OREGON TEAM BEATS ELEVEN COACHED BY FORMER LOCAL MAN

The University of Oregon football team's 47 to 0 victory over the University of Hawaii eleven at Honolulu Monday was of especial interest to local sport lovers by reason of the fact that the Hawaii team was coached this year by Otto "Pro" Klum, former local high school and captain by Robert Spencer, who starred on Ashland high athletic teams in 1914 and 1915.

Klum grew to young manhood in Ashland and established an enviable record first as a player on local athletic teams and later as coach of Ashland and then Medford teams. This is his first year as coach of the Islanders, but, according to press reports, he moulded one of the strongest machines Island sportsmen have ever seen and it is probable he will be proffered the mentorship again next year.

Spencer is Star Player Spencer, as quarterback of the ukelele players, has proven a tower of strength to the eleven and the star of every conflict. He played on the University of Hawaii team last year.

Athletic officials of the island university are making a strong bid for football honors with teams from the mainland, and last year brought the University of Nevada eleven across the Pacific for a Christmas day game. The Nevadans, although they were not rated high in Pacific coast intercollegiate circles, had no trouble in decisively trouncing the Hawaiians.

The University of Oregon squad left Eugene December 17 for the islands, and will remain there to play a navy eleven from Pearl Harbor January 4. The Oregon eleven got away to a poor start this year but each game showed the players improving, until, at the end of the season, they were acclaimed one of the strongest elevens on the coast this year. The eleven was composed almost entirely of new men who will return next fall so that gridiron prospects for the university loom brightly.

Bezdek to Stay East An effort was made to secure the return of Hugo Bezdek as coach of the Oregon team when that famous athletic director visited the West early this month with his Penn State team to play the University of Washington. Despite a tempting financial offer, Bezdek later decided to remain in the East, and the university again hired "Shy" Huntington, coach for the past three seasons, to mould the team next season.

Wife Slays Husband at Same Time Her Father Dies; Shots Heard By Phone Bring Arrest

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 28.—(I. N. S.)—Screams and shots heard over the wire by a telephone operator, led police to come to the home of J. C. Simmons, where they found that the wife had killed her husband. Mrs. Simmons was arrested on a charge of murder. She told police Simmons had attempted to attack her. The wife, who is twenty-one, married Simmons when she was sixteen years of age. Mrs. Simmons had just lifted the receiver to call for help when the operator cut in with a long distance connection with Louisville, Ky., to notify Mrs. Simmons her father was dying.

The operator heard cries and the report of a revolver, causing her to notify the police, who made the discovery of the crime.

OREGON CAVES IMPROVED Work in Progress During the Winter In Underground Wonder

GRANTS PASS, Or., Dec. 28.—The interior of the Oregon caves is being fixed up so that the traffic next summer can be cared for. R. W. Rowley, the guide at the resort, has been putting in rock and steel ladders and has more steel on hand which will be placed during the winter.

The "wiggly holes" are being enlarged so a person can walk upright into all the rooms in the caverns. The road is about complete with the exception of a few fills and the bridge over Lake creek. These will be done by the first of the season. As the road is not wide enough for the passage of machines in many places, it has been decided that cars can go out on even hours and in on the odd hours. This would relieve the necessity of providing passage places.

LOCAL TEAMS PLAY AT TALENT TONIGHT

The Ashland Methodist Epworth League boys' and girls' basketball teams will journey to Talent tonight to play the Talent Epworth League quintets in what promises to be two hard-fought games.

Among those on the squad are, Captain Ray Clary, Lyle Wenter, Lester Weisenberger, Allan Autry, Harlan McWilliams, Glen Hale, Oliver Anderson and Lloyd Shriner. I. C. Wilson and Gerald Gunter serve as managers.

This will be the first game of the season for the Talent teams. Following tonight's contests, the locals will meet Grants Pass here and Medford in Medford in the near future.

Mrs. Pearl Dodge, formerly of this city, who has been visiting her father, O. H. Johnson, and other relatives here, left last night for Eugene, where she will visit relatives for a few days, after which she will return to Ashland and later leave for Berkeley, Calif., where she is an employe of the Southern Pacific company.

