The winter lyceum course presented by Ashland post, American Legion, has given its last number. The DeWillo Concert company have more than kept up the very high standard set by our earlier numbers. Their entertainment last night at the Presbyterian church, was distinctly out of the ordinary, and will not be soon forgotten by those who had the privilege of hearing them. Yes, we lost money on our course, but who doesn't lose money on a lyceum course in Ashland. However, we do not feel at all discouraged, because we kept our agreement with the people by giving them more for the money invested than they have ever been able to get in Ashland.

players so far turned out are Slack, Pace, Millard Grubb, Milton Fraley, Gerald Wenner, Ed Hughs, Hubert Bentley, A. B. McKenzie and Commander Dunn. Grubb and Bentley are also regulars on the Elks team, which is made almost entirely of ex-service men.

The initial application for your state loan or bonus must be filed before May 25, but if you want the loan, you don't have to take it for the next 30 days if you don't want to. The cash must be taken the first year, but the loan is indefinite. Better see Grubb or Spencer about yours now and talk it over with them.

"Ex-service men squander their bonuses." Some headlines that. Here's a few samples of squandering: Chick Farlow has his house already built. Steve Erickson and Carl Loveland have entered into contracts for the construction of their. Three brand new homes for Ashland—gained by the Oregon state bonus loan. Nearly 90 per cent of Ashland's applications call for loans, for similar purposes.

We appreciate the co-operation given us by the public in general, and we intend to show you all that we are backing only the very best obtainable entertainment for you. We have set our standard, now we'll keep it up there.

Tentative plans are under way by the American Legion toward securing both the Oregon Agricultural College girls glee club and the University of Oregon boys glee club for appearances in Ashland during the spring vacation. Both of these talented organizations have schedules covering this territory, and we want them to give us the privilege of an appearance before an Ashland audience.

Dr. W. J. Crandall, who was in the aviation service during the world war, but has now taken up the practice of making sick folks well and happy, has a most kindly feeling toward his old comrades who are temporarily out of luck and out of jobs. He says that he will give free medical service to any ex-service man who is in need of such, and who is out of work and cannot pay for it.

If the plans mature properly, both clubs will be here during the latter part of March. Nuf sed.

We just learned that our comrade, Frank Homes, answered sick call the first of the week and is now enjoying (?) a pleasant sojourn at the sanitarium. We hope that Frank didn't get lonesome for some of the good old O. D. pills and put a game on the medical officer to get out of a hike. Frank can see callers and comrades Friday, and of course, he will be glad to have them come.

We appreciate the doctor's kind offering, but hope none of us will ever have to take advantage of it.

The Legion team of basketball shooters, are a bunch of winners. Not all WENNERS, although Gerald Wenner is a dandy runner up. They have played several games this season and don't seem to be inclined to lose any of them. The team is under the management of Vice Commander Lynn Slack and Hank Pace. The

SWISS FAVOR AMERICANS

That Switzerland, akin to us in ideals and institutions, left hospitable and friendly memories in the minds of the many wounded American soldiers, who convalesced there during the war, we cannot doubt.

From all reports, the beauty of the little Republic made a lasting impression. This is especially true of its winter-time of matchless beauty and unequalled opportunities for sport. Then the entire Swiss nation and hosts of warmly clothed and welcome visitors give themselves wholeheartedly to play.

Under the stimulus of skating, ski-ing, curling and tobogganing, old faces, hearts and bodies grow young again, while youth, with new zest, pursue its tempestuous way.

No wonder then, that the American's esteem for the little Republic goes up as its thermometers go down.

But the liking is apparently mutual, for Switzerland has gone far out of her way to favor Americans above all her hosts of visitors. As an evidence of this she no longer requires a Swiss visa on your passport, but accepts your American passport as sufficient at her frontier. And the American passport is the only kind Switzerland accepts without a visa.

Reatha Watson

"You are too beautiful to live in a large city"—thus in January, 1914, did a judge from his bench make the amazing beauty of Reatha Watson a stigma. He banished her to her home at El Centro, Calif. She was then sixteen. Eight years ago she thought her beauty was a hindrance. Today it is the "movie" star's fortune.

DR. MAUD HAWLEY RETURNS TO PRACTICE

Dr. Maud Ingersoll Hawley has returned to Ashland after a sojourn of some months at Rogue Elk hotel on the Crater Lake highway, and is at the home of her father, V. V. Hawley, on Walker avenue. Dr.

Hawley, whose fondness for "hiking" is well known, is enthusiastic over her recent taste of out door life after many years of indoor work, and she has decided not to re-open an office in Ashland, but to become instead a "visiting" chiropractic physician, treating her patients in their own homes.

A visiting physician should prove a boon to many busy Ashland housewives, who find it difficult to spare from their work the time necessary to dress and go to an office several times a week for treatments. Dr. Hawley's past work is so favorably known in Ashland that it needs no comment, other than to say that, in view of it, a great future is predicted for her in her new field of endeavor.
