ASHLAND ELKS QUINTET WINS

The Ashland Elks basketball team was again victorious over the Medford Legion team in a close game played at Medford Saturday night. The Medford aggregation started with a rush and gained a good lead, the score being 18 to 11 in their favor at the end of the first half. The Purple and White of Ashland came back strong in the second half and soon evened up the score and then gained the lead which they held until the end of the game, the final score being 28 to 26. The game was hotly contested from beginning to end and the speedy floor work and basket shooting brought the crowd to their feet time and again. It would be hard to pick out any particular star playing in either team, as all played good, consistent basketball throughout the game.

The Medford and Ashland players had the misfortune of being robbed of all their small change during the first half of the game, as someone entered the dressing room through a window and went through the clothing, taking all the money from the pockets, but leaving the watches and jewelry. The money was not recovered.

The line-up was as follows:
Substitutions: Elks—Clary for Bentley; Bentley for Clary. Legion—Muirhead for Watson; Phipps for Sherwood; Narregan for Williamson; Williamson for Phipps; Watson for Muirhead.
Referee—Seely Hall.

AS COMET SWINGS ITS TAIL

Speed Records of Celestial Bodies Are All Broken When They Turn Around the Sun.

One of the most remarkable things about comets is the presence of a tail. Not that all have them. Many possess such appendages, and some make marvelous displays. However, the tail appears to be a transient affair somehow due to the comet's proximity to the sun. A periodic comet which displays a magnificent tail at one apparition may show little or nothing of this character upon another occasion.

As a typical comet swings swiftly around the sun, the tail seems to swing around as well. Always it stretches from the comet in a direction away from the sun. As the tail may be many millions of miles in length, an explanation is needed to cover the question as to how it is possible in a few days to swing the tail through an arc of 180 degrees. Some comets are extraordinarily rapid movers as they round the sun. Thus, the periodic comet of 1843 reached, in its swing round, the wonderful velocity of 300 miles per second. However, it is more particularly the rapid angular swing of the tail that needs explanation. If the tail is precisely the same object throughout, a 72-hour swing of a hundred million miles of tail through two right angles would mean that the terminal particles covered an arc considerably over 150,000,000 miles long at the rate of some 600 miles per second.—Scientific American.

AGED MAN WOULD SEE WORLD

Turkish Methuseleh, at 146, Refuses to Consider Himself as Too Old to Travel.

A modern Methuseleh, reputed to be the oldest man on earth, has started out to see the world before he gets "too old to travel." Zora Mehmed, one hundred and forty-six years old, of Constantinople has arrived in Paris, Zora, who has been working pretty consistently for 140 years, is in excellent health and boasts of being able to carry a 200-pound weight.

Zora produces identification papers to prove he was born in 1775, and he refers to his closest competitor for longevity honors, a Sioux Indian in the United States, aged one hundred and thirty-seven years, as "a mere boy." Zora has a son ninety-five years old, and he has so many descendants that he long ago lost count.

The aged Turk is a skeptic on the subject of matrimony. Having tried the experience four times, he says he speaks with a certain amount of authority.

"Women," said Zora, shaking his head bitterly, "women, they may seem as sweet as the rosy dawn, but, verily, they are more often like thorns, hidden only by a rosy exterior."

Nose-Tip Vaccination.
The aged Japanese statesman had a little, saucer-shaped scar on the tip of his nose.

"All we Japanese of the older generation have this scar," he said. "It's our vaccination mark."
"Merely?"
"Yes, it's our vaccination mark. In the old days, when compulsory vaccination first came in, we vaccinated everybody on the tip of the nose. Why? Well, because it was a good place—no movement there, you see, to rub off the scab. Also because a vaccination mark on the nose tip was easily identified by the medical officer—no need to take off half your clothes in order to prove that you'd been vaccinated."

New United States Hospitals.
Before the year ended the United States public health service had added three more hospitals to the fourteen it had opened since January 1 last. It is also preparing nine other hospitals, four of which will probably be opened by May 1 and the others a little later. All of these hospitals have either been leased from private owners or taken over from the army or the navy, the new construction authorized by congress at the extra session not yet being well under way.

