Christmas Parcel Post Information—
Tell the receiving clerk what your parcel contains, advises Postmaster E. J. Kaiser. There are three items necessary for the clerk to know: First, the classification he should apply; second, whether he should apply the parcel the "fragile" mark; third, whether he should apply the "perishable" mark. The question of applying these marks is determined by the clerk on the contents, and not by the container.

Students Desert School For Nat Roller Skating

The newly-opened roller skating rink at the Natatorium is proving an irresistible attraction to school boys, forty of whom played "hookey" yesterday afternoon in order to "roll on the roll-way." Teachers became suspicious at the great number of absentees and proceeded to do a little detective work. Getting in 'phone touch with parents and others, the truants were soon located, rounded up at the "Nat" where their names were taken and later entered in the pedagogical record books. But—"What's five minutes lickin' to five hours fun?" boys inquire.

AMERICAN LEGION

for all the ex-service men of the community.
John Rigg was appointed to represent the American Legion in cooperation with the Red Cross and the Ministerial association, in caring for indigent ex-service men who pass through Ashland, and ask assistance.

The Memorial monument erected last year by the citizens of Ashland remains partially unpaid for, so Ashland Post has appointed a committee consisting of Don M. Spencer, chairman, V. V. Mills, Dr. Gordon MacCracken, and S. A. Peters Jr.,

to look after this matter and determine why this remains unpaid for and how payment will be effected. While this is believed to be a public debt, the Legion is greatly interested, so much so in fact, that it raised $75 by subscription among its members in about three minutes.

Ashland Post is more than pleased with the lyceum course which it is showing to the Ashland public this winter. The talent so far shown has been exceptionally good, with every reason to believe that the two numbers yet to come will be even better. Madam Ringsdorf appeared with her company at the Baptist church last Tuesday night, and if we may be allowed to judge from the expression of pleased surprise at such rich talent as shown by her, we can well be satisfied with our course.

The next number will come Decem 30 and will be shown in the Methodist Episcopal church. It is Clayton Staples and his wife Esther, who are exceptionally good artists in "crayon and sand." It is stated that their work is so good as to be hardly distinguishable from real paintings. They have a very pleasing entertainment in addition to their picture work.

The University of Oregon glee club has cancelled its date with us for the present, on account of reasons known only to them, but are sure to be with us on their annual spring tour. We will be mighty glad to welcome them to Ashland, because they always give more than your money's worth of entertainment.

The American Legion Auxiliary is planning to send a big box of joy to the disabled comrades who are at present quartered in a hospital near Portland, for their Christmas cheer. That is a splendid thing for them to do, and we can gladly assure them that Ashland Post appreciates their action.
