NORTHWEST STATES RECEIVE NOTICE IN NEW YORK PAPER

In the New York Tribune, of Sunday, June 11, that paper devoted two pages to rotogravure pictures of the Pacific northwest, including scenes in Washington, Oregon and British Columbia.

This paper was published at a time when New York was suffering with one of those hot, sultry days, which ended in a storm causing the loss of 50 lives in that city. The pictures were probably the most valuable advertising ever appearing in the east, for they were published at a propitious time for making a lasting impression on people who saw the perfect summer climate pictured in graphic style.

Two of the pictures were southern Oregon scenes, one of Crater Lake and the other a view of the Pacific highway at Siskiyou, where it makes a perfect horseshoe.

HUGHES GETS HONORARY UNIVERSITY DEGREE

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 19.—The honorary degree of doctor of State Hughes at the University of Michigan commencement today.

Secretary Hughes, in delivering the commencement address, declared that international negotiations cannot be successfully conducted in the face of a fire of criticism from a "clamorous public." He asserted that the old European diplomacy of intrigue was discredited by the world war. He insisted, however, that a certain amount of secrecy is necessary even in America's "open diplomacy." Premature developments in the press or in public forums, he said, may prevent the accomplishments of the most enlightened aims, and gives opportunity for the insidious efforts of selfish interests, as well as favoring opposition abroad.

The snow at the present time is about ten feet deep at the lake rim, but it is expected that it will be possible to reach the lodge by the first of July in a car. NO MAN'S LAND MADE SAFE BY PARK SUPT. DEAN

"No Man's Land" is again a safe place in Ashland. Park Superintendent Dean has taken hold of the situation with the idea of making Lithia park a place of beauty from every point of view, and is leaving no stone unturned to make the park more attractive as time goes on.

The strip of land along the park on Granite street, familiarly known to the citizens of that section of the city as "No Man's Land," has been cleared of grass and weeds which have stood since early spring. The tract now presents a more dignified appearance, for which the residents of that neighborhood are truly grateful.

The walks in the park have all been cleaned off and are now in fine condition. They will be kept clean of weeds, leaves and the like all during the summer. The grass and flowers are getting their share of attention and are both responding nicely, and with frequent irrigation should continue so. The grass along the creek has been cleaned out, and one may approach the water at any point in the park without fear of getting lost or of stepping into some unseen water hole.

Various other improvements are also being made from time to time, all with the one purpose in mind, that of beautifying Lithia park to such an extent that it will be ever remembered by all who see it.

JOINT ACTION OF MINE AND RAIL UNION HEADS

UNION LEADERS WILL CONFER TOMORROW NIGHT AND ARE CONFIDENT

"Outrageous" is the Term Applied to Labor Board Action by President Lewis of the Mine Workers Union.

CINCINNATI, June 19.—Chiefs of the miners and rail unions have agreed to hold a meeting tomorrow night to discuss joint strike action. Announcement of the date for the meeting was made after a conference between President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America and E. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor, and others.

Formal announcement of the meeting was made later by Mr. Lewis at the American Federation of Labor convention. He said the meeting would discuss the "industrial situation affecting the strike of the organized miners and the outrageous action of the United States railroad labor board in imposing unwarrantable and unjustifiable reductions upon the railway employes."

In accepting the invitation for the meeting extended by the railroad organizations, Mr. Lewis said the mine workers would seek to prescribe "a course of action which will afford that essential degree of justice that is necessary to the men working in these two industries, and at the same time give every proper consideration to the welfare of the organized men and women."

"The mine workers are going to win their strike beyond the question of a doubt," Mr. Lewis asserted. Leaders of the miners and rail unions have approved a plan of coalition of forces in the coming railroad strike and will present it to the meeting tomorrow night. Nothing but possible government intervention now stands in the way of marshalling their battalions for the coming industrial conflict.

This will prove the greatest combine ever known to organized labor in the United States.

Ten prominent lawyers have been drafted from among the outstanding legal lights from all sections of the country, and are expected to arrive tonight. If they convince labor leaders that there is no conspiracy in the contemplated coalition it will be effected tomorrow night.

FIRE CHIEF ASKS THAT ALL DRY GRASS BE CUT

Fire Chief Robison, in speaking of the fire works in connection with the Fourth of July celebration, says that all dry and dead grass should be cut and destroyed before that date and thereby remove any chance of a fire being started by a spark from any kind of fire works.

Many fires are started every Fourth by fire works landing in some unguarded spot, and with dry grass on every hand, a spark might become a blazing forest destroying thousands of dollars worth of timber and perhaps causing the death of many people.

The dry grass should be cut and burned under the watchful eye of some responsible person who would be able to keep the blaze under control and possibly save his property from injury by fire through some other person's carelessness.