Hospitals planned to be opened for 1922 include the tuberculosis hospitals at beautiful Dawson Springs, Ky.; Excelsior Springs, Mo., and Rutland, Mass., with a total of 920 beds; the general hospitals at Fort Walla Walla, Wash., and at Norfolk, Va., with a total of 1,240 beds, and the neuro-psychiatric hospital in the Bronx, New York city, with 1,000 beds.

Cold Reception.
"I have some lines addressed to D'Annunzio," said the timorous visitor. "Well, he isn't here," snapped the hard-hearted editor. "The last time I heard of 'Gabe' he was getting his mail at Flume, but I understand he is going to leave and I don't know where he wants it forwarded."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

New York Turns to Concrete.
A reinforced concrete building sixteen stories high is to be built in the leather district of New York city, just below the Brooklyn bridge. This is a record height for such a structure on Manhattan island, where concrete has been used sparingly and only for lofts and factories.

TYPICAL STYLES AS SHOWN IN TAILORED FROCKS OF WOOL

INTEREST has not been centered so much during the past few seasons on the graceful long-line dresses that have won the devotion of women as on their decoration. Fabrics have been still less important, but the coming of spring will change all this, so the fashion prophets say—it is to be a colorful season and its rosy dawn is painting the horizon with many hues.

There is no reason to think that the silhouette will be changed, but even in such durable and usually sedate goods as English or Scotch tweeds, colors are novel; we find delft blue, sea green and violet among them to be used in suits and tailored dresses. There are some new wool weaves that look like velvet, and several novelty rough effects, and designers think especially well of black and white checks. With all this furor for color the black gown still holds its own.

Two smart all-day frocks, as shown in the picture above, reveal much attention to line and little to decoration. The long flaring sleeve, in the gown at the left, might introduce a vivid color in the chiffon facing if one chooses black or other dark color. It is predicted that navy blue will be less in demand than it has been. This frock has the fashionable plaited panel that is introduced in so many ways and often falls free from the waist down. A very handsome grille of silk cord and beads is worn with it.

Another straight-line dress is a better model for slender figures, with its skirt gathered to a loose bodice and set on with piping. Plaits are introduced at each side in the skirt.

Veiled Woman Ruler of Million in India

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The Princess of Wales has just ended a visit to what is regarded as a very advanced woman in India.

She is a ruler of a million people. Her authority is absolute, and she has powers of life and death. She may pass on her name and title to a daughter under the old plan of matrilineal inheritance. She keeps her own name in marriage. Her husband is given a lesser place in the court.

What more could the most fiery feminist ask? Yet this powerful woman ruler, Jehan, the begum of Bhopal, does not succumb to one temptation of today: She never exposes her skin in public. So that no one could possibly gain a glimpse of her veiled face a special bodyguard accompanied her to the coronation of King George in 1911.

Lives in Splendor
Beautiful white silk fashions her usual robe, and she lives in splendor. Rich fabrics and gold embroideries hand on her palace walls. Sunny white courtyards, with scarlet pathways, brilliant fountains and birds enhance her existence, the end of which is the happiness of her subjects.

To do honor to the visiting prince her court has been gathered. He will see the glories of Durbar hall.

The begum's secluded life does not prevent her from being one of England's most valuable vassals. In travel she rides at the head of her troops, her eyes blazing through the peepholes in her headdress. She has founded and supported hospitals, schools, state railways and police systems.

Treat Catarrh new way

Head colds, too, yield to the double action of Vicks VapoRub

Apply Vicks up the nostrils. Snuff it well back. Also melt some Vicks in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the vapors. At night repeat and rub on neck. Vapors will be inhaled all night. Sufferers from chronic catarrh will get welcome relief and better sleep thru this treatment, and persistency will be well rewarded.
Head colds are checked or completely warded off if thus treated at the onset. Vicks combines in salve form the old, time-tested remedies—Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Oil of Turpentine. It is the most universal treatment today for all cold troubles as well as cuts, bruises and itching skin troubles.
