

SOLOMONITES

The recent exposures of the gay doings at Hollywood has done some good anyway. Directors are now inserting a "morality" clause in all contracts with movie stars.

Clothiers say that fashionably dressed men next winter will wear pearl button spats. That is bad enough, but a concession to those who have been afraid that men would come to knee-length trousers.

Russians declare they will run their war politics in their own way, and in their note replying to the proposal of the Genoa conference, which would undertake to regulate the affairs of the soviet government, they practically tell the peace negotiators to attend to their own knitting.

Times do change. Cable dispatch says that Parisians are surprised, almost horrified, that Jack Dempsey, is so unlike his predecessors, that he passes up the night life of Paris. Remember when Sullivan was over there after his little mix-up in Chantilly with Charlie Mitchell? The price of champagne almost doubled after the mighty "John L." had spent a night on the Parisian "white way."

With a fight on their hands to prevent the Volstead act being modified to the extent of excluding light wines and beer from the prohibited beverages, the drys are staggered at the news that England is to have a "wine week" celebration in order to promote the consumption of that beverage. Its promoters declare that it is the sensible method of promoting temperance by cultivating a taste for the lighter beverages, rather than strong alcoholic drinks.

And now the movie people are going to lay Peggy Joyce on the shelf with Fatty Arbuckle. She should worry. When she landed in New York the other day, the customs officials seized about $50,000 worth of diamonds, on which she had failed to pay duty. Poor girl, she was left with only $400,000 worth of jewels, garnered on her European tour, one of the results of which was the suicide of a Chilean noble. She thinks some folks are unreasonable, and she will fight the movie decree banning her from screen productions.

BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL OBSERVES MOTHER DAY

The Baptist Sunday school observed Mother's Day in a fitting and impressive manner at the church at the usual Sunday school hour yesterday, with the following appropriate program:

Vocal solo—"Little Mother of Mine," by Carl Loveland. Reading—"A Thought for Mother's Day" by Mrs. Albert Williams. Mixed quartette—"The Songs that Mother Sang."

Following the musical program, Rev. B. C. Miller, of Springfield, Oregon, gave a short address that was direct and to the point.

Each number was excellently rendered and very much appreciated by the Sunday school.

Following the church hour, the congregation took their loaded baskets to beautiful Lithia park and spent an hour in visiting and eating their lunches and getting acquainted with Rev. Miller, who had charge of the morning services.

Here's Good Advice: Relieve Your Fatigue With Sleep. Avoid Stimulants

THERE is nothing in the world so reconstructive as sound, refreshing sleep. During sleep the system rids itself of the fatigue poisons that have accumulated during the day. The food elements are taken up by the various tissues that require rebuilding nutriment.

It is important that you get plenty of health-bringing sleep. Anything that interferes with your sleep hampers and hinders you—mentally and physically.

A common cause of physical weakness and mental depression is the reaction following over-stimulation by the drug, caffeine, and other elements found in both coffee and tea.

If you have an idea that coffee or tea drinking may be injurious to your health, why not stop it for a week or so, and drink delicious, fragrant Postum instead.

Postum is a rich, golden-brown, pure cereal beverage. It contains no harmful elements of any kind. You can drink Postum as many times a day as you or the children desire a grateful, refreshing beverage.

Your grocer sells both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.
