Boy Scouts Scale Mt. Wagner—

A group of about 14 Boy Scouts, under the leadership of their scoutmaster, C. F. Koehler, were the first to register at the summit of Mount Wagner this season. Considerable snow was encountered, but every scout reached the top, even the youngest tendertoot. Nobody supposed that Billy and Foss would make it; but to the surprise of all, they were little behind the rest. Everybody had a good time.

We are not giving any band concerts or free baby carriages. Just the biggest dollar's worth in town. A trial will convince. Detrick's Groceteria, in the heart of the city. 224-17

LOGGER GAINS TWENTY POUNDS AND FEELS FINE

Portland Citizen Says Tanlac Overcame Stomach Trouble Which Had Him in Such Bad Fix He Couldn't Stand Food at Camps.

"My health got so bad I had to quit the camps, but in one month Tanlac has helped me to gain twenty pounds and I am going back to work at once," said Arthur Svann, 52 1/2 North First street, Portland, Or., a well-known logger.

"My stomach and kidneys were so badly out of order that the food we got in the logging camps didn't agree with me. It looked like every bite I ate soured and I would bloat up with gas till I felt I would smother. I lost my appetite and went down in weight and strength. My back got so lame and hurt so bad that finally I came down to Portland in the spring to try to get relief before it was too late.

"I decided to try Tanlac and it fit my case exactly. I have taken three bottles now and simply feel like I have been made all over again. I think so much of Tanlac I am going to carry a supply of it out to the camps with me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

REGIONAL CONFERENCE OF W. C. T. U. HELD AT MEDFORD

The regional conference of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, for southern Oregon, held in Medford Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, was an unqualified success in every way. At the noon hour on Tuesday the out of town delegates consisting of ladies from Portland, Roseburg and Ashland, were entertained at a formal luncheon given by the Medford W. C. T. U., after which all went to the Presbyterian church, where the convention was held. In the absence of the state president, Mrs. Millett, the conference was presided over by the county president, Mrs. Alice Jillson.

The convention opened with consecration services led by Mrs. S. L. Leonard of Medford. Opening ad-resses were by state workers, Mrs. Lottie Hannon and Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, followed by music by Medford young ladies.

Mrs. Alice Jillson, in her address on "Social Morality," stated that Prof. Edwin C. Conklin, of Princeton university, created a mild sensation at Yale when in a recent lecture, he predicted that two or three generations will see the extinction of the best stock of the human race, so far as America is concerned.

Mrs. Lottie Hannon, state worker, led in the discussion of the various departments of the W. C. T. U. and their work. Mrs. Wilson, from Roseburg, gave a talk on how to keep well.

The evening session opened with devotionals led by Rev. Lawrence, pastor of the Medford Presbyterian church. Every one present enjoyed the music rendered by the male quartet. The remainder of the evening was taken up by Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, campaign manager for the W. C. T. U. children's farm home. A collection was taken at the close of the meeting which amounted to about $75, which will go to the farm home fund.

Rev. W. Judson Oldfield, of Ashland, led with the devotionals Wednesday morning. The morning session was taken up by Mrs. Lottie Hannon, state worker and lecturer. Her address was very instructive. Mrs. Hannon's talk was followed by a general discussion which was very interesting.

After the noonday prayer, luncheon was served by Medford union, and a social hour followed. Rev. Sannett, pastor of the Medford Methodist church, led the devotional at the afternoon session.

Professor Hamm, superintendent of the Roseburg schools, gave an address using for his subject "The World Looks to Us for Moral Leadership." He referred mostly to the teachers in our public schools.

Mrs. Ida Marsters, president of the Douglas county W. C. T. U., read a splendid paper on "What shall we do with the bootlegger." She suggested that he be given a jail sentence and fined to the fullest extent of the law. "Law enforcement" was also the subject of the address made by Rev. W. Judson Oldfield.

Mrs. Sannett sang a beautiful sacred selection. Rev. Leach, pastor of the Baptist church, talked on "Church and the Social Problem," and stated if we expect to keep the young people in the church we must furnish them some kind of amusement that will interest them. Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh followed with a talk on the children's farm home, and a discussion followed by a number of those present.

The session adjourned with a song and the closing benediction by Rev. W. Judson Oldfield.
