MORE WAGE CUTS BRING RAILWAY STRIKE NEARER

LABOR BOARD REDUCTIONS TO TOTAL 59 MILLIONS ANNUALLY

Federated Shopcraft Unions Are Hard Hit by Wage Cuts Grading From Nine Cents to Seven Cents An Hour.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The probability of a railway strike was brought appreciably nearer today, it is generally believed, by the announcement of the United States railway labor board of a reduction of wages estimated at more than $59,000,000 annually in the pay of the federated shopcraft unions.

Today's board decision orders wage cuts effective July 1, ranging from nothing for supervisory employees to nine cents an hour for freight carmen. The two biggest divisions of shopcrafts employees, the machinists, electricians, blacksmiths, boiler-makers, etc., and helpers and apprentices are reduced seven cents an hour.

Labor members of the board were unanimous in dissenting and attacked the decision on the ground that it cuts under the scale of a "living wage" for railway employees.

NOTED LECTURER WILL APPEAR HERE SATURDAY

Frank Hubbell will make an address Saturday, June 10, at 7:30 o'clock at the Armory, his subject being "Civil War Days of the American Soldiers."

The funds raised at this meeting will go toward building a commemorative monument to every comrade who fought in the civil war. It is to be erected in Seattle on a triangular tract of ground in the heart of the city, which is said to be valued at $50,000.

Tickets may be purchased at Rose Brothers and Porters confectionery.

ELECTED KING AND QUEEN OF RED BLUFF CARNIVAL

RED BLUFF, Calif., June 6.—The contest for king and queen of the Highway-Courthouse celebration, to be held in Red Bluff tomorrow, was closed at 6 o'clock Saturday evening with Morton Kaer and Miss Mabel Montgomery as the winners.

OBITUARY

Henry Whitley Andrews, whose death occurred Wednesday, May 31, at his home in Ashland, was born near La Crosse, Wis., March 1, 1860.

As a lad he lived in Wisconsin, removing to Fairmont, Minn., at an early age, where with his family, he endured the experiences incidental to a new and undeveloped country. When he was 14 the family came to Beloit, Kans., where their home was maintained. After the father's death they resided at Glen Elder, where Mr. Andrews was in business for a number of years.

In 1900, Oregon called him. For a time he was in business in Ashland, later operating orchards near Jacksonville and Medford.

After his marriage in June 1910, to Miss Grace E. Owens, the home was established at 122 Church street, where he lived for five years when it became expedient to go to his ranch just east of Ashland. Here he spent the last seven years, coming to the home in Ashland just a month prior to his death.

Mr. Andrews is survived by his wife and two brothers—Aaron Andrews, of Medford, and H. P. Andrews, of Logan, Kans.; and two sisters—Mrs. Mary L. Mathews, of California, and Mrs. D. W. Wheeler of Medford.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Ashland and was also a member of the Modern Woodmen for many years.

A man of large ambitions and of strong determination, he overcame obstacles that would daunt men of smaller caliber; a lover of nature, all growing things responded to his touch; of high ideals, no petty thing held place; a Christian gentleman whose word was as good as his bond; a good citizen, a faithful friend, a loving brother and devoted husband, has gone to his reward.

MOONSHINE, STILL HOUND

Not long ago the prohibition agents of Baltimore raided a moonshiner's farm and among the things captured was a beautiful collie, which they named Moonshine. A few days later they journeyed to a small town nearby in search of it still. They couldn't find it, but it occurred to them to put Moonshine on the trail. They did so, and the dog, seeking his customary atmosphere of mash, led them straight to a 15-gallon still.

IOWA ELECTION GIVES OLD GUARD ANOTHER JOLT

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Although political Washington has become somewhat steeled against shocks by the experiences of last month in Indiana and Pennsylvania, the apparent victory of Colonel Brookhart, ultra progressive, in the Iowa primaries yesterday, has nevertheless caused a mild sensation in the capital.

