POPE BENEDICT TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

DENIES WORLD WAR TO BLAME FOR CRIME WAVE

LOS ANGELES CHIEF OF POLICE WHO SERVED IN WAR, SAYS FIGHTING FOR COUNTRY DOES NOT MAKE CROOKS.

Those Who Made Quick, Easy Money During the War Continue Their Lazy Modes of Living Through Crooked Enterprises.

(By International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—"All this talk about the world war being responsible for the present crime wave in America is foolishness.

"Fighting for the honor and safety of the nation might well make a real man out of a criminal, but facing the fire of an enemy for one's country never yet has made a crook out of an honest man."

The above are the views of Colonel James W. Everington, new Los Angeles chief of police, on whether the horrors of warfare are fundamentally responsible for the deluge of crime which is marking the present period.

A colonel in rank for 18 years in the army service, and one of the fighters who faced the dangers of front-line service overseas, Chief Everington spoke with authority when he emphatically denied the somewhat prevalent theory that the existing spirit of lawlessness is a psychological reaction from the horrors of war.

Crooks Simply Lazy

"There have undoubtedly been quite a few men able to make quick and easy money during the war who since peace was declared, have sought to continue their lazy modes of living through various forms of crooked enterprises," said the new chief to an International News Service representative. "But it would be obviously unfair and untrue to blame the war for the creation of this class. They existed before the war was ever declared.

"In Los Angeles, the same as in other very large cities of the nation, we have to contend with quite a large class of criminals and near-criminals. This in no way reflects upon the city, however. It is merely that the same sunshine which attracts the millionaire tourist also attracts the desperado. Then, too, the grafters always follow closely upon the heels of the rich traveler."

Ashland Man Claims Bride At Jacksonville

John Kellner and Miss Mary Holb were married in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon. Mr. Kellner is a well known carpenter of this city and came here from Wisconsin a year ago in September, since which time he has done considerable carpenter work both for himself and for others. Miss Holb came here from East St. Louis, Ill., and has been making her home at the Leonard Carpenter work near Medford. The couple had known each other previous to their coming to Ashland, and the wedding was no hurried up affair, even though he frequently expressed a desire to see old friends and familiar faces. Mr. and Mrs. Kellner will make their home on Avery street in the newly constructed house which Mr. Kellner has almost completed.

PRESIDENT WILL ASK MERCHANT MARINE SUBSIDY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—President Harding will go before congress in a few days with a plan for the establishment of an American merchant marine subsidy. Chairman Lasker of the United States shipping board, announced today.

Lasker conferred with the president more than an hour concerning various plans for ship subsidy, submitting the plan agreed upon, by the shipping board after a consultation with various shipping interests.

Harvard President Attacks Football

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 24.—Intercollegiate football has come to occupy too important a place in the college curriculum, A. L. Lowell, president of Harvard university, declares in his annual report to the board of overseers made public recently.

Public interest, Lowell says, has given excessive importance to athletic contests, especially football. It would be well, he said, for college authorities to consider afresh the proper place of public athletic contests in the scheme of education.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 24.—President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon, a institution that has produced football teams famous the country over, agrees with President Lowell of Harvard in the latter's statement that football has perhaps taken a too prominent part in the college curriculum, but he has a plan that he believes would save the situation.

"The American people," he says, "are so fond of athletic sports that the danger always exists of over-stressing in colleges, the competitive contest, and especially the popular favorite—football. In my judgment the solution will be found in well organized and strongly manned schools of physical education, such as the one rapidly developing at the University of Oregon, in which the competitive sports of all kinds have a definitely recognized place with a clear cut program that stresses educational as well as recreational values.

"We have the matter well in hand at Oregon, with strong student and alumni support. The general problem is to save all legitimate values of intercollegiate competition, which are many and great, and to avoid making undue demands, either on time or energy.

"It is a matter of clear objectives and good organization."

RAILROADS WERE NOT 'BROKEN DOWN' SAYS W. D. HINES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads, unequivocally denied that the nation's railroads were "broken down" when the government turned them back to private ownership in 1919.

Hines declared before the interstate commerce commission, that on the contrary, government control resulted in improved equipment, better morale and more all around efficiency.

"The railroads were in much better shape when returned than when the government took them over," said Hines.

NATION-WIDE FEDERAL AGENCY PROPOSED BY SENATOR McCUMBER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The establishment of a nation-wide federal agency for the distribution and sale of farm products, was proposed in a bill introduced by Senator McCumber today.

