BARBERS IN CHINA STRIKE FOR MORE

SHANGHAI, China, Jan. 2.—Five thousand Chinese barbers have declared a strike in Shanghai.

They claim that three cents isn't enough for a shave, and that five cents is far too little for a haircut, especially when one considers that the ear-cleaning process and facial massage are thrown in for good measure.

The Chinese community is aghast at the impudence of the barbers. Think of it—the barbers who stand at the very bottom of the Chinese social ladder, are dissatisfied!

"What if the cost of rice has increased?" asks Wong Fong-tze, "rickshaw coolie, as he surveys the matter with the proud assurance of one who knows his own relative social importance. "Barbers—why, barbers receive ten dollars a month, and that is too much for them. Imagine barbers striking!"

Incense is being burned before the god of the barbers, Loh Yui-shan, in the city temple, and red candles are lighted before his shrine by the barbers, who are praying that their monthly income be augmented at least an additional 10 per cent.

The Chinese barber shop is a far cry from the tonsorial parlor of America. The majority of the barbers work out of doors. Long rows of barbers are seen in the Temple courtyard, others in a busy city gate while many travel from door to door.

From Loh Yui-shan the Chinese barbers learned the art of shaving the head, scraping the face, plaiting the queues, cleaning the ears with small ivory spoons, wiping the eyelids and thumping and massaging the face and back.

The "Cyclo" Garage is always busy

—because it sells engine efficiency

GARAGEMEN everywhere write us of their big sales of Cyclo Motor Oil. There is just one reason: The superior performance of Cyclo in the motor. One dealer tells us: "Cyclo is almost too good for the garageman. Once you sell a customer he drives his car 500 to 1000 miles before he needs more and only a measly old quart then. How can we make any money out of an oil like that?"

It is true that a motorist will use less of Cyclo than of ordinary oil. But other motorists by thousands are discovering the greater lubricating value and economy of Cyclo. As a result, Cyclo dealers increase sales rapidly, while Cyclo users decrease operating and maintenance costs.

Cyclo is the motor oil free from destructive "sulpho" compounds. These impurities are removed by the new Hexeon Process used only by us. Only Cyclo-Naphthenic base crude petroleum is used in making Cyclo.

Prove the superiority of Cyclo for yourself. Flush the crank case, not with kerosene or so-called "flushing oils," but with the grade of motor oil our lubrication chart recommends for your engine, and refill with the correct grade of Cyclo.

Different brands of motor oils have different bodies. The safest, surest way to get the best performance from your motor and avoid expensive engine troubles due to incorrect lubrication is to use the grade of motor oil specified on the Lubrication Chart.
