FIND PLEASURE IN PAINTING

Almost Every One Has at Some Time of Life Been Fond of Handling Bright Colors.

Nearly everybody likes to paint. We like to feel the paint flow from the brush and to see the dull, dirty surface we are painting covered with a smooth, brightly colored coating, which not only lends beauty to it, but protects it as well against the destructive influences of the weather and the corrosive gases in the air. It may be that the almost universal pleasure found in painting is an inherent trait, communicated to us through the centuries by our savage forefathers, who mixed pigment with fat or grease and smeared their bodies and faces with it. Paint is no modern invention; even white lead is of ancient origin, declares a New York Sun writer. The story is told of the wife of the famous Greek general, Xenophon, who had the habit of smearing white lead on her face and wearing high heels until her husband told her he thought her pretty enough as she was without the application of artificial aids to beauty.

USED "DOG-OIL" AS MEDICINE

Fearful and Wonderful Combination Recommended for the Treatment of Gunshot Wounds.

The great surgeon, Ambrose Pare, wrote the following about the year 1540: "When I was at Turin I found a surgeon named above all the rest for his treatment of gunshot wounds, into whose favor I found a way to insinuate myself, that I might have the recipe of his balm as he called it, wherewith he dressed these wounds. And he made me pay my court to him for two years, before I could possibly get the recipe out of him. In the end, thanks to my gifts and presents, he gave it to me, which was this, to boil down, in oil of lilies, young whelps just born, and earthworms prepared with Venice turpentine. Then was I joyful and my heart made glad, that I had learned his remedy." And the London Pharmacopoeia for the year 1650 contained a recipe for "dog oil," with the following ingredients: "Sallet oil, two pugny dogs newly whelped, earthworms washed in white wine and cyprus turpentine and spirit of wine."—Exchange.

New England's "Hobblebush." One of the oddest-mannered trees to be found in the New England countryside is the wayfaring tree, or hobblebush. The name is especially applicable, for the tree spreads out a branch till it touches the ground, then takes root right from the branch. The blossoms of the hobblebush are most effective, scores of flower wheels growing in plants, giving stunning masses of ivory white to the spring landscape, almost as soon as the snow has melted. The leaves themselves are brilliant green, and are very large. In autumn they turn a gorgeous garnet red, while where the lovely spring blossoms were appear clusters of apple-shaped berries blackish crimson in hue. So you see the hobblebush, despite its queer name and strange habits, is really very beautiful almost the whole year round.—Christian Science Monitor.

Proceedings Against Beetles. The "Memoires de la Societe Royal Academique de Savoie" give a curious account of proceedings taken against beetles in 1445 and 1487. They had committed great ravages in the St. Julian vineyards. Having listened to counsel on either side, the judge suggested that the vinegrowers should cede to the defendants land where they could live without trespassing on the vineyards; otherwise he ordered that the vineyards should be respected by the beetles under certain penalties. The beetles' lawyer protested that the land was barren, and the court appointed assessors to survey it. They reported favorably; but the beetles raised a legal quibble and so it went on, but what the upshot was is not known owing to the destruction of the document.

SOUR MILK COOKERY—Milk comes the nearest of all foods to being a complete diet in itself. Every drop should be utilized as food. This applies to skimmed milk, buttermilk and sour milk as well as whole sweet milk.

One and a half cups scalded milk, one cup sugar, three eggs, one teaspoon almond flavoring, one and a half cups cottage cheese. Beat eggs slightly; gradually add sugar; pour hot milk over mixture; add cheese and flavoring. Line a deep round cake pan with pastry and pour in the mixture. Have the oven hot but reduce heat at once to moderate. Bake until cheese custard is firm in the center.

Two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon cinnamon, three teaspoons ginger, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup molasses, half cup sour or buttermilk, one egg, one third cup shortening. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Put molasses and shortening into a sauce pan and heat slowly until shortening is melted and mixed with molasses. Beat egg, add milk, then molasses mixture, and dry ingredients. Bake in well-greased shallow pan or muffin tins in a moderate oven 25 minutes.

Two cups flour, one half cup sugar, one half cup brown sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, half cup of chopped walnuts, one cup chopped uncooked prunes, half cup molasses, two cups sour milk or buttermilk. Mix and sift dry ingredients, but do not discard bran from Graham flour which will not go through the sieve. Add remainder of materials in order named. Put into two small, well-greased bread pans, allow to stand 15 minutes, then bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven. This makes an excellent sandwich bread and keeps well.

One cup Graham flour, one cup corn meal, one cup rye flour or meal, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon soda, three quarters cup molasses, two cups sour milk or buttermilk. Sift dry ingredients, add molasses and milk. Put in two well-greased molds with tight covers and steam one and a half hours, keeping water constantly at boiling point.

Two cups corn meal, two cups sour or buttermilk; two teaspoons salt, two tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons melted shortening, two eggs, one teaspoon soda dissolved in one tablespoon cold water. Put milk, cornmeal, salt, sugar and shortening in a double boiler and let steam ten minutes, but no longer. Remove from fire, turn into mixing bowl, separate eggs and beat well, adding yolks to corn meal mixture, then folding in well-beaten white of eggs carefully. Add dissolved soda last, still folding, and bake, either as muffins or in shallow pan. In this case there is no other low pan, well greased, using a hot way to add the soda except to dissolve it. If iron muffin pans are used, they should be heated before greasing. Heavy muffin pans will always produce a better muffin than tin.

Beat one cup sour cream until light, add one tablespoon each of vinegar and lemon juice, one teaspoon each of salt and sugar, one teaspoon prepared mustard and a dash of pepper. Beat well until thick.

Two cups cottage cheese, two eggs, one-third cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg, one-quarter cup seedless raisins. Mix ingredients in order named. Line small patty pans with pastry; fill with mixture and bake in a moderate oven.

One cup sour cream, three-quarters cup sugar, one egg beaten, quarter teaspoon cloves, nutmeg and ginger, half teaspoon of cinnamon. Mix cream and sugar together, add egg, salt and spices. Line a pan with pastry, pour in the mixture, cover with pastry and bake in a moderate oven.

Two cups flour, half teaspoon salt, half teaspoon soda, two tablespoons shortening, one cup sour milk or three quarters cup buttermilk. Sift dry ingredients, rub in shortening, add sour milk, mixing with a knife. Roll on a board about half inch in thickness, cut with biscuit cutter, place in pan and bake in a hot oven.

One cup Graham flour, one teaspoon soda, half teaspoon salt, two cups bran, one cup sour milk, half cup molasses, one egg, one tablespoon melted shortening. Sift flour, soda and salt, but do not discard bran from Graham flour. Beat egg, add milk, molasses, sifted dry ingredients and bran. Beat until well mixed, then add melted shortening. Bake in greased shallow muffin pans in a hot oven. Serve cold or split and toasted.

One-third cup brown sugar, one-third cup molasses, two-thirds cup hot mashed potatoes, one egg, one cup sour milk, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, half teaspoon salt, half teaspoon nutmeg, two cups entire wheat flour. Beat egg, add sugar, molasses, potatoes and sour milk. Sift remaining dry ingredients and combine mixtures. Turn on a slightly floured board; roll to one-fourth inch in thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter, fry in deep fat and drain on soft paper. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

One egg, one cup sugar, one tablespoon melted shortening, four cups of flour (about), half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon grated nutmeg, half teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder. Beat egg until light, add sugar, milk and shortening. Sift remaining dry ingredients, combine mixtures. Turn on a slightly floured board and roll to one-fourth inch in thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter and fry in deep fat. Heat fat until it turns a cube of bread a golden brown while you count sixty.