Brookhart, the political foe of Senators Cummins and Rawson, captured the senatorial nomination from a field of six candidates, all of whom were more or less favored by the Iowa state organization, rather than the victor. The so-called progressive group in the senate hailed Brookhart's victory with undisguised enthusiasm. They interpreted it as another piece of conclusive proof that the country is in the throes of a progressive revival.

LITTLE BOY VICTIM "DID-N'T KNOW IT WAS LOADED"

COLUSA, Calif., June 6.—Two little boys playing with a rifle Saturday at Meridian, didn't know it was loaded.

Billie Jackson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jackson, was the victim of the gun accident. He died suddenly yesterday forenoon in a Woodland hospital within a few hours after the bullet had been removed and his recovery seemed likely.

ARABIAN MUSIC CHARMS Seattle Organist Will Interpret It In "The Sheik"

When it comes to music that simply worms its way into your system and goes to your head like old wine, according to players in the Paramount picture, "The Sheik," which is at the Vining theatre today, tomorrow and Thursday, the Arabian musicians can put it all over the best jazz artists in the country.

"When that sinuous melody started," said one of the actors, "during the scenes in the Sheik's tent and in the harem scenes, the Arabian Nights seemed to come to life. I don't know where the music comes from when you consider those funny instruments—tom-tom drums, pipes and things like lutes. Separately they are about as musical as so many dishpans and Chinese fiddles. But assembled and played by experts they produce a melody that gets under your skin and awakens a weird yearning in the mind. It is just like a whiff of hashish or a goblet of oriental liquor."

Agnes Ayres and Rudolph Valentino are featured in this George Mel-ford production and have many scenes together accompanied by the strange music of Arabia.

The patrons of the Vining theatre may well be assured that the new and talented organist, George D. Converse, of Seattle, will render music equally as alluring. It has been many a day since the people of Ashland have heard the true worth of the big Robert Morton pipe organ.

WELL KNOWN ROSEBURG MAN DIES IN PORTLAND

S. H. Miller, of Roseburg, died Friday, June 2, at a hospital in Portland, and was brought to Roseburg Sunday for burial. Mr. Miller was a G. A. R. and had a large number of friends throughout southern Oregon.

Mr. Miller's wife is a sister of J. S. Miller of Ashland. She is also confined in the Portland hospital.

MILLIONS ARE APPROPRIATED FOR POSTOFFICE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The senate passed and sent to the president the post office appropriation bill carrying $565,000,000. Included in it is the item of $50,000,000 added by the senate to provide federal aid for states in road construction work.

The vote on the bill was 215 to 26. President Harding is expected to sign it immediately.

FUNERAL OF W. G. DAY TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Funeral services for the late William G. Day, who died yesterday at his home east of the city, will be held Thursday morning at Hornbrook, at 11 o'clock.

J. P. Dodge and Sons, funeral directors, will have charge of the interment.

SENATE JAMMED ON THE TARIFF AND BONUS BILLS

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Republican leaders are still struggling to break the senate legislation jam in which both the tariff and the soldiers' bonus are wedged.

Hope is expressed that senators would weary of the tariff battle sufficiently to permit the passage of the tariff bill by the middle of July, and while it is being ironed out in conference, the soldiers' bonus measure would be slipped through.

What would become of the ship subsidy bill no senator was willing to hazard a guess.

SON KILLS HIS MOTHER TO END HER MISERY

PORTLAND, June 6.—Mrs. Suzanne Weir, 76 years old, was murdered by her own son, Walter Weir, 48, at the family home, No. 1651 East Burnside street, while she was preparing breakfast about 7:30 yesterday morning. He beat her to death with a hammer.

After killing his mother, Weir walked from the house to a grocery store at No. 1657 East Burnside and said to P. Nelson, proprietor: "I did it."

"Did what?" asked Nelson. "I killed her."

A huge lump on his forehead attracted Nelson's attention, and Weir said he had struck himself with the hammer.

Weir then explained that he had killed his mother "to put her out of her misery."

