What Constitutes Advertising
 In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule, which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future events, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken IS ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals.
 All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.
 All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, initiation charged, or collection taken IS NEWS.

Entered at the Ashland, Oregon, Postoffice as Second-class Mail Matter.

THAT NEW NEWSPAPER
 One thing can be pretty surely depended on. Whenever you find E. V. Carter on one side of any local or political issue, you may fairly depend on it that the same side will be taken by the Wagners, the Pierces, the Kinneys, the Briggs, the Simpsons, the Winters the Mills the Eubanks. For the past ten years, since the writer has had knowledge of the political manipulations of the Carter crowd, at least whenever you ask Carter who would make a good candidate for, whatsoever office you will, he will never go outside of that crowd to name his man. Mr. Carter can depend upon men from any of these families to represent his policies, whatever they be, and he is so constituted that he does not go far from home to choose when political subservience is needed. Carter is bound to be the boss, or he refuses to play the game. Therefore, it may be depended upon that the new newspaper, which Mr. Carter thinks "Ashland needs more than a hotel," will be financed largely by that crowd and will represent their interests exclusively. Of course, they may try to camouflage by getting others interested in a financial way—especially business men who might be advertisers—but the new newspaper, if it starts, will be a hand organ of that interest, just as the Tidings was solely representative of that interest until Mr. Greer bought it. When Mr. McCoy complained that "Greer would not take advice from anybody" in his speech at the Armory, he merely used the word "advice" instead of DICTATION, because it sounded better to the casual listeners. That crowd insists on DICTATION. They can never DICTATE to Greer. That's why they will have another newspaper in Ashland, and when they do we sincerely hope that they will finance it themselves and not catch a lot of "innocent bystanders" in it, because they will soon discover how much money loss it will require to put a new newspaper on its feet. We have seen it tried before.
 Moreover, from the complaints against the Tidings that has emanated from that source in the past, in regard to what the Tidings classes as advertising and what it prints free, we would judge that it is their idea that a newspaper can be produced on very little revenue, and that to charge for what is legitimate advertising, in their estimation is "graft." Well, it is our guess that after they have financed their new organ for a few months and heard the S. O. S. call to make up the deficiency pay roll every Saturday evening, they will discover that it costs from $75 to $100 a day to produce a daily like the Tidings and that it cannot be done, in this field, unless practically everything that is advertising is charged for.

But that crowd is bound to have, not a newspaper, but an organ. They want a newspaper that will be absolutely subservient to their crowd. Let them have it. They are welcome to it, as far as the Tidings is concerned. This paper will go right on championing the interest of Ashland as a whole, instead of a clique, and, we hope, and think, that it will do pretty well judging from the temper of the citizens of this splendid city.

However should they decide that they want a newspaper to be fair instead of subservient, they do not need another paper, the Tidings can absolutely be depended on to be fair with every citizen, including themselves, as long as they work in the interest of the town and play their cards on top of the table.

A BROAD MINDED INDUSTRIAL PROGRAM

No city in the United States typifies the industrial idea as does Los Angeles.
 With the largest Chamber of Commerce in the world, it is backing its industrial program to the limit.
 Los Angeles realizes that, while it may have the finest climate, the finest homes and the greatest drawing cards for tourists; still, its permanent and lasting prosperity comes from substantial operating industries which mean steady employment for that great middle class of people which are the backbone of any substantial community.
 Los Angeles, in building for the future considers all of southern California in its program. It realizes that its growth will be in proportion to the expansion and development of industries and farming in surrounding counties.
 As a result, its Chamber of Commerce is spreading the industrial idea far and wide and working not only for the upbuilding of its own local industries, but for the upbuilding of industries in any part of southern California.
 This is community building on a large scale. It represents the greatest effort that has ever been put forth by a commercial organization for general industrial development as the forerunner of community prosperity.

