HOME BUYERS COMING

We have been advertising in numerous publications, covering a large part of the country and inquiries from people in the northwest, southwest and middle states are flooding my office. Answering these letters is keeping two stenographers busy. Our reply letters are all personal, with detailed description, answering all questions, and accompanied with attractive literature. The letter carries 4 cents postage and is a "go getter." If some of these prospects do not buy and locate here it will be because we cannot show them. But we think we can, so if you have ranches or acreages or any kind of property to sell, it might be worth your while to list it with us. Remember, we advertise and we make sales. OBITUARY

CELIA V. LIBBY

Mrs. Celia V. Libby was born at Cathenesville, New York, on February 5, 1858. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyal E. Daniels. She, with her parents, moved to Kandiyohi county, Minnesota, when seven years of age. She was educated in the Minnesota schools and taught school for two years. In 1876 she married William A. Libby, a very successful farmer. Seven children were born to this union, four of whom are now living. They are William J. Libby, Boise, Idaho; Mrs. N. G. Noyes, New London, Minnesota; Mrs. Ada Stannard Millner and Mrs. A. M. Clark, of this city. There are 11 grandchildren. George E. Stannard of this city, now attending the University of Southern California, is one of her grandchildren. She lived in George's home for fifteen years of his life, since her husband's death, so she seemed a second mother to him, their love being mutual.

She was a most devoted wife and mother. All who knew her recognized and appreciated her sweet, forgiving, unselfish, Christian spirit. She was always busy, yet her Bible was kept near her work, and when she was resting she would read from the book she loved best.

She sang a great deal about the home, her voice being melodious and sweet.

She always enjoyed working in the Master's service, and those who witnessed her departure on the morning of January 18, realized how sweet it is to trust in Jesus and that it is the best way to live and the only way to die.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their sympathy and kindness during our beloved mother and grandmother's sickness and departure. Also for the beautiful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Millner, George E. Stannard, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Clark.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.—

A plain warning that the American farmers intend to dabble in politics on an extensive scale, was only conveyed to the country by the delegates attending the national agricultural conference.

The farmer has no intention of organizing a third major party, but he does intend to make his vote felt. His attitude, according to the harem delegates at the convention, is due largely to failure to remedy his condition and the belief that the panacea for his ills is still far in the shrouded future. The delegates promise that the farmer's vote will "clean house" in congress and that the electoral vote of the man behind the plow will be felt in every legislative hall in the country.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.—

In a heated debate in which the farmer delegates and labor representatives strived to make themselves heard above the uproar, the national agricultural conference rejected the proposal that it go on record as demanding a reduction in the wages of railroad workers and miners to pre-war levels as a means of stabilizing the farming industry. The vote was 83 to 64.

The bill would require an immigrant to become a citizen of the Philippines after having been a resident here four years.

Lightning's strange Trick.

Bozeman, Mont.—A bolt of lightning played a mean trick on Steve O'Donnell, Gallatin valley raucher, a few days ago. It struck a hayrack on which he was riding and shaved all the hair off the right side of his head, as clean as a razor would have done, leaving the hair on the left side untouched. The flesh was only slightly burned. O'Donnell was stunned.

Smoking Frog Found; Grabbed Butt of Cigar

A smoking frog is the latest claim of Brown's Mills, N. J., for distinction. Caleb Bennett, working along the shore of Saloma lake, tossed the butt of a cigar into the water. Barely had it touched the surface when a big green frog, Bennett says, leaped from among the weeds, seized the cigar, and climbed upon a log, with the cigar still steaming in his mouth.

the way from Los Angeles to San Francisco a day before the Arbuckle party. "We were out riding in my car when Miss Rappe said: 'Please stop the car if you do not want me to die.'" Mrs. Portwell testified. "She left the car all doubled up and drank a quantity of a dark-colored liquor from a gin bottle. She said it was an herb tea." The bottle was introduced into evidence.

Mrs. Francis S. Bates, Santa Ana, Calif., testified to meeting Miss Rappe in a Chicago department store in 1913, where both were connected with a style show. While in the store Miss Rappe had three attacks of a supposed severe illness in her abdominal region, she testified. Mrs. Allen Barrie, Hollywood, testified that "during an eclipse of the

where he is endeavoring to establish permanent markets.

In Kelsey's opinion the coal miners of the country will strike on April 1, the date on which the miners and operators enter into new contracts. The operators, he said, intend to cut wages.

"The men will strike if either of two things happen—if their pay is reduced or if the check-off system is eliminated,"—said Kelsey. "Elimination of the check-off system would cripple the miners' union. Unionism with the miners is a religion. If they strike they will be hard to beat, as the miners can live as happily on a cracker, if he has to, as he can on a ham."
