A Way to Meet the Shortage of Laundresses

Maid servants and man servants are not so easily obtained as they were once upon a time. Laundresses, too, are becoming fewer.

There is a shortage. Not merely a local temporary lack—but a shortage of help that is national and promises to be lasting. But in this quandary are you going to resort to the scrubboard, to the lifting and splashing and the all-round discomfort of the old wash-day? There is a simpler and better way—a way free of all bother and toil. It is our modern laundry way. And it is a safe and sure way—only pure soft water and mild white soap are our cleansing agents. You'll like the glossiness of our ironing and the promptness of our delivery also.

The shortage of laundresses should occasion you no inconvenience. Simply telephone us and our driver will call for your family bundle.
