S. P. MAKES PLEA TO ITS EMPLOYEES NOT TO STRIKE

GENERAL MANAGER DYER CONSIDERS CONDITIONS DO NOT WARRANT ACTION

Maintains That Under Re-Classification, Despite Decreases of Labor Board, Men Are Paid 30 to 110 Per cent More than During War.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—An appeal to Southern Pacific employees to consider the facts in the case carefully and then vote against the proposed railroad strike is made by J. H. Dyer, general manager of the Southern Pacific company in a statement just issued to the shop and maintenance of way men. Referring to the two principal points to be voted on: first, whether the railroad shall have the right to contract their shops to outsiders, and second, whether or not the last wage reduction shall be accepted, Dyer says:

"There is no pending issue on the Southern Pacific in regard to contracting of shop plants to outsiders, in which particular, considering the facts, do not see how shop men can do other than cast their vote against a strike on these lines."

Dyer then points out that since December 1917, the compensation of railroad employees has been fixed entirely by the railroad administration or by the railroad labor board, that three general increases have been received and two general decreases, the most recent one becoming effective July 1. He then presents figures showing that the wages of shop men and maintenance of way men, after the reduction becomes effective July 1, will still range from 30 to 110 per cent higher than they were during the war, notwithstanding the fact that living costs, according to government statistics, are only about 17 per cent higher.

"Due to present classification in work," Dyer reminds the employees, "many employees who were classified as car-men helpers in December 1917, are now classified and paid mechanics' rates without any change in the nature of work performed, making an increase in pay representing 110 per cent. This applies equally well to employees in other crafts now classified as mechanics who were formerly performing unskilled work."

"Since you accepted all decisions of governmental agencies that have been favorable to you, my confidence in your spirit of fair play is such that I do not believe you will decline to abide by a decision which is unfavorable to you. The United States railroad labor board is composed, as you know, of nine members—three representing labor interests, three representing the interests of railroad management, and three representing the public. When employer and employee present their issues to the board and receive its decision, it is the duty of both sides to abide by the lawfully arrived at decisions of the board. It is the policy of the Southern Pacific to do so, we expect you to do so, and I believe that you will."

"I am in full sympathy with your ambition for better working conditions, earnestly desire that you shall be happy in your employment and want to do all I can to advance your interests. I have been proud of the loyalty and efficiency of our employees and have not hesitated to say so at every opportunity. Am quite sure that you believe with me that we owe a duty to the public to render uninterrupted transportation service, also that we owe a duty to the company which furnishes us the opportunity to make a living for ourselves and families. In performing that duty we shall build up that which will give us permanent employment and make our futures secure. If we fail to discharge that obligation, it can only result in bringing suffering to our patrons, ourselves, and our families."

HI SCHOOL BEAUTY'S PICTURE MAY CAUSE GRADUATES STRIKE

EUREKA, Calif., June 26.—Because she "posed" for a photograph and the resulting picture showed a beautifully curved cupid's bow mouth, and a hairdress such as is frowned upon by the faculty, the picture of Miss Gladys Laverty, local high school prize beauty, and member of the class to graduate, was ruthlessly backswapped from the plate which appeared in the last issue of the "Sequoia," the high school publication, and now there is war between the faculty and the student body on the eve of the graduation exercises.

A meeting of the student body has been called and it is rumored that a strike by the graduating class, involving absence from the exercises may follow.

Neat, 50 years of age, who resided on a small chicken ranch on the Keno road about one mile from this city, was found dead in a chair in his house about 8 o'clock Friday night, by M. R. Spencer, a neighbor. Neat had predicted he would die in this manner, neighbors said. Death was believed due to heart failure. Coroner who took charge of the body, said Neat had probably died the night before. He was sitting in a natural position with his head thrown back, and apparently had left bed because of shortage of breath. In reply to a telegram, G. W. Neat, a brother residing at Yelm, Washington, replied that he was leaving immediately for this city.

BENNY LEONARD IS FAVORITE IN BOUT WITH JACK BRITTON

(International News Service) NEW YORK, June 26.—According to the way the "wise money" would have it, Benny Leonard will add the world's welterweight title to his lightweight honors by midnight tonight at the very latest. Benny is to meet Jack Britton, the ageing welter champion, at the New York velodrome in a 15-round bout to a decision that will determine the custody of the welterweight crown, and all the wise men of the east are getting down on the debonaire challenger. Britton, a bit passe, but still clever to the point of being downright nasty about it, hopes to dance away from Leonard for the 15-round distance, and, in the meantime, outscore the lightweight entry. That is Jack's only chance tonight. He has no punch that can be figured to trouble Leonard, and the latter will be footloose and fancy free to tear in after his man from the start.

Benny, in addition to the advantages that accrue from youth and the priceless punch, will enter the ring at a poundage quite to his liking. The articles of agreement call for the men to make 147 pounds at 2 p. m., and Leonard will do this with a paving block under each arm. He should be at his ultimate best under these conditions.

The prevailing odds are 5 to 3 on Leonard with a surprising number of takers at that.

TRAIL BROKEN TO LAKE OF THE WOODS SUNDAY

Henry Enders Jr., accompanied by some of the employees of the Enders store, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Garrett and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Klum motored to Lake of the Woods Sunday, finding many obstacles on the road which had to be cut out before the machines could get through. In many places it was necessary to make detours on the last seven miles of the route. Workmen are busily engaged in clearing the road, and by next Sunday it should be possible for a car to drive all the way to the lake without detouring. The mud is nearly all dried up, and another week should see the road in fine condition. Dry weather reduces estimated Oregon wheat crop to 22,248,000 bushels.

THOUSANDS AT GRANTS PASS FOR CAVE DAY

BIG GUNS FROM ASHLAND TAKE PART IN NEW HIGHWAY DEDICATION

Jesse Winburn, Bert Moses, A. L. Richmond and Vice-President McCormick of the S. P. Help Swell Procession to Caves.

GRANTS PASS, June 26.—Judging from the long line of automobiles that have been pouring into town from every direction all day yesterday and today, it won't seem as if all roads in southern Oregon led to Grants Pass and the Josephine caves. There was a big representation from Ashland in the parade, which formed here early this morning en route to the caves, and a l were galli decorated with banners advertising the big celebration in Ashland on the third and fourth.

There are some pretty big guns here from Ashland, too, among them Jesse Winburn and Bert Moses, fresh from their eastern trip. The latter, by the way, paid a glowing tribute to Oregon, in talking in a gathering at the Josephine hotel. He said the most delightful part of the trip from the time they left Colorado Springs, was on the road from Portland, along the Pacific highway to Grants Pass.

There are at least 30 auto parties here from Ashland, and many came in on the trains. A. L. Richmond, the Santa Barbara hotel man, and E. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, came over in an auto with Bert Greer, and were in the parade to Grayback, where a big barbecue took place at noon. From that point to the caves, the road has been black with machines all day, looking for all the world like a long black ribbon stretching clear from Grayback to the caves. The opening of the magnificent highway proved the event of the year in southern Oregon and was attended by probably the largest crowd ever assembled in the state outside of Portland.
