

Double Headers Are Chautauqua Features

Twelve first class entertainments—six of them "double headers," making practically the equivalent of eighteen ordinary numbers—this is what the Chautauqua offers for the low price of $1.50 for a full season ticket. The usual single admission on these entertainments run from 50 cents to one dollar.

The program is replete with good things and the length of this article will permit of only a brief review. There are several fine musical programs. The first of these is the Steelman-Marriner-Taylor trio. It is in every sense of the word an artist group, and their program a real musical delight. Miss Steelman is a dramatic soprano with a beautiful voice; Miss Taylor a violinist, and Marriner a pianist.

The Jugo-Slav Tamburicans bring the atmosphere of their native land, the folk songs, love songs and martial war songs of the homeland. The tamburica combines the tonal qualities of the mandolin guitar, banjo and ukelele. There are five members of this orchestra.

The New York City Concert quartet is said to be one of the finest male singing organizations before the public today—they must be mighty fine anyway. One of the men is also a reader of exceptional ability who entertains with negro and Scotch character readings and songs.

Then there is the Batting-Mahler Duo, which will present a fine program with monologue, song, impersonations and musical sketches.

But music is not all of the show. We are to have several lectures that are very much worth while. Chancellor George H. Bradford's lecture "This Way Up" is a lecture of powerful reaction—it hits you right where you live; it is meant for you and you get it!

Dr. Arthur W. Evans is a man of many return dates; he is a brilliant orator, born in Wales, but now a red-blooded American, who has something to say and says it with all the force of his great personality. "Let There Be Light" is his subject.

"Private Peat" is also one of the lecturer group; we know him best in his war talk, but this time it is not war. You will probably be just as interested in this new lecture on some of our new international problems, entitled "Introducing Your Neighbor."

And don't forget to remember that we have a lecture on "The Business of Living," proving beyond all doubt that "it isn't healthy to be sick." This will be given by Dr. Lydia Allen De Vilbiss, a prominent New York physician and a regular contributor of the Woman's Home Companion.

Once in a while we hear of "two-faced men," and we try to avoid meeting them, but Chautauqua is putting on a "man of many faces," and they say that it is really hard to figure out which face you like best—having seen one you simply must see the whole collection. The owner is A. Mather Hilburn, called the "master entertainer," and we believe you will like him. He appears on the opening night, Wednesday May 24.

The Glenn L. Morris company has a novel entertainment that has real educational value. From the reports which we have of this man Morris he is "some wizard" as well as an entertainer; his experiments are as baffling as they are interesting, but he explains everything, and so furnishes a real instructive program.

There is one outstanding entertainment feature, however, which we have not so far mentioned—probably one of the finest American comedies, "Turn to the Right," which will be presented by the Keighley Broadway Players, of New York. Over six millions Americans have enjoyed it, and so will you, because of its tender heart interest and its mellow romance. It's the sort of a play you would want your mother, your wife and your daughter to see. This will be given Saturday evening, May 27, with a splendid cast and with special costuming and scenic effects.

Well, now, don't you think the youngsters have been forgotten. The children will get a lot of good, clean wholesome fun out of the regular entertainment and lectures, but there is also a Junior Chautauqua, in which the old folks will not bother. During all of Chautauqua week there will be an expert attendant who will take charge of the youngsters for a daily series of these games and for a daily story hour. And when it gets to going no one will dare say that "we ain't got fun" for the kiddies, too.

IS WASHDAY A HABIT WITH YOU?

Many things that might be improved have been with us so long that it sometimes never occurs to us that we could do better without them. We are slaves of custom—of habit.

The buttons on our coat cuffs date back to the seventeenth Century, when coats were of such rich and costly fabrics that it was necessary to protect the wide sleeves by rolling and buttoning them up. We have abandoned brocades and cloth of gold, but we still cling to cuffs.

In many parts of France, Italy and Austria, women harness themselves up with the oxen and drag the plows. It has never occurred to them that women have a higher mission.

Are you thus bound by habit and custom to washday. Perhaps you simply haven't thought much about the matter heretofore—but there is a more modern method than that of the scrubboard.

It is our family laundry service. It is a better washway—we wash your personal and household goods in the same careful manner you would do them yourself. No flapping in the wind to collect soot or tear the textiles—but a sure pure drying. Then ironing by our steam-heated method that never scorches. Delivery at a definite time on definite days—these are what we live you.

Washday is a heritage of the past that as a modern woman it is unnecessary for you to cling to longer. Call us up and let us give you freedom from the trying labor of washday. We will be glad to have our driver call for your family bundle.
