.

The Calder bill, as revised by Mr. Kenyon, provides that whenever the federal trade commission shall determine that an emergency exists "which seems likely to produce a shortage or bring about unusual, unwarranted or unreasonable coal prices and be detrimental to the public health," the President shall be empowered to fix maximum coal prices and dealers' commissions and margins.

The President also is authorized under such circumstances to deal in coal and to control its production and distribution. The President may go so far as to take over the operation of coal mines.

The companion bill provides a penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $10,000 for the first offense of a coal operator or dealer convicted of violation of the law, and for each succeeding offense a fine of not less than $1,000 and imprisonment for not less than 90 days nor more than five years.

In defining what shall be considered profiteering, the bill specifies margins of profit for coal operators and dealers ranging from 10 to 40 cents per ton, according to the amount of business done. Margins are provided not only for individual sales, but also in the case of aggregate sales covering a year's period.

INDIANS ARE DOOMED

Alaskan Tribes, Once Active, Fast Passing Away.

Many Hundreds of Them May Never Survive the Winter—Fishing Falls, Furs Are Cheap and Natives Gamble Proceeds.

Seattle, Wash.—The native Indians of Alaska are doomed. Many hundreds of them may never survive the winter just setting in along the islands of the Aleutian group and Bering sea. The fishing season was a failure, furs are very cheap and the natives gambled away what they did receive.

Once there was a time, many years ago, when the natives of Alaska were alone in the wilds of the north. They depended upon the fruits of the chase for sustenance and nature gave freely.

Kingly moose, lithe, agile caribou, the great grizzly of the mountain slopes, black bear of the lowlands, fox, wolf, mink, otter and beaver, salmon and trout, all these fell to their lot, providing food and clothes. They lived happy, healthful lives.

But now all is changed. The native is an object to be pitied. Their evolution has been slow but sure. The advent of the white man brought a curse to the untutored man of the forests, for the first traders taught them gambling, drink and the purchasing power of money. They were urged to barter their furs, fish and personal belongings for pieces of silver and cheap trinkets.

The natives are migratory and little preparation is made for winter, as it was formerly the custom to follow the caribou up and down the rivers.

Firearms have aided to reduce the number of wild animals once used for food and clothes. Besides, wild game is no longer tasteful. Canned meats, fruits, coffee, tea and sugar, candy and flour are now demanded by the remnant of tribes remaining. Disease and malnutrition are hurrying them to extinction.

Missions and government schools in scattered regions have attempted a rescue of small groups of natives and have fairly succeeded. The reindeer stations have delivered other groups; but the majority of the Alaskan aborigines is rapidly decreasing.

During the last ten years, according to the late census, more than 3,000 deaths were offset by 570 births.

DEVICE RECORDS HEART BEAT

Federal Bureau Perfects Wire to Reproduce Sounds for Medical Clinics.

Washington.—Perfection of a device which will record the sound of a human breath or a heart beat on a steel wire, from which they can be accurately reproduced at any time, is announced by the bureau of standards.

The work was undertaken at the request of the army medical service, which explained that permanent records of unusual conditions of heart and lungs were desired for clinical instruction.

The device comprises use of an ordinary telephone transmitter and a stethoscope. It is explained, the current generated by the beat of the heart "amplified and connected with a steel wire telegraph, which has the different sounds impressed upon its spool of wire in the form of varying degrees of magnetization."

PLANES TO FIND "LOST" FISH

Shoals of Herring Missing in North Sea; May Be Due to Explosions in Mine Fields.

Washington.—Seaplanes are being used as a last measure in an attempt to find fish off the east coast of England, the department of commerce is advised in a report from Trade Commissioner Butler at London.

Absence of the usual shoals of herring in the North sea, the report said, has caused much alarm in fishing towns along the coast, and many and diverse measures are being employed to find the fish which furnish the populations of the town a livelihood.

Two reasons have been advanced for the disappearance of the herring, the report notes. One is that explosions in the mine fields in those waters destroyed much of the spawn, and the other that the abnormally warm weather of last winter and last summer kept the herring close to the sea's bottom.

TOO RISKY FOR 'TRAMP FLYER'

Congressman's Son, Wrecked in Boat, Will Stick to Airplanes Hereafter.

Washington.—Merrill K. Riddick, son of Representative Riddick of Montana, known as the "tramp aviator of America," to please his father gave up flying in his dilapidated machine. Then he decided to go to Alaska on a trapping expedition. He went to Seattle, bought a boat and set out for the happy hunting grounds.

His father had a letter from him saying that his boat was wrecked and he had to swim for his life. Hereafter he will live up to the slogan of "safety first" and do all of his traveling by airplane.

"Booze" Causes Blindness; Man Sues. Portland, Ore.—H. Thurber became blind from drinking "moonshine." He is suing for $3,000 from George Yrotka, who, he said, sold him the liquor.

A SELF-MADE MAN
"Who's that fat fellow just coming in?"
"That's De Tubb who brags continuously about being a self-made man."
"Great Scott. He looks more like he was built for a construction company."

It pays to make your meaning clear

AWAY BACK in.
"THEM GOOD old days."
THE STORY goes.
THAT AN elderly female.
WHO WAS violently.
OPPOSED TO the hootch.
ENTERED A street-car.
IN WHICH there sat.
A MAN evidently ossified.
SHE CALLED the conductor.
AND CRIED indignantly.
"DO YOU allow.
DRUNKARDS IN this car?"
AND HE replied.
"JUST MOVE over, ma'am.
NEXT TO that other one.
AND NOBODY.
WILL EVER notice you."
NOW I suppose.
THERE ARE cigarettes.
THAT KINDA get.
LOST IN the shuffle.
AND NOBODY gives 'em.
ANY SPECIAL notice.
BUT NOT my brand.
NO, SIR.
FOR TASTE and aroma.
YOU CAN'T beat 'em.
AND THEY'RE mild—yes.
AND YOU'LL never.
MISTAKE THEM.
BECAUSE THE "Satisfy-blend."
CAN'T BE copied.

LET'S make this perfectly clear. Chesterfield cigarettes "Satisfy" because they contain exceptionally fine Turkish tobaccos, blended with Burley and other high-grade Domestic tobaccos. They're like no other cigarettes, because that blend can't be copied. Chesterfields do what no others can—and no cigarette could do more.

Real Rest Depends Largely Upon the Depth of Your Sleep

A warning to "light" or "poor" sleepers

The deeper and sounder you sleep the better you feel. Five hours sound refreshing sleep does you more actual good than ten hours restless, disturbed sleep.

This is because the final conversion of food into vital tissue and nerve cells goes on more rapidly when the physical and mental forces are at rest.

You can't get sound, refreshing sleep if your nerves are agitated with tea or coffee. Both these drinks contain caffeine, which is sometimes very irritating to the brain and nervous system.

If you want to know the joy, vigor and stamina that comes to the person who gets sound, healthful sleep, why not stop taking tea or coffee for a while, and drink delicious, invigorating Postum instead.

Thousands of people everywhere have found that this was the only thing they needed in order to bring about these very happy results.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this delightful cereal beverage of coffee-like flavor, for a week. Perhaps, like thousands of others, you'll never be willing to go back to tea or coffee.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water; Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
