GIRL IN ARBUCKLE CASE TOO SICK TO TESTIFY

NEW ORLEANS, March 23.—Miss Zey Provost, wanted in San Francisco as a material witness in the third trial of Roscoe Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, and who is registered at a local hotel under the name of Miss Zehelle Ellbury, was reported too ill yesterday to start for the Pacific coast.

Although a railroad ticket and necessary expense money have been provided by the California officials, the date of her departure or whether she will leave here at all are matters of conjecture.

Local officials assert they have no power to force Miss Provost to leave the city or detain her.

CUSTARD AND CUSTARD DESSERTS—Continued.

Floating Island
Two egg yolks, one egg, one and a half cups milk; one-third cup of sugar; one teaspoon vanilla.
Scald milk; beat yolks and eggs slightly; gradually add sugar. Pour hot milk over mixture; stir until sugar is dissolved; then cook over hot water until mixture is creamy and coats the spoon. Pour into a serving dish and add vanilla. Beat the whites of two eggs until stiff, gradually add two tablespoons of sugar. Drop by tablespoons into boiling water and cook under the boiling point for about three minutes. Remove with a skimmer and place on top of custard. Set aside to cool and just before serving place a teaspoonful of red jelly or jam in the center of each island.

Prune Whip
One cup prune pulp, three egg whites; half cup chopped walnuts; one teaspoon vanilla, one-third cup granulated sugar.
Put cooked pitted prunes through a coarse sieve. Beat whites of eggs very stiff with a whip egg-beater; fold in the sugar, prune pulp, chopped walnuts and vanilla. Pile lightly in a baking-dish and bake in a pan of hot water about 30 minutes in a rather slow oven until perfectly firm. Serve cold with whipped cream or a custard sauce made of two of the egg yolks. Any other cooked fruit may be used.

Apricot Souffle
Three eggs, separated, one-third cup sugar, one cup cooked apricots, two tablespoons finely chopped almonds, one teaspoonful pineapple flavoring.

Beat whites of eggs very stiff with a whip egg-beater; beat yolks with rotary egg beater until creamy. Add sugar gradually to egg yolks; beat well, add apricots that have been passed through a coarse sieve, nuts and flavoring. Carefully fold in the egg whites. Pile in a baking dish, set in a pan of hot water, and bake in a moderate oven until firm in the center. Serve hot with a sauce made from the apricot juice.

Junket
Two cups milk, half cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one junket tablet, one teaspoon vanilla.

Heat the milk to lukewarm only; add sugar and salt. Crush the junket tablet, add to mixture and stir until dissolved; add vanilla (which may be omitted for young children). Pour into a serving dish and let stand in a warm place until thick. Junket is quite different from the usual form of dessert, as it is kept warm in order to thicken. The rennet will not thicken the milk if it is cold or hot; it must only be lukewarm. Junket may be served plain or with cream, whipped or plain.

BREWER LOBBYISTS TELL HOW TO PAY BONUS BILL

By W. H. ATKINS

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23. Prohibition, like politics, is producing strange bed-fellows. The brewers have joined in the war on home brewing. They say the government is losing revenue. Few will doubt that. But get inside the big tent and listen to the brewery champions. Some of the ablest in their ranks are in Washington. Congress knows it, and as the demands increase for some modification of the Volstead law, congress is weighing some of the brewers' claims.

While congress is pulling its collective hair, trying to wiggle in and around the bonus problem, the brewers step right up and point the way out of the dilemma. The brewers have bombarded congress with a neat digest of the tax problem and how to solve it. The brewers say the way out is to increase the alcoholic content of cereal non-intoxicating beverages to 2 1/2 per cent, and thereby enrich the United States treasury by $500,000,000 a year.

SCIENTIFIC GHOST SEEKER RETURNS HOME "HAUNTED"

NEW YORK, March 23.—Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, recently went to investigate the ghosts, while yesterday it was revealed that the ghosts are investigating Dr. Prince. Dr. Prince's ghost, from his statements, rocks his bed until he gets seaskick, taps on walls and windows, imitates a peg-legged man walking on the floor above the haunted bedroom and gives other unearthly demonstrations of its presence.

IN DANCE FROCKS

Constant Demand for the Decorative Little Gowns.

Paris Has Run on Orchid and Petunia Tints—Dazzling Colors Have Prominence.

On the Riviera—as elsewhere—writes a Paris fashion correspondent, frocks are in constant demand, decorative little gowns suitable for dance teas, and more elaborate, but not really very different, toilettes for the evening.

And just here I must pause a second to point out that it becomes more and more the fashion to wear frocks at dance teas, which the girls of a few years ago would have considered sufficiently gorgeous for evening use.

Paquin's latest dance frock is a delicately girlish affair, expressed in petunia-colored lace and charmeuse, with clusters of black waxed flowers trailing carelessly down the front.

The manner in which simple draperies were arranged was the important thing. The uneven hem, which is still at the height of its popularity, was in evidence, and the long-waisted effect was varied by the introduction of a drapery which crossed the figure

Dance Frock of Petunia Lace and Charmeuse With Clusters of Black Waxed Flowers.

In front at a sharp angle, falling low at the right side.

This dress was absolutely sleeveless and the corsage was faultless of trimming.

This particular style had taken root. One sees it exploited in the very best showrooms. In fact, a trimmed corsage would look old-fashioned nowadays.

There is a run on the orchid and petunia tints. Certain famous dressmakers are trying to make very brilliant, almost crude colors fashionable, but the majority of the exclusive women prefer the subtle shades of puce-pink, petunia, blue, lemon yellow and so on.

FASHION NOTES OF INTEREST

Lightweight wool jersey cloth continues to be popular in utility frocks for children. Hat pins have pendants of jade or pearl. Also millady may have hat pins and earrings to match!

Informal evening frocks for summer promise to be sparkling affairs of crepe decorated with beads.

Applied motifs and heavy embroideries continue to be the popular trimmings for silk, cotton and wool fabric dresses for children.

White and black and high shades share honors for spring and summer, those of the sport type leaning decidedly to the bright colors. Green will be exceedingly popular, and there are a number of vivid reds.

While the straight-line chemise type of dress continues a favorite, there are also many that feature a waistline. The very low waistline is most frequently seen, but the frock that is gathered or belted in at or near the normal waistline is not at all unusual.

White gowns of a more formal type heavily trimmed in crystals seem to be popular and are made along straight lines with perhaps some slight draping at one hip which is caught with an ornament finished in a long spray of flowers. Many of these dresses have trains.

Smart Spring Wardrobe.
A smart spring wardrobe should include a cape dress, and for the early days of the season kimmer is suggested for trimming, according to the Designer. Black kasha cloth with a cape lined with colored crepe de chine is smart, or omitting the kimmer, it can be made entirely of crepe de chine, crepe faille, satin, taffeta or broadcloth, duvetyne, tricotine, chevot or jersey. Inserted side sections give the effect of a paneled skirt. Lower edge about two yards.
