Don't Stub Your Toe!

NE dark night-so the story goes-a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or Columbia records reduced to 65e troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth-wiser than the rest-seized the stone and heaved it from his path. is very wide. Practically all sleeves. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

> Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in the Tidings? Do you read it—consistently? It is a bag of gold to many of our times such a sleeve is slit its entire readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert progressive merchants and manufacturers who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most-articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every day business proposition-a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay

MUCH INTEREST IN SLEEVES

The Wide, Flowing Wing Arm Cover ing is Featured in the Majority of Dresses.

Novel and interesting sleeves may certainly be recorded as one of the high lights of spring and summer styles, and the range of types featured except those shown in strictly tailored or sport suits, flare somewhere, and not infrequently there is a generous width from armhole to wrist.

Sleeves of the peasant type, quite full, but drawn into a narrow cuff at the wrist, are popular both in dresses and blouses, and variety is given to them by various slashings, so that the bare arm is visible. Somelength either on the inner or outer arm; sometimes it is fashioned of several strips or sections merely held together at the armhole and by the cuff, and again the sleeve will be slit from wrist to elbow only.

The leg-o'-mutton sleeve still attracts attention, but has not attained the vogue that was early predicted for it, and in formal gowns and handsome negligee garments wide, flowing wing sleeves are much featured.

WATER COLORS ON WALLS Mottled or Flecked Effect May Be Obtained by Using Sponge Cut

Across Grain.

A rather unusual, very artistic and much employed process in decorating walls, is that by which various colors are employed. First, the background of the plain flat desired tints is applied and this in turn mottled or flecked with one or two additional harmonizing colors applied with an open sponge cut across the grain so as to present a flat surface.

With this process, tiffanized effects, formerly done only with paint and at a considerable expenditure of time and money, may be produced quickly at a price that will be within reach of the humble homes and cottages. For this work, a water color wall decoration may be used instead of kalsomine. paint or wall paper.