In Ashland's Auto Camp

Eighty-three individuals, not to count the birds and the beasts, reached the camp last evening. Some drove a long ways to get here, and some drove late to reach the park they had been told not to miss.

One party came over from northern California to buy supplies from the Ashland merchants. He states that he can buy here so much cheaper than he does several times a year.

A great many, passing this way for the first time, speak of the pleasant surprise when they first see the auto park, some of them feel, as one gentleman remarked a few days ago, that if other camps can charge 50 cents a day, Ashland should charge a dollar.

Those arriving last evening were: C. McCormick and party, Chehalis, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. L. Heisel, San Francisco; E. E. Vaughn and family, Reno, Nev. the place where you get your liberty bonds; W. O. McCallister, Everett, Wash.; W. W. Woodward and family, Darrington, Wash.; J. M. Parson and family, Garden Grove, Calif.; John Geiss and party, Long Beach; W. A. Fawcett and family, Oakland, Calif.; J. Funchion and party, Seattle; John Bell and family, Vencora, Calif.; J. J. Galusha and family, Seattle; A. F. Callier and party, Vancouver, B. C.; R. Shaw and party, Seattle; W. F. Beckner and party, Oswego, Calif.; D. J. Lynche, Seattle; Frank Fallon and party, Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton, Glendale, Calif.; D. J. Perry, Battleground, Wash.; E. F. Whitmer and party, Seattle; B. E. Wilson and family, Newfano, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, Gattville, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Carter, Spokane; A. H. Sprague, Silverton, Oregon.

CALLED TO SPRINGFIELD FOR FUNERAL OF SISTER

Val Inlow and family, of Mountain avenue, were called to Springfield, Saturday, to attend the funeral of Miss Inlow's sister, Mrs. Mary Gressman.

The Gressman family were former residents of Ashland, and were members of one of the early families in southern Oregon, but have lived in the vicinity of Eugene and Pleasant Hill for several years.

HARDING FAVORS REGULATION OF CHILD LABOR

WASHINGTON, June 6.—President Harding has announced that he favors the adoption of a constitutional amendment to regulate child labor.

In a letter to Representative Rogers, the president promised to express his views more fully in a message to congress at an early date.

SUSANVILLE CLAMPS LID ON GAMBLING

SUSANVILLE, Calif., June 6.—The lid has been clamped tight on all forms of gambling in Susanville, and the district attorney has been instructed to enforce the new gambling ordinance, which even prohibits playing pool for the cost of the game as stakes. The town's favorite indoor sport, "solo for the drinks," comes under the ban.

ORDINANCE BANS SALE AND USE OF FIREWORKS

Many business men of Ashland have been asking in regard to the enforcement of the fireworks ordinance and the state law regarding same during the coming celebration.

An interview with Mayor Lamkin this morning brought out the fact that the prohibition against fireworks will be strictly enforced, and merchants are warned against purchasing same.

The state law makes it unlawful for any firecracker over two and one-half inches in length and five-eighths inch in diameter to be sold or exploded, consequently any firecracker violating this provision cannot be used or sold anywhere within the state.

The city ordinance provides that it shall be unlawful to discharge, fire or use any firecrackers, rockets, torpedos, Roman candle, or other fireworks or substance designated and intended for pyrotechnic display or any ordinance, gun, pistol, rifle, cane, cannon or other appliance using blank cartridges, ball cartridges or caps, or other form of explosive.

The ordinance further provides that it shall be unlawful to sell any fireworks at retail, or to store or sell any fireworks at wholesale, except by permit by the mayor, issued for a period of one year. Application for permit must be filed with the chief of the fire department at least 30 days previous to the using thereof.

It will be noticed that merchants cannot sell at retail at all within the city of Ashland, and hence they should not lay in a stock of fireworks, says Mayor Lamkin.

The above mentioned ordinance is different than the provisions of the old ordinance in force last Fourth of July. The change was made July 12, 1921, by unanimous vote of the council, and strengthened the old ordinance to the extent that the sale of fireworks was prohibited as well as the discharging of same.

