HUMPTY DUMPTY

By Mrs. A. D. T. WHITNEY
In "Mother Goose for Grown Folks" "Humpty Dumpty sat on the wall; Humpty Dumpty had a great fall." Full many a project that never was hatched,

Falls down and gets shattered beyond being patched; And luckily, too! for if all came to chickens,

Then things without feathers might go to the dickens

If each restless unit that moves among men

Might climb to a place with the privileged "ten."

Pray tell us where the commotion would stop!

Must the whole pan of milk, forsooth, rise to the top?

If always the statesman attained to his hopes

And grasped the great helm, who would stand by the ropes?

Or if all dainty fingers their duties might choose,

Who would wash up the dishes and polish the shoes?

Suppose every aspirant writing a book

Contrived to get published by hook or by crook;

Geologists then of a later creation Would be startled, I fancy, to find a formation

Proving how the world did most woefully sink

Beneath mountains of paper, and oceans of ink!

Or even suppose all the women were married;

By whom would superfluous babies be carried?

Where would be the good aunts that should knit all the stockings?

Or nurses, to do up the singings and rockings?

Wise spinsters, to lay down their wonderful rules,

And with thees and thous to enlighten the fools;

Or to look after orphans and primary schools?

No! Failure's a part of the infinite plan;

Who finds that he can't, must give way to who can;

And as one and another drops out of the race,

Each stumbles at last to his suitable place.

So the great scheme works out— though like eggs from the wall,

Little single designs to such ruin may fall.

That not all the world's might, of its horses or men,

Could set their cherished hopes at the summit again.

"FOOL'S PARADISE" IS A DELIGHTFUL PRODUCTION

Delightful in every respect is Cecil De Mille's latest Paramount picture production, "Fool's Paradise," which was presented last night at the Vining theater. Filmed with careful attention to detail, this is unquestionably one of the best productions ever made by Mr. De Mille.

The story suggested by Leonard Merrick's "The Laurels and the Lady," is adapted with taste and skill. The theme is one of intense heart appeal and the various scenes which take one from France to Mexico and thence to Siam, with their kaleidoscopic views, are beautiful in the extreme. The leading roles are excellently portrayed by Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, Theodore Kosloff, John Davidson and Julia Faye. The picture is one that will please every lover of the beautiful, lofty and artistic in the silent drama, and it leaves little to be desired by the most blasé picture fan.

It will be presented for the last time tonight, Tomorrow, "Find the Woman."

Mistake Too Often Made.

It is true that out of the crosses and vexations of life, its petty cares and troubles as well as its great griefs, is to come the discipline that makes souls fine and strong. But we mistake our province when we allow our own ill temper and selfishness to supply such material to our neighbors. They will find all necessary hardships without our adding to the number.—Exchange
