Ford's Roadman Writes— "I believe the Mora pump is mechanically o. k.; that a potential demand for it exists, and its success as a commercial venture is dependent only upon its being properly financed and marketed," writes C. S. Parker, chief roadman of the Ford Motor company. "The Mora pump was pronounced a complete success at the "Universal Use" Fordson tractor demonstration last August. The positive action secured without reciprocating parts is a particularly desirable feature. The Mora pump coupled with a Fordson makes a highly efficient pumping unit."

Otherwise you take a chance of having it delivered to the wrong place or bring upon yourself a serious delay. It will only require a postal card and a moment's time. Do it now.—E. J. Interest--December 15th

If you have Liberty Bonds of the first issue or Victory Bonds—get them out on December 15th and clip the interest coupons that are payable on that date. It may be a small sum, to be sure, and if you put it in your pocket you will scarcely know you had it. But if you put it in an account here, earning interest at 4 per cent, it will be a real boost for your cash reserve. Add this little bit to what you have and it will earn a little bit more.
