ROYAL WELCOME GIVEN SHRINERS GOING THROUGH

HILLAH TEMPLE HUNDREDS QUAFF LITIAH AND ARE SHOWERED WITH ROSES

Ashland Turns Out in Force at Depot And Gives Hearty Greeting to Shriners En Route to Golden Jubilee in San Francisco.

Ashland's Hillah Temple was the first to arrive on the ground in San Francisco for the golden jubilee of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, and will have the honor of assisting in piloting the other temples to their headquarters as they arrive. Probably the oldest standard bearer in all Shrinedom is C. C. Weisenburger, of the local patrol, who has rounded out 74 years, and takes part in all parades.

Local railroad employees were busily engaged all day yesterday with the special Shriners trains that passed through, and not from early in the forenoon until Affli Temple of Tacoma left at about 8:30 in the evening, did they have a breathing spell. With the exception of the trucks being some two to six hours behind the schedule time, everything went along smoothly, and not a single person got left behind by his train.

Kosair temple, of Louisville, Ky., was the first special train to arrive, spending about an hour at the depot, while members took advantage of the time and friends here gave them a drive through Lithia park and about the city.

Al Kadar temple of Portland came shortly after noon, and Mayor Baker made a short talk from the rear platform of the train, while at the depot.

Bakdad temple of Butte, Mont., arrived about 3 o'clock, and having plenty of time, marched up town and through Lithia park to the springs, and return. They were accompanied by a band of about 40 pieces, which played a number of selections.

Elmina temple of Galveston, Tex., followed, with some 150 steer tamers and their ladies, who with their southern brogue, made for many a snub on Ashlanders' faces.

Hadi temple of Evansville, Ind., with five Pullmans, was next. As they were all teetotalers, they made the trip west over the Northern Pacific, refraining from taking the Canadian route.

Allidin temple of Columbus, Ohio, with 207 members and ladies came in tired and worn from ten days of travel, having come over the Canadian Pacific, traveling by daylight and stopping during the nights at stations.

Affli temple from Tacoma, with only one day's travel behind them, made up for what Allidin lacked and took everything before them. They were having all kinds of fun until called to leave by the whistle and gong and seemed reluctant to go. There was a crowd of local people at the depot continually from the time the first train pulled in until the last one pulled out, and the committee of Shriners and the local chamber of commerce passed out cups for the water as well as flowers and berries from the surrounding hillsides.

LABOR FEDERATION SCORES JUDICIARY AT CONVENTION

CINCINNATI, O., June 12.—Organized labor has sent broadcast an invitation to the employers of labor throughout the country to "meet around the table, and there discuss, ascertain and determine for some reasonable period, an agreement covering the controversial matters that affect both sides of industry." The invitation came from President Gompers, who addressed the forty-second annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today, officially opening organized labor's most momentous meeting. Gompers asserted that so long as employers pursue their "open shop" persistence, there can be no satisfactory agreement.

The smouldering resentment of organized labor toward the courts, which in the past year have rendered several adverse decisions, broke out in a consuming fire of wrath at the opening session of the American Federation's annual convention.

Not even the United States supreme court, whose august body has heretofore gone uncriticized publicly, escaped in the report of the executive council of the Federation, which devoted itself, in a large measure, to a fiery disparagement of the entire judiciary. An unflinching arraignment of the judiciary for "increasing hostility toward labor" led to a recommendation by the executive council that "appeal be made to the higher court of public opinion, and that public conscience be aroused to the great and grave menace which confronts the perpetuity of constitutional rights and liberties of all our people, as originally conceived by the founders of our republic."

WILL LIFT THE LID OFF FIREWORKS BAN FOR THE 4TH

COUNCIL AGREES TO AMEND ORDINANCE TO CONFORM WITH STATE LAW

Sale Will Be Permitted and Kiddies Can Shoot Firecrackers to Their Heart's Content, So They Are Not More Than 2 1/2 Inches Long.

A. C. Ninger, chairman of the Fourth of July committee, put in a busy day Saturday endeavoring to line up the city council and mayor to frame an ordinance governing the use of firecrackers and fireworks during the coming celebration on the Fourth of July, to conform with the state law, which permits the use and sale of firecrackers not to exceed two and one-half inches in length. His efforts resulted in a joint meeting being called of the Fourth of July committee and the city council, which met at the chamber of commerce rooms Saturday evening. The meeting was well attended by citizens and there was a full attendance of the council. Mayor Lamkin and Chief of Police Hatcher were also present.

Mr. Ninger explained how hard it was for the committee to find entertainment for the thousands of children who will attend the celebration, and said they would be largely taken care of if they would be permitted to shoot firecrackers, and stated further that, in his opinion, the danger element had been eliminated when the state law prohibited the use of firecrackers larger than two and one-half inches.

A number of citizens and the city council were then called upon, resulting in an unanimous agreement that the city would amend the present ordinance to conform with the state law.

ASTORIA, Or., June 12.—Bootlegging bees promise untold prosperity to Clatsop county apiarists, according to E. W. McMindes, county agent, and Herman Ahlers, county bee inspector. Ahlers declares that moonshiners, who are said to be numerous in some of the outlying districts, dump so much fermenting and exceeding succulent mash about that it attracts the bees.
