THE TAX MENACE

From almost every state in the west comes the plea of industry for tax reduction.

Practically every western state is loaded with a political overhead which would not be justified by ten times the population.

Every public official denies all responsibility for the increased tax burden and says, "If the people vote these measures what can I do?"

Admitting without argument that the people are to blame for all the tax burdens under which they stagger at present, what is to be done about it?

Obviously if the people are responsible for the tax increase it is up to the people to see that they get a tax reduction.

When tax reduction is suggested the present beneficiaries of our tax system say it simply cannot be done, but the fact remains that it must be done.

Private industry has reduced expense all along the line to meet changed conditions and government must adjust itself to a more economical basis in the same manner as the individual and business has done.

The man who fights for tax reduction today is often held up to ridicule and calumny by those who prey off the present tax system and pay little or no share toward the burdens of government.

The power of present political parties will be overthrown unless they join willingly in the campaign for tax reduction.

Thus will experimental political parties gain power as a result of public unrest. Progressive western states are pressing programs of re-trenchment for cutting down their overhead of taxation from 25 to 30 per cent.

J. ALBERT KELK

Care of St. John's Hospital, Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, New York.

Bronze medal—Kelk, aged 21, student, attempted to save Carl F. Dierker, Jr., aged 17, student, from drowning. Carlo, N. Y., June 18, 1919. Dierker fell from a boat into the Catskill creek, 30 feet from the bank, where the water was 20 feet deep. Kelk swam 105 feet to Dierker, who was under water, and took hold of his shoulder. Dierker then grasped Kelk around the neck. They struggled under the surface, and Kelk swallowed water and gradually became unconscious. Dierker was drowned. Only the top of Kelk's head appeared on the surface; and his younger brother swam to him from the boat, grasped him and swam with him to the bank. Kelk was revived.

Burned to Junk
—Many accidents suddenly turn the fire that propels automobiles and trucks into a raging force that destroys them. The building in which your automobile is kept is always liable to burn, and your car with it. Can you stand the loss of $2000, $1500, $1000, or even $500, without feeling the loss?
—The only safe way is to protect your car from loss by fire with a good insurance policy. You can also buy protection from loss by theft, collision, and your liability for damage to another's property or for injury to other persons.
—If your car is worth having, it is worth insuring. Do it today. It's better to play safe than be forever sorry.
