MAKE STRIDES IN CANCER RESEARCH

Artificial Tumors Produced in White Rats by Infesting Them With Parasites.

X-RAY MACHINE IS IMPROVED

Rays of Unusual Power Developed by Recently Perfected Apparatus Will Greatly Aid in Cures— Is Notable Advance.

New York.—What is called "a most important and far-reaching contribution to cancer research" is made known by Dr. Francis Cartor Wood, director of the Columbia University Institute of Cancer Research, endowed by George Crocker, in a report to President Nicholas Murray Butler.

Doctor Wood states that two of the workers in the Columbia laboratories, Dr. Frederick D. Bullock and Miss M. R. Curtis, Ph. D., both ranking as associate in cancer research, have discovered a means of producing cancer artificially in rats, large numbers of which are constantly used in Columbia's work of cancer research. "After five years of hard work," says Doctor Wood, "Doctors Bullock and Curtis have finally shown that if white rats be infested with the eggs of a certain parasite and kept for a period of not less than eight months, tumors will develop about the areas in which the parasites are present, and that these tumors are virulent cancers which rapidly kill the animals in which they start and can easily be transplanted to others.

"This is not the first time that cancer has been produced artificially. It is just 146 years since the London surgeon Pott showed that certain types of cancer follow certain occupations in which irritating substances come in contact with the body. The best known of these types of cancer is the chimney-sweeps' cancer, which developed to such an extent in England that laws were passed regulating the conditions under which chimney sweeping could be done.

Names Forms of Cancers. "Other forms of irritation cancer are the well-known Kangri basket cancer of the Kashmir native, the betel-nut cancer on the inner surface of the cheek among Malays and Filipinos, and the cancers following chronic X-ray dermatitis. It has also been known that it is possible to obtain a considerable number of cancers in animals by inbreeding cancerous strains, but some years are required to get enough stock, the number of tumors so obtained is not always large, and the time of their appearance cannot be determined, so that experiments requiring many tumors cannot be planned.

"Another means of inducing cancer has been by painting the skin of an animal with tar. This experiment is based upon the observation that workers in briquette factories, where the skin of the hands is constantly in contact with tar, not infrequently develop cancer. Professor Fibiger of Copenhagen has shown also that cancers can be produced in the stomachs of rats by feeding the animals on a certain parasite, but here also the actual percentage of production is small.

"In the method devised in this laboratory, however, the yield is very considerable, over half the animals of a certain strain developing cancer. Doctor Wood quotes Dr. J. A. Murray, director of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, London, a noted investigator of cancer, as saying recently that "one of the great disadvantages which retards progress in the study of cancer is the absence of a means of producing the diseases at will in experimental animals."

"With the discovery made in this laboratory," Doctor Wood adds, "this disadvantage no longer exists." Doctor Wood reports the construction of a new machine through which, during the coming winter, will be added "new and important facts to the very vital question of the treatment of cancer by X-ray."

Seek High-Power X-Rays. "There has been under consideration for some time," he continues, discussing experimental work, "the erection of an apparatus for the production of a direct current at high voltages in order to produce X-rays of unusual power, as the limitations of the commercial machine in certain modes of treatment are obvious.

"The matter had been discussed in an informal way during the last two or three years with a number of experts, among them Professor Duane and Professor Davis, and at the last annual meeting of the Crocker board it was proposed that the accrued income of the Bondy fund be devoted to the construction of a more powerful constant current X-ray apparatus than had yet been attempted, with the necessary equipment to permit of accurate determinations in physical units of the exact quantity of radiation given off by the X-ray tubes.

"Many unforeseen difficulties in the obtaining of equipment and materials have, of course, arisen, as is usual in the construction of research apparatus; but the machine has already been run for considerable periods, delivering a continuous current at high voltages, and gives promise that it will shortly be capable of furnishing not less than 200,000 volts with considerable amperage, and do this for such long periods of hours or even days as may be necessary in the experimental work."