McCumber urged the passage of the bill as a means of "saving the agricultural interests in the United States from utter ruin."

GENOVA CONFERENCE MAY BE POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—President Harding and his advisors have informally conveyed to European statesmen in Washington that the United States does not look with favor at this time on the Genoa conference, invitation for which has been issued by the Italian government.

This fact led to the prediction in European quarters that the conference will be called off or at least postponed.

JAPAN SURRENDERS POSITION TAKEN ON BONIN ISLANDS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The deadlock over the five-power naval treaty, caused by Japan's insistence upon the fortification of the Bonin islands, virtually has been broken, the American delegation announced today.

Japan has yielded to the American position and has agreed that the islands should be included in the arrangement covering the Pacific fortifications.

Testimony in the Arbuckle Case Closes Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The state virtually rested its case against Arbuckle shortly before noon today.

District Attorney Brady announced that with the exception of another effort to reopen the question of the impeachment of the testimony of Zey Prevost, and the effort to show his procedure in caring for Alice Blake and Zey Prevost, awaiting the first Arbuckle trial, was proper, he had concluded his case.

The last testimony given was that of E. O. Heinrich, a finger print expert, wherein he stated that in examining the door of Arbuckle's room at the St. Francis hotel he found finger prints which corresponded to those of Arbuckle and Miss Virginia Rappe.

The door itself was introduced to the examination. Heinrich described the finger prints in detail, saying that those supposed to be Arbuckle's superimposed those supposed to be Miss Rappe's.

"The right hand of the man was clutching the right hand of the woman. The position of the woman's hand on the door appears to have been due to pressure exerted by the man's hand," he testified.

Haz Kik

Somebody said that it couldn't be done, But he, with a chuckle, replied, That maybe it couldn't, but he would be one Who wouldn't say so till he tried. So he buckled right in, with a bit of a grin; If he had a misgiving he hid it; He started to sing as he tackled the thing That couldn't be done, and he did it! Recommended to the Chamber of Commerce.

GUS NEWBURY TO ENTER JUDGESHIP PRIMARY CONTEST

MEDFORD, Jan. 23.—Attorney Gus Newberry of this city will file for circuit judge at the spring primary, according to an announcement today and with Charles M. Thomas, makes two avowed candidates for the position. Other names lurk in the background, including Attorney H. D. Norton of Grants Pass, as the entry on the democratic ticket. No official announcement of the entry of Norton in the race has been made, and it is generally conceded that the race on the republican ticket is between Newberry and Thomas. Friends of Councilman T. W. Miles are urging him to enter the race, but he flatfootedly refuses. It is also political gossip that Attorney Newton Borden is not prone to make the race for the democratic nomination.

For the legislative places Ben Sheldon has announced his candidacy for the state senate, and Vernon Vawter and Ralph Cowgill are tentative candidates for the lower house.

For the county commissioner vacancy, now held by James Owens, the incumbent and Thomas Simpson of Ashland are mentioned. It is said that Ashland would rather have a representative in the county councils than in the legislative halls. Owens has not announced yet whether he will be a candidate for re-election or not, but his friends say he will.

Dealing in the political future it is said that County Judge Gardner will be a candidate for secretary of state in 1924 and that William R. Coleman, former county clerk will be a candidate for sheriff the same year.—Mail Tribune.

BULLETINS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—Prisoners in the Los Angeles county jail have been borrowing American Legion buttons to obtain sympathy in the courts on the grounds of "war records." Investigation has shown that one button and one war record has served for a whole handful of prisoners.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—President Harding opposed any drastic reductions in the size of the American army of 150,000 men, in an official statement at the White House today.

Germans Go Broke Speculating With Stocks on Market

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Thousands of Germans have been bankrupted by the recent craze for speculating in the stock markets. The losers were not limited to wage earners and professional men with inadequate incomes but included many comparatively wealthy men. The workmen and professional men claim that speculation is not a vice but a necessity for men whose incomes are 3000 marks a month or less. They say they plunged in the market in the hope of being able to win enough to pay their bills and buy clothing for themselves and their families.

Some of those who lost their earnings in this way have disappeared from their positions, others are making an effort to borrow, and the remainder are stolidly facing debts which they cannot hope to pay. Grocers and butchers generally have closed all credit accounts.

