FORT BRAGG BANK TO PAY DEPOSITORS 80 PER CENT
FORT BRAGG, Calif., June 2.—Plans for reorganization of the First National Bank and First Bank of Savings at Ukiah, both of which suspended business three weeks ago, have been approved by the stockholders of both institutions. Defalcation of which J. E. Weller, former cashier of the First Bank of Savings and president of the First National bank, was convicted and for which he was sentenced to serve 60 years in San Quentin, forced the closing. Under the plan approved the banks will be consolidated and reopened with total assets and liabilities of $1,140,000 or the First National bank will be reopened as a consolidated bank. Depositors will be paid 80 cents on the dollar, 15 cents at the time of the opening of the bank, and 5 per cent a month thereafter, until the full 80 per cent has been received.

Gives Flag of Nations to Harding

Miss Willmuth Gary, known as the international Betsy Ross, presented to President Harding a replica of her flag of nations which she designed and made with her own hands. The flag contains 48 individual flags and required three months to make.

OPENED WORLD OF ANCIENTS

Frenchman in Year 1822 Succeeded in Deciphering Hieroglyphics on Egyptian Monuments.

As there is always a centennial in prospect, we are now about to reach that of Champollion's deciphering of Egyptian writing. The announcement of this discovery was, in fact, made in 1822.

Champollion had spent more than twenty years trying to plumb the secrets of hieroglyphics. He finally found it with the discovery of an inscription in Greek carved in hieroglyphic characters. The word that appeared most often in Greek was the name of Ptolemy, to whom the stone had been raised. Champollion, therefore, searched for the hieroglyphics which corresponded with this word. What signs had the value of "P" and "T" and "O"? In addition to superhuman patience, a genius for divination was called for.

First light came from the letter "T" by comparison with certain signs appearing on a monument to Cleopatra. But this was only one step forward, as Egyptian writing was composed of alphabetical characters, syllabic signs and ideographic as well as determinative symbols.

Thus it is easy to imagine the time required before Champollion opened the world of the ancients to the researches of science—a world which is still more or less of an enigma to the student.—From Le Petit Parisien, Paris.

WAVE OF RELIGIOUS FERVOR

"Revival" Along the East Coast of England Is Most Remarkable of Recent Years.

A religious "revival" has commenced among the fisher people on the east coast, from Grimsby to John o' Groats, says the Manchester Guardian. It is difficult to say where the revival originated, but its effects are most noticeable in the villages on the south of the Moray Firth and the Aberdeen-shire coast north of Aberdeen. Observers say the revival is much more extensive than that led in Wales in 1904-5 by Evan Roberts. Prayer meetings, lasting many hours, are held nightly, the mission halls generally being full. The kinemas and public houses are in consequence nearly empty, and some of the former have had to close down. Strangers and fellow villagers are systematically stopped in the streets and asked if they have been saved. Even motorists in some villages are held up by the more fervent. One serious aspect of the revival is its effect on the minds of the people. Already six persons, mostly young men and women, have been removed to hospitals and institutions for the insane, and in the event of the revival continuing much longer this number may, it is feared, swell.

MACHINES NOW DIGGING COAL

Inventions Have Wrought Great Changes in the Methods of Bringing "Black Diamonds" to Surface.

With the rapid development of labor-saving methods, the coal miner, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine, is being transformed into a keener operator of a powerful machine which not only mines and loads the coal, but does it in a safer and more economical manner; safer, because the coal is broken down without the use of explosives which tend to shatter the roof and make it dangerous; and more economical, because it produces more lump coal and fewer fines, and does it more rapidly.

One machine developed for this work consists of an undercutting frame with cutter chain and a shearing frame on each side of the machine. In the undercutting frame is a conveyor. There is provided a powerful ram which breaks down the coal onto the conveyor. This ram can be directed at any height of the coal face.

The machine is mounted in a pan and fed forward by means of a steel rope. When the cut has been made, the machine is pulled back in the pan by means of a rope; then this rope is hooked over a sheave on the forward side of the machine and the eye fastened to a jack at the face of the opposite rib. By this means the machine is pulled sideways the width of the cut. This requires about three minutes. The machine is then ready to take another cut.

The machine can be used in combination with a movable storage hopper provided with a loading conveyor. By this system the machine operates continuously during the time the loaded mine car is being removed and replaced by an empty one.

NEW YORKERS' LATEST SLANG

Word "Quaint" Has Found Much Favor Among Those Who Affect The Artistic Life.

"Quaint" is the latest word of the world that must have a new and uncommon adjective. It has quite outmoded "amusing" in the slang of the studios and among those who affect the artistic life. The dictionary meaning of the word—"combining an antique appearance with a pleasing oddity, fancifulness, or whimsicalness"—has been quite submerged in the passing craze for its use. When the governor's daughter in "The Tavern" said to the vagabond, "You are the quaintest man I ever knew" she did not really mean what the dictionary says the word means. She was admiring his powers of deduction. But the "latest" word had been worked into the speech and that was the desired thing. The tone always used in connection with "quaint" is patronizing, whether it is applied to a human being, a picture, or what not. The user invariably tries to give the impression that the object thus passed upon could have been done ever so much better if he, or she, had had a hand in making it. To be "quaint" nowadays is to be ever so slightly damned.—New York Herald.

