RANCHER TO HAVE RADIOPHONE IN ROOM AT HOTEL

Harry Rosenberg, of Medford, has returned from New York and Chicago, where he studied fruit conditions, and also purchased a radiophone, called the most marvelous of modern inventions, which he will install in his room at the Medford hotel. By means of the radiophone, which is a highly developed wireless, he will be able to hear distinctly lectures, concerts, speeches and vaudeville, the range of the instrument including territory from Mexico to Canada and as far east as the Rocky mountains.

The performance of the Chicago grand opera at Portland the latter part of this month, will be heard through a radiophone. Every week day night, the dance orchestra of the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, gives a concert for the radiophone. On other nights singing and talking numbers of Orpheum vaudeville are sent broadcast.

The radiophone has taken the east by storm, and they have been purchased as fast as manufactured. The one bought by Mr. Rosenberg is now en route, and is believed to be the first one to be installed in southern Oregon. In last week's Literary Digest there was a description of the radiophone and a map showing the sections served. For instance, the Rogue river valley will be able to hear the Los Angeles and Seattle stations, and as far as Denver, if air conditions are right.

Marie E. Falldine, public health nurse for Jackson county, has made the following report of the work done during the year ending with February:

Nursing visits—76. Instructive visits, including visits to general and tubercular cases—188. Social service calls, visits of investigation, visits to doctors, business calls, etc.—322. Infant and child welfare visits—96. Prenatal visits—12. Visits to schools—78. Home visits in regard to school children—34. Total number of visits—866.

Number of children inspected for symptoms of physical defects—1349. Number of patients examined by physicians at clinics—131. Number of clinics held throughout the county—8.

Community group meetings—29. Follow-up weighing and measuring meetings have been held after each clinic.

During the past year four patients have been sent to Portland for hospitalization under the crippled children's law; three patients have been placed in the tuberculosis hospital at Salem; five have been placed in the home for the feeble-minded, and applications are in for two more. Five patients have been sent to local hospitals, two for operations and three for regular hospital care.

Of the 1349 children inspected symptoms of defects were found as follows:

- Defective teeth . . . . . 400
Defective tonsils . . . . . 208
Defective nasal breathing, 70
Enlarged glands . . . . . 46
Defective hearing . . . . . 127
Defective vision . . . . . 305
Other defects . . . . . 105

Total, 1261

I feel that Ashland is in need of a community nurse. The school boards of Medford and Ashland have their nurse, but even this is not enough to meet the growing demands for help and instruction. We need to develop more of our clinics, not only for the two large centers, but in the various communities. Medford, with her large number of school children needs her school nurse as well as a community nurse, and I feel that it is the task of the organizations to work out plans during the coming year to meet the demands throughout the county.

Regular meetings of the executive committee should be held every two months, with reports of standing committees as routine business. Also we must keep largely to our schedule with our community group meetings and enlarge our groups—planning definite and interesting programs for each meeting.

We need to branch out and come in closer touch with other county organizations and hope that plans might be made for lay members to attend the conferences throughout the year. The work which has been accomplished during the past year has been made possible through the splendid work of the various community groups, the co-operation of the Red Cross, the doctors throughout the county, the teachers in the schools, and the various organizations in the county, and I wish at this time to express my great appreciation to all who have helped carry on the work during the past year. Respectfully submitted. MARIE E. FALLDINE, County Public Health Nurse.

PORTLAND OPERA GREATEST SOCIETY EVENT OF YEARS

PORTLAND, March 8.—With mail orders for tickets pouring in from all over the northwest, the engagement of Mary Garden and the world famous Chicago Grand Opera company of 311 persons at the public auditorium March 22 to 25, is an assured success, according to word that has gone out from the offices at the auditorium. Already practically every city and town in the northwest is represented in the mail order list.

The Chicago company closed its annual engagement in New York February 25 and started immediately on its annual tour, traveling in three special passenger trains de luxe and one special train of 17 baggage cars of scenery, costumes, etc.

The western season will be opened at Portland March 22. The only other cities on the coast to be visited by the company are San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Portland contract calls for the entire Chicago company and all its equipment and five of the company's greatest operas, Monna Vanna, Lohengrin (in English), Romeo and Juliet, Thais and Aida. The company will come with 45 world stars, including Mary Garden, Lucien, Muratore, Edith Mason, Rosa Raisa, Georget Baklanoff, Forrest Lamont, Margery Maxwell and many other famous artists; an orchestra of 76 pieces; a chorus of 70, ballet of 30, 76 stage hands and a great group of other help.

The Portland engagement is to cost $72,500, which amount has been guaranteed by 40 Portland business men. They hope to make it the greatest musical and operatic event the northwest has had, as well as a great success from an attendance standpoint.

Income tax facts. To avoid penalty, income tax returns must be in the hands of collectors of internal revenue on or before midnight, March 15, 1933.

Every taxable return must be accompanied by a payment of at least one-fourth of the total tax due. Extensions of time for filing returns are allowed only in exceptional cases, illness, absence, etc. Applications for extensions under these circumstances should be addressed to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives. No extension beyond 30 days can be granted by a collector. Requests for further extensions must be addressed to the commissioner of internal revenue, Washington, D. C.

For failure to make a return on time, the penalty is a fine of not more than $1000, plus 25 per cent of the tax due.

For failure to pay tax when due or for understatement of the tax through negligence there is a penalty of 5 per cent of the tax plus interest at 1 per cent a month until paid.

For making a false or fraudulent return the penalty is a fine of not more than $10,000, or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the cost of prosecution and an additional assessment of 50 per cent of the amount of tax paid.