DECISION AGAINST UNIONS SCORED BY GOMPERS

CINCINNATI, June 6.—"Another such victory and I'm done," was the enigmatic statement of President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, after he had thoroughly considered the decision of the United States supreme court handed down in the Coronado case.

He didn't explain his unusual statement, which he made after he had concluded a denunciation of Chief Justice Taft and the decision, but it is believed that he meant he would resign as president of the federation. The decision under which it is held that labor unions may be prosecuted for restraint of interstate commerce and may be sued for destruction of property, was handed down by Chief Justice Taft yesterday.

LYNN SLACK APPOINTED AS FIRST SERGEANT

Lynn Slack, well-known Ashland man, and an employe of the Southern Pacific ticket office in Ashland, was appointed first sergeant of the 484th company, Q. A. O. N. G. (First company), last evening. First Sergeant Slack is a former service man and he is getting back into his old job that he held with such success during the war. The Ashland company men are feeling jubilant in securing him, as he is full of the pep and enthusiasm that it takes to put the job over, and he possesses those peculiar characteristics needed by a first sergeant.

Another honor handed out yesterday was that of mess sergeant to Charles C. Robertson, who will leave June 10 for a four-days mess sergeants' school to be held at Fort Worden. Sergeant Robertson was chosen, it was stated, on account of his demonstrated ability in the past.

CHIP INTO THE 4TH JULY FUND $ OR DIMES OR $

START THE BALL A' ROLLING WITH YOUR DOLLARS OR DIMES

The Lord Loves a Cheerful Giver, But Nobody Loves a Tightwad—So Lessen Your Load, Ease Your Conscience and Come Through.

Ashland is booked for a big Fourth of July celebration and preparations are under way to make it the biggest event of the kind ever put on here. It is proposed to stage such an attractive program that the attendance from the surrounding towns will be greater than ever before.

To accomplish this, it is necessary that a couple of thousand dollars be raised. It is hardly fair that the merchants should be asked to bear the brunt of the financial burden, when there are hundreds of others who not only ought to contribute to the fund, but would be glad to do so, if given the opportunity. Heretofore the general public has been overlooked in the matter of contributions. The business men have always had to finance these affairs, while only a very few of them derive any financial benefit, as pretty much all places of business are closed on that day, with the exception of the hotels, restaurants and confectioners. In order to meet the situation and that the contributions may be more evenly divided than heretofore, the Fourth of July committee has decided to open a "Contribution Column" in the Tidings, in which a daily report will be made of the total amount received and the names of the contributors, although it is not deemed advisable to publish the amount sent in. The child's nickel, given with a spirit of patriotism, will be as welcome as the dollar of the dad. No amount will be too small, but it is hardly necessary to state, the committee will not look askance at any contribution, no matter how large. So send along your dollars and your dimes and help the good cause along. "Loosen up. Live up, and make the old town hum!"

MORE HELP PROMISED FOR CIVIC CLUB HOUSE

The merchants of the city are very generous with the Civic Improvement club these days, and are doing various things to help out with the new building.

Charles Pierce, of the Ford garage, has now offered one ticket to the club for every 50 cents worth of ice cream sold at the ice cream and strawberry festival, which will be held in the park Tuesday evening, June 13. If the ladies should win the machine with one of these tickets, the sum which could be realized from the sale of the machine would go a long way toward finishing the club house.

Everybody likes strawberries and ice cream, and the ladies promise to have plenty for everybody, so come and get your share.

AUTO TOURIST LIKES ASHLAND CAMP GROUNDS

A real estate man with offices in Medford had a tourist call at his office there and ask for a certain kind of investment which the realty man had, but could not show him until the following day. On being asked where he was located, he replied that he was in the Medford camp ground, and the realtor said he would call for him there in the morning. Whereupon the tourist informed him that he would have to call for him at the Ashland camp ground if he wanted to see him in the morning, as he liked the conveniences and class of people he found there the previous night so much better than he had found in the Medford camp, that he intended to return there and pitch his tent for a few days.