UNLICENSED DOGS WILL BE KILLED SAYS SHERIFF

The state law requiring licenses for all dogs within the county will be strictly enforced by the sheriff, and a dog catcher will be appointed to round up all canines. The licenses are procurable at the clerk's office, and a period of grace, not yet decided upon, will be allowed all dog owners. After a dog is caught he will be held in the pound and will be freed when the license is paid; if not, he will be executed. The license applies alike to city and country dogs. The fee is $2 for male dogs and $3 for females.

Relative to the killing of dogs, if no license is paid, Sheriff Terrill said he would have to do it, since the law had been upheld by the Marion county court.

Five hundred dog collars have been received by the county clerk, and a number of dog owners have secured their licenses.

Soldier's Bonus Amendment Before U. S. Senate

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The long delayed "five way" soldier bonus bill was offered in the senate today by Senator Simmons as an amendment to the pending foreign debt funding bill.

The bill provides that the soldier bonus be financed with whatever interest may be collected on the foreign debt until such time as the principal can be made available by issuance of foreign bonds.

Simmons' move brought the bonus squarely before the senate again, which was in conflict with the republican program of passing the foreign debt bill before acting upon the soldiers' bonus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes announced a "new nation-wide drive to clean up the country of liquor violators." In a speech before the New York Ministerial alliance today, Haynes declared that the prohibition forces had made magnificent progress in the work of enforcement throughout the country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24.—The senate by viva voce vote rejected Senator Walsh's resolution calling upon President Harding to lay before the senate all the facts in the Shantung negotiations now before the armament conference.

PONTIFF'S BODY LIES IN STATE AT ST. PETERS

CATAFALQUE IS ERECTED IN THRONE ROOM; ENTIRE DIPLOMATIC CORPS PAY DEVOUT REVERENCE.

Cardinals' College Is Divided on Pope's Successor; Cardinal Merry del Val, Spain, Cardinal Maffi, Pisa and Cardinal Gasparri Named.

ROME, Jan. 24.—Arrayed in full canonicals, with golden mitre, gloves and ring, the body of Pope Benedict XV lay in state today in the throne room, on the floor immediately below the apartment in which he died.

For many hours today to the room where he had made his fight for life, came a stream of officials, the representatives of foreign nations, high prelates and others. Then late in the afternoon, in gorgeous procession, composed of Palatine guards, gendarmes, the Swiss guard, and the secret chamberlains, the body was solemnly transported down the royal staircase, through Clementine hall, into the throne room, and placed in a raised catafalque, before which the whole diplomatic corps paid reverence.

The christian gave absolution and the cardinals sprinkled holy water, while the penitentiaries chanted prayers answered by the kneeling onlookers. Immediately afterwards the doors were opened to the multitudes desirous of looking for the last time on the departed pontiff.

Scene Impressive One

The body is robed in white with stole and shawl of red embroidered with gold. The head, wearing the pontifical mitre, reposes upon cushions of red and gold velvet. The hands, wearing the pontifical gloves of purple silk, and holding the rosary, are clasped over the breast.

The traditional nine days funeral services for the pope began this morning when mass was celebrated by the senior canon of St. Peter's cathedral. A similar ceremony will be conducted for eight days.

The burial of the pontiff will occur tomorrow. The body will remain in state upon the catafalque in the basilica of St. Peter's until noon Wednesday.

Thousands Visit Rome

Thousands of visitors poured into Rome over night and a long line began forming shortly after dawn outside St. Peter's, marshalled by police and soldiers. There were 4000 soldiers on guard, and most of the policemen in Rome were stationed in the plaza of St. Peter's.

Cardinals' College Divided

The college of cardinals is understood to be divided into fairly equal groups on the pope's successor. The groups represent those who wish the next pope to come from outside of Italy, and those who think he should be a native of Italy. The election of a foreign cardinal, it would seem must be eliminated, although certain members of the sacred college, like Cardinal Merry del Val, a native of Spain, do not hide their sympathies for such an event.

Among the native Italians, Cardinal Maffi of Pisa is the most strongly supported in Italian centers, but his advanced, modern ideas are likely to arouse opposition, particularly in the group headed by Cardinal Merry del Val. It is considered possible that because of these two opposing groups, Cardinal Gasparri may be chosen as a compromise between them.

Leaving for California—Mrs. S. T. Stoner, accompanied by her daughter Ila, are leaving for Los Angeles Wednesday evening, where they will join Mr. Stoner. They expect to make their future home at Long Beach, Calif.

Attorney W. J. Moore has bought the Kirchbaum property located on the corner of Knob Hill and Almond streets. Mr. Moore is having the property remodelled and will soon have a property that will be a credit to that section of the town.