YOUTHS OF CITY TO HIKE FRIDAY

One of the most interesting events of the holiday season, at least for the boys of the community, will be the Y. M. C. A. holiday hike, which will take place Friday, December 30.

The boys will assemble at the Plaza at 8:30, carrying a substantial lunch and with a nickel each for the weiner feed at noon.

For the safety of everybody, the .22 calibre rifle that Uncle Christmas left in the stocking will not be taken along on the hike. Parents at least will appreciate this edict.

Several men are planning on going with the boys, and the hike will be under the personal supervision of Cash Wood, county Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Nothing short of sudden death or a severe storm will be allowed to interfere with the big hike, according to Cash Wood. There will be enough activity to keep the boys comfortable and the camp fire at noon will be one of the features of the trip.

The trip is for the boys and men of Ashland and vicinity. Membership in anything is not required. Scouts from both troops will be welcomed, particularly as no hike has been planned for them during the holiday season.

An eight and one-half pound girl was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Priest, 98 Granite street. Mrs. Priest was formerly Miss Evelyn Cyr.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28.

—(I. N. S.)—The Washington conference will not put any limitation on the number of submarines any nation may maintain, and all discussions on submarine limitation are now ended, so far as the present conference is concerned.

This was the result of a two-hour secret session of naval powers here this morning. The French delegates pressed their demand for 90,000 tons of submarines. The other powers were unwilling to accede to the demand and negotiations regarding submarines were officially closed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28.

—(I. N. S.)—The fate of submarines and other auxiliary naval fighting craft, so far as the Washington conference is concerned, hung in the balance when the powers met again in secret this morning to resume discussion of naval limitation. Every indication pointed to the flat refusal of both France and Japan to accept the American compromise program on submarines, under which they would have 31,000 tons of submarines to 60,000 tons ratio for the United States and Great Britain.

Upon the nature of their refusals, however, depends whether negotiations will be continued in Washington, as Americans hope, or whether they will be indefinitely postponed to be considered at some later and larger meeting of powers, as the French hope.

THIRTY-SECOND DEGREE MASONS PLAN MEETING

Due to the fact that there is no consistency in southern Oregon, the thirty-second degree Masons of the Scottish rite who reside here, have never convened socially, as a body. To bring them together, a dinner meeting is being arranged at the Medford hotel at Medford January 4, when all thirty-second degree Masons are invited to attend and bring their ladies.

A meeting of a small number of Scottish rite Masons was recently held, and plans were made for the dinner meeting. Tickets are being sold at two dollars per plate, and may be obtained in Ashland from Dr. George J. Kinz.

It is estimated that there are nearly seventy-five Scottish rite Masons in southern Oregon and at the meeting it is planned to offer suggestions that will, if followed, ultimately result in making it possible to have the Scottish rite degrees conferred in this locality.

She is now improving rapidly but as the break was a bad one, it will be several weeks before the arm can be taken from its cast.

Haz Kik

Dear Haz Kik:

Since coming here I've joined the throng and learned to sing with them the songs, "Ashland Grows While Lilia Flows," and "By Ashland Trade is Ashland Made." Now, the dollars made by Ashland trade have some been taken from my purse; though prices elsewhere have been higher than proverbial sin, in Ashland they are sometimes worse. Still I thought, if each does his part, we surely will build up a mart that very soon will make us see a great and true prosperity. But a week ago I sadly learned from a leading citizen—so termed—that our Winter Fair official pamphlet was published far from our own hamlet, because by doing so it seems that they have saved some paltry beans. Now as "sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," I will confess it riles my dander, while Ashland merchants urge that we united in their support should be, that they in turn do not uphold the only paper in our fold that issues for the world to see. The Tidings' Christmas and Winter Fair number, with thirty-six pages, each a wonder, published all that the official one tried with thirty pages good measure beside. Still our merchants cheerfully paid dollars to outside printers' aid, yet had they but coalesced in one edition of the best, we'd have the dollars in our own nest. So, as the merchants are said to be the leaders in a community, I shall follow their lead and they'll find as their meed, that my trade is not where it ought to be.

I VA KICK TOO.