COLLEGE WOMEN'S BUSINESS MEETING

The College Women's club met Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. E. H. Hurd, in Medford. After a brief business meeting in charge of the president, Mrs. Amos Willetts, a delightful program was given with Mrs. Malgram as chairman.
 The first number was a song, "It Matters Not," the words of which were written by Mr. R. P. Campbell, and the music composed by Mrs. E. A. Woods. Mrs. Perry Ashcraft sang this and Mrs. Woods played the accompaniment. So exquisite is the haunting beauty of the harmony and words that at the close of the program, at the earnest request of all, Mrs. Ashcraft sang it through the second time. Miss Rogers, of the Ashland high school, gave a reading by Bruno Lessing, "The End of the Task." Miss Rhea gave an explanatory talk regarding the biology work she is teaching in the Ashland high school. Mrs. R. E. Hurd, who with her husband and baby, was lately returned from Peru where, before her marriage, she founded and conducted a school at Lima for girls under the direction of the Methodist church, gave an interesting account of the home life of the Peruvian women.
 Mrs. Ashcraft sang another delightful little song, the music for which was composed by Mrs. Woods, and the words written by Grace Hall of Portland. The Ashland ladies present were justly proud of the local talent displayed on this program.
 During the social hour refreshments were served with the following members as hostesses, Mesdames E. H. Hurd, E. E. Kelly, F. G. Newman, James Campbell, and Misses Manning and Heywood.
 It was announced that the next meeting will be held in Medford at the residence of Mrs. Stearns.

EXTENSIVE PATROL FOR HIGHWAYS

SALEM, Or., March 14.—With the motor tourist season only a few weeks away, the state traffic department has practically completed preparations to carry on the most extensive highway patrol service ever attempted by the department. This was announced Saturday by T. A. Rafferty, chief inspector of the state motor vehicle department.
 The entire state has been divided into districts and a traffic operative has been assigned to each. Josephine, Jackson, Curry and part of Klamath county has been assigned to J. J. McMahon. This is known as district number 8 and includes a large part of the Pacific highway in southern Oregon.

Mrs. J. J. Walker Dies at Talent

Mrs. J. J. Walker, of Talent, died at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, aged 40 years, nine months and 27 days.
 Mrs. Walker was born in California, but moved here a number of years ago. She was well known in Ashland, having lived here until a few months ago, when, with her family, she moved to Talent. About two months ago she was taken ill with influenza and this developed into pneumonia, which, with other troubles she had been suffering with for some time, was more than her system could throw off.
 Funeral arrangements have not been completed at this time and will be announced later.

Golden Rule to Open Store Soon

The Golden Rule department store which is now refitting the interior of the rooms recently rented in the Elks building, will be ready to open its doors for business in the very near future, although the exact date is not yet known.
 The room will be completely finished in white, as will the show windows, thereby giving the place the appearance of cleanliness as nothing else would do.
 The store will handle men's clothing and furnishings, ladies' ready-to-wear garments, dry goods and notions of every description. Wiggle House shoes for men, Maxine shoes for ladies and Buster Brown shoes for children will be handled.
 The store has a floor space of 4200 square feet, which will give it ample room for display tables as well as plenty of shelving for the goods.
 Stock is arriving daily and is being placed in position by Mr. Evans who will have charge of the store. C. W. Willock, manager of the Golden Rule store at Medford, is in the east buying goods for the store here, and this is assurance that the stock will be absolutely new.
 Announcement of the opening date will be made public as soon as the manager is able to set a definite date.

PORTLAND TO CHARGE AUTO CAMPERS 50 CENTS A DAY

PORTLAND, March 14.—As a means of placing the municipal camp ground on a self-sustaining basis, in accordance with the demand of the tax conservation and supervision committee, City Commissioner Pier has drafted an ordinance changing the rates to 50 cents a day with a time limit of ten days, which can be increased by the park bureau.
 Heretofore the city has charged but 50 cents to tourists for a ten-day stay at the camp. This charge was designated as a registration fee. But all tourists who frequented the camp were given privileges, including gas for cooking, laundry facilities, automobile washracks, restrooms and community houses, and, in fact, far more facilities than are found in the average camps of its kind.

PROMINENT FRUIT FARMER TAKES LIFE AT LEBANON

LEBANON, Or., March 14.—F. M. Sherman, a well-known farmer of Linn county, was found dead in his back yard Saturday, with a shotgun by his side and a wound in his breast.
 For many years Mr. Sherman has been one of the most prominent small fruit farmers in this section, and had made many exhibits at the state fair, where he had won prizes for his exhibits.
 He is survived by his widow and two stepchildren. He was about 50 years old.