Human Factor Counts.

Lord Teignmouth, in a letter to the London Times, writes: "In the controversy between the advocates of battle or surface ships and admirers of the submarine, one factor, and that a very important one, has been altogether ignored—namely, the human factor. Ships are built to carry human beings; and, as far as present statistics enable one to judge, no submersible vessel has yet been constructed in which men can live for more than a few weeks, continuously, without deteriorating, mentally and physically, owing to the abnormal conditions prevailing on board. Man is an adaptable creature, and possibly, in the course of a century or so, a race of human beings may be evolved which can exist, comfortably, without fresh air, exercise or change of scene. In the meantime, surface ships will be voted the most habitable. Doctor Johnson must surely have had a U-boat in mind when he declared that 'being in a ship is being in jail, with the chance of being drowned.'"

IN NINETEEN FORTY-EIGHT?

WASHINGTON, D (e) C (eased). June 2.—Little interest was manifested here today in the taking over of the United States post office department by its recent purchaser, the aged Henry Ford. In assuming the proprietorship and management of the plant, Mr. Ford said:

"I had been noting for many years that the department was running at a loss. This, I believe, is due to the making of several colors and sizes of stamps, as well as various sizes of stamped envelopes and newspaper wrappers. I shall see to the standardization of all these details. I have just instructed Edsel, to whose active management I shall leave this branch of our business while I devote my personal attention to the United States mint which I bought two weeks ago, to arrange at once for making all the stamps the same color and price, and to make all government envelopes and newspaper wrappers of the same size and pattern.

"No," he continued in answer to the reporters' question, "the deal for the Hawaiian Islands has not yet gone through. There is a technical matter yet to be cleared up—a failure to find one of Queen Liliuokalani's great-grandchildren, to sign a quitclaim deed as joint heir. As to whether or not I shall be a bidder at the public auction of the British empire, I have nothing to say at present."

Mr. Ford is also planning to give transfers from any of his American railroads to any of his trans-Atlantic steamship lines.—Farm Life.

AUTO TOURISTS HELD UP AND ROBBED ON HIGHWAY

F. B. Lancaster and Robert Crossgrove, of Seattle, arrived at the Ashland camp ground last night about 12 o'clock, and today at 11 o'clock, they reported to Mr. Doran, caretaker at the grounds, that they had been robbed last night near the summit of the Siskiyou by two young men whom they had given a lift from near Davis, Calif. They picked up the young men about 12:30 and were robbed at about 8:30. They reported that the robbers not only took their money, but all their provisions and drained their gas tank in order that they might not report the robbery until the robbers had made their getaway.

CIVIC CLUB SALVAGE TENT CLOSED DOWN

The Civic club has permanently closed the salvage tent located on the vacant lot opposite the Hotel Ashland and will return the tent to the chamber of commerce, who so kindly loaned it in the interest of the new club house.

It was necessary to take in about $100 per month in order to make the salvage worth while, and since opening this spring, it has failed to do this, owing to lack of material to sell. The call for clothing and the like for the Near East relief and other similar organizations has probably taken a large share of material that would otherwise have reached the salvage tent and made it continue to pay.

The closing of the tent does not mean that no further effort will be made to raise money for the club house, for various plans are on foot to continue the drive for sufficient money to complete the building.

MARY PICKFORD'S DIVORCE IS HELD TO BE LEGAL

CARSON CITY, June 2.—Mary Pickford's divorce from Owen Moore was upheld yesterday by the supreme court. She was subsequently married to Douglas Fairbanks and a storm arose as to the validity of her second marriage.

In Ashland's Auto Camp

Four hundred and ten cars registered at the auto camp grounds from April 22 to May 31. About one-fourth of these remained two days or more. It has been a fine lot of people, always pleasant and agreeable, and if they have had any kicks they have succeeded in keeping them under cover.

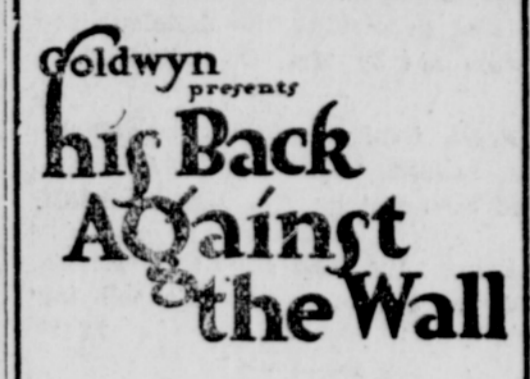

Six or eight parties have refused to remain in the park on account of the charge, and about the same number of those stopping have expressed disapproval of the principle of the pay camp. The rest, so far as known, have been entirely satisfied with the conditions, and a very large percentage have been enthusiastic in their praise.

Those reaching the camp June 1 were: Frank Beatty and party, Portland; J. C. Webb and party, Redlands, Calif.; B. R. Webb and family, Redlands; O. Peters and party, Spokane; L. Heeger and family, San Francisco; W. V. Dixon and family, Toronto, Canada; F. L. Reed, Klaispell, Mont.; C. A. Dyson and family, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Felt, San Diego; C. G. Welton, Fargo, N. D.; Mrs. J. A. McKeen and party, Blair, Neb.; E. L. Kost and family, Los Angeles; P. D. Neal and family, Los Angeles.
