"Gentleman Jim" Corbett told the Kiwanis club at its luncheon at the Multnomah hotel Tuesday.

"Twenty of the best singers in the state." This is the way the men's glee club of the University of Oregon was characterized by Portland newspapers, after the club appeared at the Helig theater last month. Same program will be given in Ashland at the Armory Thursday night, March 30. 176-2

MAYOR PROCLAIMS APRIL FOURTH CLEAN UP DAY

To the Citizens of Ashland: Tuesday, April 4, is hereby designated as Clean-up Day throughout the city. Don't forget the date. Don't fail to make preparations for it. The city provides teams and trucks. They will call for your garbage some time during that day. Have it ready. Burn everything you can, then put the remainder of the garbage in boxes, bags or barrels and have them located where they can be easily seen and reached—in the alley—or in the street if there is no alley—and by all means have it ready for delivery early. Let's have our city presentable for the tourist travel which is growing greater every year. Our city has done more building, painting, repairing and cleaning up during the past year than for many years. May we continue the good work and hold first place as the most beautiful home city and tourist center on the coast. C. B. LAMKIN.

NEW BASKETBALL COACH AT MEDFORD

Followers of clean athletics in the Rogue River valley will note with satisfaction that Edwin R. Durno will coach Medford athletics next year. Mr. Durno is a graduate of the University of Oregon, class of 1921, and closely identified with college athletics during his four years of school life. Last year he coached the university freshman basketball team, bringing them through with flying colors. He is 23 years old and considered one of the best forwards that ever played basketball in Oregon. He succeeds Hollis Huntington as coach of the Medford high school. "Eddie," as he is commonly called, needs no introduction to basketball fans of Ashland, for he has refereed several of the basketball games played on Ashland and Medford floors, and his unfailing fairness to both sides brought to his support practically every fan that was following the game.

With Durno coaching Medford athletics, Ashland should be all the more able to develop the best she has and be accorded fair treatment by Medford teams, for it is beyond belief that Durno, like Coach Hughes, would allow anything but the very clearest play to be practiced. Basketball fans hope that with two of the best coaches in the state located in Medford and Ashland, the Rogue River valley will again have the honor of producing the state champions next year.

ETHEL BARRYMORE AT PAGE, MEDFORD, APRIL 3

No player coming to us in the course of the theatrical season is more welcome than Ethel Barrymore, the "foremost of our American actresses," who will be at the Page theater, Medford, Monday evening, April 3, in the play in which her success has become an important item of theatrical history. "Declassée," the play by Zoe Akins, in which for one entire season, Miss Barrymore appeared at the New York Empire theater. From early October of one year until late June of the next, New York theatergoers crowded the Empire to its capacity to see her magnificent performance as Lady Helen Hadden, the delightfully brilliant, beautiful, but reckless and unfortunate heroine of Miss Akins' gripping story. Scenes rare in the American theater became nightly occurrences throughout that extraordinary engagement, when audiences remained in the theater at the close of each performance to cheer the actress leaving only when the lights had been lowered.

Miss Barrymore's role in Miss Akins' play is one of the kind in which the numerous and devoted Barrymore following loves best to see her.

The Charles Frohman company has surrounded Miss Barrymore with a most capable and distinguished company. The principal male role is interpreted by Edward Emery, a splendid player with numerous emphatic successes to his credit. Henry Daniell, a young English actor of distinguished standing in London, was brought to this country especially for his present role in "Declassée." Other important roles are ably portrayed by Irby Marshall, Virginia Chauvenet, Gabrielle Ravine, Jane West, Mary R. DeWolf, Cyril Delevanti, Phillip Lord, Charles Wellesley, Hubbard Kirkpatrick, Alfred Hesse, W. G. Leith, Edward Le Hay, Ina Niland, Estelle Thebaud and numerous others. 177-1

Reports from the mouth of the Rogue river indicate that the chinook salmon are entering the river in large numbers. The salmon are not very plentiful in the upper river at this time, although a few have been seen. The fishing season at the mouth will open in a few weeks, at which time most of the fish will be taken.
