Fraternal Orders and Societies
 Advertising for fraternal orders or societies charging a regular initiation fee and dues, no discount. Religious and benevolent orders will be charged the regular rate for all advertising when an admission or other charge is made.

What Constitutes Advertising
 In order to allay a misunderstanding among some as to what constitutes news and what advertising, we print this very simple rule, which is used by newspapers to differentiate between them: "ALL future news, where an admission charge is made or a collection is taken IS ADVERTISING." This applies to organizations and societies of every kind as well as to individuals.

All reports of such activities after they have occurred is news.
 All coming social or organization meetings of societies where no money contribution is solicited, initiation charged, or collection taken IS NEWS.

AUTO CAMP FEE
 The wisdom of imposing a fee of 50 cents a day on tourists camping in our auto park would seem to be a debatable question which should be thoroughly threshed out, before the park commissioners make their decision. There are many who feel that in imposing the fee we are shutting the door on the most effective means we have of advertising Ashland, and that the return expected will not by any means compensate for the loss of that advertising.

In the conference recently held at Roseburg, one of the arguments advanced for the imposition of the 50 cents fee was, that no good reason could be shown why a city should furnish free camping accommodations for tourists, any more than it should be called upon to furnish free garages for the sake of attracting them, but the principal argument, and that which found most favor among the delegates, was the assertion that the taxpayers would be relieved of the burden of paying the expenses of keeping up the auto parks.

Some of the park commissioners believe this sufficient reason for charging the fee. On the other hand it is pointed out by those who are against inaugurating the fee system, that if the fee of 50 cents is imposed, no charge can be made for fuel or gas, and when the cost of these important items are deducted from the 50 cent fee, it will be found that there will be mighty little left to defray the expense attendant upon the upkeep of the park. At Albany they have decided not only to stand by the old system of free camping grounds, but they announce that considerable money will be spent this year in making the auto camp more attractive than ever.

gery to a car, it would seem as if the city had more than 10,000 auto visitors. It is easy to figure of what immediate benefit they were to the city on a basis of seven dollars a head. It means that approximately $70,000 were spent here during the season.

To what extent this would be diverted is problematical. The auto tourists might cheerfully pay the fee and think they were getting good value for their money. On the other hand it is not at all improbable that their camps will be pitched along the roadways and the autos will pass through instead of stopping at Ashland.

Mary Garden kissed the governor of Oregon on her arrival in Portland the other day, and an exchange says it now understands why there is such a flock of candidates for the executive chair.

The man whose eagle eye prompts the expression, "there it goes," is not one-tenth as valuable to the community as the fellow who can be depended upon to see it coming. "There it goes," is all right, but "here it comes," is better.

"He who in this world would rise Must either bust or advertise." The fellow who winked at his best girl in the dark is just about in the same relative position as the business man who is "agin' advertising." He knows what he is doing, but nobody else does.

The Jacksonville Post tells of how a mother—God bless her for her good sense—cured her hopeful of the cigarette habit merely by the laying on of hands. She laid her left hand on the boy's neck, her right hand on a piece of harness tug, and then, bending him down over a barrel, she applied the tug where it did the most good. It effected a cure, but the boy was obliged to take his meals for a few days while standing.

BOOTLEGGERS' POISONS MENACE SIGHT, LIFE, REASON

According to chemical experts of the prohibition enforcement bureau, fusel oil in sufficient quantities, or taken steadily in even small quantities, results in a super-powerful stimulation of the organic parts of the body, which causes the reactive speedy decay of these organs. It specializes upon nervous systems attacks. It eats up the nerve tissues by overstimulating them and may eventually result in a complete nervous collapse, insanity and locomotor ataxia. There's a list of many other complications for fusel oil users, but the foregoing are the principal ones.

Wood alcohol, according to the same authorities, simply eats away the optic nerves, rendering blindness more of a probability than a possibility. It also gets to work on the general points of the system, creating such perilous heart action that speedy death is often the result.

Formaldehyde is a special enemy of the blood and a tissue destructive agent. It cuts into the tissues of the throat, causing pain and soreness and often results in a loss of speech. It systematically tears down the human system eventually by eating up the structural tissues.

That's what the poison will do for one. As can be seen from this outline, the patron of the irresponsible bootlegger is liable to awaken some morning in the future writhing with tetanic convulsions or with the start of eye trouble which will end eventually in total blindness.

The distressing point is the apparent ease with which the ingredients work their harm to health. Their work may not be discernible for some months—possibly not for a few years. But the progress against health has been going on stealthily all the while. The poison causes eventual organic breakdowns, just as serious as if the concoctions had "knocked out" the imbibing one at the outset. The poison strikes from behind a veil, unseen and unfeared, until too late for a remedy.

APPLE AND PRUNE TREE SPRAY TIME ABOUT HERE
 Spraying time comes with growing time in Oregon. Indeed successful orchardists beat the first stirrings of nature and get their sprays on where protection is needed, while the buds are swelling, but before they burst open, says the experiment station reports.
 Protection of apples and pears against San Jose scale, blister mite and red spider mites is had by use of lime-sulfur 12-100 as a dormant spray. For scale only or for leaf roller of apples, miscible oil 8-100 is recommended.
 Delayed dormant spray time follows quickly on the heels of the dormant, especially in sudden bursts of good weather. When the cluster buds are separating just enough to expose to view the blossom buds is the time for this spray as per station reports. Lime sulfur 3 1/2-100 is the material. For aphids on apples add nicotine sulfate three-fourths pound to 100 gallons of spray solution.

COW GIVES 35 TONS MILK IN 7 YEARS STEADY RUN

"Willowmoor White Pride" is a pretty big name for a cow, but the O. A. C. station Ayrshire of that name seems to be doing her best to deserve it. In seven years she has produced $150 gallons of milk. If a man had credit with his local milkman for that amount he could draw a quart of milk twice a day for 45 years and never get a milk bill.

AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY
 As the owner of a motor car, all the hazards of the road are upon YOUR shoulders. Accidents do happen, and it makes no difference whether or not you are blameless, it costs money and time to defend the action. Then if in the opinion of the jury you are to blame, it costs money to settle the damages.
 You can have protection covering your legal liability for damages (proven or not proven) arising from personal injuries to other people suffered or alleged to have suffered by the operation of your car; we also furnish you protection against liability for all accidents involving damages to another's property, and the expense of the settlement of such claims. The cost is small. Better be safe than sorry. When you want good insurance talk with
