PIANO RECITAL GIVEN AT METHODIST CHURCH

A piano recital was given last evening at the Methodist church, by Miss Berna Haight and her piano pupils, and a large audience turned out to hear the fine program.

This is Miss Haight's third annual recital, and each program has been better than the one the preceding year. There was a total of 16 pupils who took part in last evening's program and the selections rendered varied from simple melodies by the younger pupils to difficult classical scores. Every one present seemed to be delighted with the recital.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN PROF. IRA C. WILSON

Prof. Ira C. Wilson, for the last three years principal of the Junior high school, was given a farewell party last evening at his home at 496 North Main street.

Mr. Wilson has not only had charge of the Junior high school, but for the last year, has been president of the Epworth League of the Methodist church, and it was this organization who gave the party last evening.

Coming here a stranger only a few years ago, it is doubtful if there is a person in the city who has a wider and more favorable acquaintance in the city on the eve of his departure. He left this evening for Stanford university, where he will study for the coming year. His plans are not made further than that. His mother, Mrs. Bufjough, will continue to live in Ashland until September, at which time she will move to Stanford to be with her son.

ROSEBURG BAND ANXIOUS TO COME HERE FOR 4TH

"Rarin' to come" is the gist of a letter from the Douglas County band of Roseburg, relative to joining in Ashland's July 4th celebration. The Douglas County band is one of the crack organizations of the state and would be an especial attraction in the musical line.

The Fourth committee is limited as to funds, however, and while they would like to engage every band available and put on a great band contest with Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass and Roseburg, it is not definitely decided whether this feature will be carried out. The Grants Pass brass band is definitely engaged for the Fourth.

LAFOLETTE THROWS MONKEY WRENCH INTO TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Fresh troubles over the soldiers' bonus bill confronted the administration leaders today, when LaFollette served notice that he would offer a motion in the senate to displace the tariff for the bonus, even should Chairman McCumber, of the finance committee, agree not to do so.

LaFollette declared he would not be bound by any compromise effected between the administration leaders and McCumber, by which the bonus would be taken up immediately after the tariff bill. LaFollette is said to have received assurances of support from not only a number of republicans, but from a large proportion on the democratic side.

Honoring Edith Cavell's Memory

King George and Queen Mary of England, during their recent visit to Belgium, took occasion to do honor to the memory of Edith Cavell, the heroic nurse who was executed by the Germans. The photograph shows them placing a wreath on the spot where Miss Cavell was shot.

VICTIMS OF MORBID CRAVINGS

"Sensation Mongers" Must Have Excitement, No Matter What the Price They Have to Pay.

The case of anonymous letter writing reported from the French town of Tulle affords a typical illustration of the methods of the "sensation monger." Missives making accusations of infidelity have caused the deaths of two persons in an asylum and brought misery into several homes.

This is precisely the result desired by the writer of the slanders. Making a sensation is the very height of enjoyment among a large number of morbid persons. The human craving for excitement is entirely normal, but in its pathological and criminal manifestations it often leads to tragedy.

The majority of young children delight in sensational mongering. A life of imagination is the commonest form of juvenile unaveracity.

A little girl who "sees" bears and wolves in a coppice near her home invents stories of hair-raising sensationalism concerning the ferocity of the animals. Another girl declares she sees big eyes in the stem of an oak tree. A boy, twelve years old, arriving at a boarding school, told his companions of the dormitory that he had flown the first airplane from Buckingham palace and had been personally complimented by the king.—From the Continental Edition of the London Mail.

UNABLE TO CHEATE DISEASE

Science Has Demonstrated the Impossibility of the Human Mind Having That Power.

"In one sense it may be said that the human race gets the diseases it deserves; but the sins are those of ignorance and neglect of physical laws rather than against spiritual ordinances," said Sir Richard Gregory in the course of his address at the recent Edinburgh meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

"Plague is not now explained by supposed iniquities of the Jews or conjunctions of particular planets, but by the presence of an organism conveyed by fleas from rats; malaria and yellow fever are conquered by destroying the breeding places of mosquitoes; typhus fever by getting rid of lice; typhoid by cleanliness; tuberculosis by improved housing, and most like diseases by following the teachings of science concerning them. "Though the mind does undoubtedly influence the resistance of the body to invasion by microbes, it cannot create the scientific organism of any disease, and the responsibility of showing how to keep such germs under control and prevent, therefore, the poverty and distress due to them is a scientific rather than a spiritual duty."

American-Grown Bulbs.

In the future it is not likely that the United States will continue to depend on Holland for our spring flowering bulbs. This country uses annually about $2,000,000 worth of Dutch bulbs, and produces scarcely $25,000 worth in any one year, this despite the fact that few plants are more widely adapted and few crops more easily grown than bulbs. The Federal Department of Agriculture has prepared a very interesting bulletin on bulb culture in the United States which points to rich possibilities in the years to come.

Bulbs can be grown in this country on both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard and in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys. Some of the hardier and more robust of the narcissus varieties thrive even in the gulf states. Contrary to what would be generally supposed, it is not too cold for tulips and narcissi to succeed as far north as Sitka, Alaska. They thrive along the entire border of the United States, wherever the moisture conditions are suitable.

Learned to Love Japanese.

