KOLB AND DILL AT PAGE, MEDFORD, THURSDAY

Kolb and Dill, in "Give and Take," a three act comedy with musical trimmings, attractive girls and their own selected orchestra, will be the attraction at the Page heater, Medford, Thursday, May 11.

The plot of the comedy is based on capital versus labor, and Kolb as the rich canning factory owner, and Dill as his foreman, who has been elected a spokesman for a labor party which has been organized among the factory employes, under the direction of Kolb's college graduate son, who has entered the factory to learn the business, both his foreman and his own son against him and his desire to run his plant his own way, create many funny situations that none but these two stars could handle so well. A song review has been arranged between the acts to punctuate the hilarity.

For the present tour, which is one of the most auspicious they have ever launched, Kolb & Dill have assembled one of the finest companies ever gathered in the west.

Their own specialty orchestra provides musical numbers and furnish the music for the song review. Seats now on sale.

DAIRY MEETINGS TO BE HELD LAST OF THIS WEEK

Dairy meetings will be held Friday and Saturday afternoons of this week at the dairy farms of R. E. Robinson of Ashland and I. A. Merriam near Medford. Both meetings will be in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. All interested in dairying should remember these dates.

Professor Fitz, from the O. A. C., will be the speaker of the day. The topics for discussion for these meetings will be, "Breeding and calf raising" and "Seasonal feeding."

Dairy work as well as other topics of interest to farmers will be shown at community meetings in free films this week. Tonight one of these meetings will be held at Applegate, Wednesday at Brownboro, Thursday at Wimar, and Friday at Ruch. All of these meetings will be held in the evening at about 8 o'clock.

Democrats Gleefully Watch Republicans Row In Illinois

Edward J. Brundage.

Governor Len Small.

William Hale Thompson.

By WILLIAM F. SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9.—Hanging by a mere thread, the bond which ties republicanism in the state of Illinois will receive its real test in the election next November.

Beneath the surface of an apparently united party lie the smoldering coals of discord ready to be poked into a flame which might blaze again with the fury that marked the primary election just held in this state.

The breach which has untied the knot of unity in the ranks of Illinois republicans dates back to the period shortly before the election which placed Governor Len Small at the helm of the G. O. P. ranks in this state.

In the closing days of the legislative session of the governor's legislative measures were sent to defeat. The governor then cut off numerous appropriations made to department chiefs, including the $700,000 appropriation to Attorney General

Brundage to be used in the enforcement of the state prohibition act.

Then came the retaliatory steps of the governor's republican enemies. Attorney General Brundage started a grand jury investigation of the treasury terms of Governor Small and Lieutenant Governor Sterling.

Indictments followed this investigation, including the one in which the governor now is being tried at Waukegan, for alleged conspiracy to defraud the state of several hundred thousand dollars in late 1921 money.

Both sides claim victory in the primary. The question now arises as to whether the losing factions in the respective districts will align themselves with the party nominee or throw their strength behind the democratic candidate.

Meanwhile the "democratic donkey" has his ears in the air taking in the news of republican dissension and anxiously expecting to unleash a raucous bray that will rattle the copper-covered dome of the capitol here with such fury it will be heard in all corners of the United States.

Annual Assembly of Chautauqua May 24 to 29

The thirtieth annual assembly of the Southern Oregon Chautauqua association will be held in Ashland May 24 to 29 inclusive in the Chautauqua auditorium. The program this year will be supplied by the Ellison-White bureau, and this association has a program that is well-spoken of by all who are interested in matters of this kind. Ellison-White have acquired considerable experience in this line and have finally found the popular medium of clean entertainment and instruction that will appeal to the patrons.

The expense of the program was guaranteed by 107 citizens of Ashland, who signed the contract necessary to produce this program on the dates named. The guarantors have held two meetings for the purpose of organizing and advertising and promoting a general acquaintance of the public with this entertaining and instructive six days course. The literature will begin going forth this week, and a campaign for the sale of season tickets has been organized and will be put into operation at once.

The building committee of the Chautauqua association are also active with plans that will improve the acoustic arrangements in the center of the assembly hall and announcements along this line will soon be in readiness.

Returns from California—

Mrs. Bache is also known as one of the smartest hostesses in society circles in New York, Newport and Washington.

STORM POSTPONES VISIT OF GRANTS PASS DELEGATION

Today's storm necessitated the postponement of the visit of the delegation from Grants Pass, which was to have been the guests of the Ashland chamber of commerce today. They will be here on Thursday without fail.

CHAUTAQUA ADVERTISING COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT

The advertising committee of the Chautauqua association will meet tonight in the chamber of commerce rooms to discuss ways and means of advertising the Chautauqua to the best advantage. The committee will be organized in such a way as to afford the best possible advertisement available. All members of the committee are expected to be present.

Hike Plans Changed—

The Sunday school class of Miss Jessie Thatcher, of the Methodist church, had planned a hike for Sunday afternoon, but owing to the bad weather the plans were changed, and a party held in the church instead. However, it had the markings of a hiking party, for the eats and the like were reminiscent of the outdoors rather than the inside.

ALL-DAY MISSIONARY MEETING AT CHURCH

The ladies of the Christian church held an all-day missionary meeting last Friday at the church. After a splendid program in the forenoon, a dainty luncheon was served at 12.

Mrs. James Putnam, of Holly street had charge of the table decorations, and the color scheme of pink and white was carried out beautifully. The local women who were on the program for the afternoon were: Mrs. Catherine Morrison, Mrs. Will Hedrick, Mrs. Laura Rowley, Mrs. D. N. Davis, Miss May Benedict, Mrs. Ruby Harvey, Mrs. W. L. Headley and Mrs. Josephine Chample.

Following short talks and papers by these ladies, Mrs. Kendall, from McMinnville, conducted the round table, receiving numerous answers to the problem, "How to make a missionary meeting most interesting." Following the round table discussion, Mrs. Kendall delivered an excellent talk on the subject, "The needs of the home land."

Mrs. Kendall is a missionary "mother" with beautiful white hair and has a sweet face and attractive delivery. She does a big work among missionary women as she travels from place to place. She left here Saturday morning for Klamath Falls.