The KITCHEN CABINET

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union
 I would sing for you a song
 Full of foreign airs,
 Full of towers and balconies
 And fine Damascus wares.
 In my song would glitter
 Minaret and dome,
 So you could go journeying,
 Yet I should have you home.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

For those fond of chocolate cake, one made in layers and put together with orange filling will be delightful. Take the rind of one orange, grated, two tablespoonsful of lemon juice, one-half cupful of sugar, well blended with two table-spoonfuls of flour and a dash of salt, the juice of two oranges and one-quarter of a cupful of cold water and one well beaten egg yolk. Cook until smooth and thick; cool before putting on to the cake. Lemon filling may be prepared using the rind and juice of one lemon and one-half cupful of water with the other ingredients as above. A table-spoonful of butter added to the hot mixture just as it is taken from the heat softens and enriches the filling.
 Boiled Milk Icing.—Take one cupful of sugar, four table-spoonfuls of milk and cook until a soft ball is made when a drop is placed in cold water. Take from the heat and beat until cold and thick enough to stay on the cake.
 Another good icing is made by using one-fourth of a cupful of maple sirup and enough confectioners' sugar to make it stiff enough.
 Fig Filling.—Take one cupful of finely minced figs, add one-third of a cupful of sugar, one-third of a cupful of water and one table-spoonful of lemon juice. Heat in a double boiler and cook until thick enough to spread. Place on the cake while hot.
 Date Filling.—Whip the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth, add one cupful of granulated sugar, flavor with lemon and stir in one-third of a cupful each of raisins, dates and walnut meats finely minced. This is a delicious filling but should be eaten fresh.
 Eskimo Pie.—A new dessert which is having a great rage in some sections. To prepare dip small bricks of ice cream into a hot chocolate sauce. Repack and let stand until ready to serve.

TWO STATE INSTITUTIONS FACE DEFICIT FOR YEAR

SALEM, Or., March 14.—According to the records of the superintendents of the various state institutions, only two are facing a deficit and will have to call on the state emergency board for additional funds to run the balance of the year. These are the state training school and the school maintained for the deaf.
 Some of the institutional superintendents, including Dr. Steiner of the state hospital, have indicated that, despite the increase in population and the high costs of provisions and equipment, they will be able to turn back to the state substantial balances.

FARM REMINDERS

By O.-A. C. Experiment Station
 In keeping kale plants for seed, only low, thickly branched plants with many moderate sized leaves should be saved. These low growing heavy yielders produce the most feed and stand the hard winters best.

Small Spray Rigs Practical

Farmers or city dwellers having only a few fruit trees need not let their fruits be destroyed by diseases and insect pests because they lack a power sprayer. For a small number of trees, even a bucket pump rig will give good results, while its cost is slight. Materials can be purchased in small quantities in nearly every town, and any one can find out just what to get and when to apply it by reading the spray calendar which may be had free by writing to the O. A. C. experiment station.

Select Spud Patch With Care

Ground for the potato patch should be selected with care. Aside from matter of proper soil type it is important to use soil that is free from contamination with potato diseases. No land should be used that has been in potatoes within three years past if possible to avoid it. Growers should obtain disease-free seed at once and store it under proper conditions to insure firm potatoes at planting time.

Rid House Plants of Insects

Most of the insects affecting the foliage of house or yard plants, including scale, white fly, aphids and red spider, may be killed by bathing the plants in a soap and tobacco solution. To one quart of strong soap solution made from castile or other good hand soap, add 10 drops of Black Leaf 40, which can be obtained at the drug store. Bathe the plant thoroughly in this mixture and repeat the dose three times, leaving two weeks between applications.

RABIES EPIDEMIC IN EAST OREGON SPREADS

PORTLAND, March 13.—The epidemic of rabies reported from Harney county to the United States biological survey, predatory animal service, was said to have spread from Harney into Grant county and to be gaining considerable headway, according to information received by Stanley E. Jewett, chief of the predatory animal service.
 Rabid coyotes were reported to have been seen in various parts of Grant county. Many have grown so savage, the communication said, that they are entering houses and camps. Many sheep have been reported killed.