Major General William Verbeck, former adjutant general, who is president of St. John's school at Manlius, N. Y., lays claim to being the first white boy of American parentage to be born in Japan. His father was a missionary who was attached to the Tokugawa government as an educator, and later helped to establish the Japanese Imperial university. Young Verbeck's playmate and friend was a Japanese boy whom his father helped to bring back from California when he was detained and stranded while in quest of an American education. The boy's name was Koreklyo Takahashi. He is now premier of Japan. "Through this Japanese boy," said General Verbeck, "and my association with his people, I learned to love them and to have the highest respect for their integrity."—New York Evening Post.

Superstition Common.

Book learning and intelligence seem to have nothing to do with belief in charms. In Roman days Sulla would not move a step unless he carried with him his small gold figure of Apollo, which was his amulet. In the present day in New York city a construction engineer of more than local reputation, and the most matter-of-fact type of person possible in most ways, carefully changes from one suit to the other a tiny gold hand that was given to him by an old woman near the front lines in France.

MUSIC RECITAL TUESDAY EVENING AT THE ARMORY

The pupils of Madame Tracy Young will give a musical recital at the Armory next Tuesday evening, June 20, at 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charged, but an offering will be taken, all of which will be turned over to the Civic Improvement club to apply on the construction of its new club house. Madame Tracy Young personally is paying the rental for the building and other incidental expenses.

The selections to be rendered are works of modern composers, such as Percy Grainger, Chadwick, Aus der Ohe, Burk, Kate Gilmour, Black, DeKoven, Barthelmy, Gouard and Caruso, and should be well received by all music lovers.

Madame Tracy Young is well known to the people of Ashland, having lived here for the last few years, and has given several concerts such as planned for Tuesday evening. Nor is her reputation merely local, for she has studied under some of the best music masters on both sides of the Atlantic and is herself a musician of no mean ability. She has played before crowned heads of the old world, a goal which many of the best musicians in the world have striven for without accomplishment.

The public should attend, enjoy the excellent program and help the good cause of the Civic club along.

JESS WILLARD SAYS DEMPSEY SIDESTEPED

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Jess Willard has broken his silence since his removal to California to declare that Jack Dempsey is "sidestepping" a bout with him.

In an interview published here yesterday, Willard was quoted as charging that "Tex Rickard had me sign a year ago and the bout fell through because Jack Kearns wigged out of it."

Willard claimed that he made a special trip from Lawrence, Kans., to New York to arrange for the match.

"I can beat Dempsey and I want a chance to come back and show the world I'm his superior," Willard was said to have asserted, declaring himself opposed to a fight between Dempsey and Harry Willis for the championship.

VARIETY IN SPRING VEILS

Many Interesting Face Coverings Are Now Being Shown for the Season at Hand.

In the lineup of spring accessories and for the season at hand many interesting novelties are shown. The long, narrow scarf or panel veil is one of the chic bits of face covering, and it may be worn in ever so many ways. This scarf veil is frequently draped across the hat and allowed to fall over the shoulders, giving a soft, becoming framing to the face. Or may be draped over the hat and drawn back to be tied under or across the hair. The ends are finished with novelty borders of one sort or another. Fringe is a not unusual trimming. The larger veils are frequently finished with cord or ribbon fringe.

Among the new veils may be mentioned the large square one with a fine mesh section woven into one side, this section forming a tight face veil, while the veil proper with its more heroic pattern drapes the hat and shoulders.

FASHIONS IN BRIEF

Kasha cloth makes charming costumes for country wear.

Black jet nail-heads are used a great deal as trimming.

Conservative silhouettes lead in blouse styles, with the peasant outline much modified.

In cottons, dainty keeps its place; voiles are steadily growing in popularity and cotton crepe appears as a novelty item.

Suede pockets and wigwag fringes on tweeds; velvet backs to peaked revers collars and topcoats; fur or duvetyln inlays have also been seen.

Felt hats with soft bell-shaped crowns have the brims slashed in one way or another and overlapped to simulate quills, the edges bound in ribbon.

Lace is playing a large part in the making and trimming of hats, and some dainty smart little models of hair braid are trimmed almost wholly in softly draped lace veils.

Chamois gloves are made with trimmings of kid. Sometimes the cuff of the chamois gauntlet is made with cutwork, beneath which shows a pattern in the darker kid.

Tiring-- Disagreeable-- Expensive --and all unnecessary now

Instead of putting in a tiresome disagreeable day overseeing a laundress—waiting on her, preparing meals for her, picking up after her— Instead of having wages and carfare and supplies and fuel and an extra luncheon to pay for, and having your home all upset and untidy. Just gather up your washing, telephone us, and have washday and all its worries off your mind.

Our modern laundry service will cost you less than to have a washwoman come in. It is always dependable, and the quality is always up to standard.

Best of all, we take all the fuss and bother and steam and heat out of your home—we give you a day that you can really call your own. Don't go through this weekly ordeal all summer long. Phone us today and arrange to have your washing done the modern way.

KITCHEN SHOWER GIVEN MISS GERTRUDE MIKSCH

Mrs. Olive Page and Mrs. M. B. Riley were hostesses at the home of the latter last evening to the young women of the Presbyterian church. The affair was a kitchen shower for Miss Gertrude Miksch, whose wedding to Mr. Julian, of Rogue River, occurs shortly. A very pleasant evening was spent by the company. Strawberries and cake were served at the close of the affair.
