Rhythmic Philosophy

By Dick Posey

OUR MARBLE CAVES

Would you thread a quaint fairyland, room after room. With their settings so airy and free, As fresh as the lily just sprung into bloom. Yet as old as the rim of the sea? Would you enter a realm that has never known time, Where the sands have been choked in the glass? Wou'd you see vast stalactites a-glitter with rime That slumber whi e centuries pass? Then come to these halls where vast eons have trod. While none watched but the Eye from above; Where the marble gleams white as the great throne of God

Ah, the wonderful patience that time could not stop. As the Builder his temple did cast. While he shaped forms and fancies from each crystal drop As the ages rolled into the past. Sweet si'ences reigned in these vast marble halls Ere Jehovah had fashioned the ear, Save the water that dripped from these glistening walls, Ever building and building each year.

And the water drips pure as His love.

And time dragged his steps o'er the long dreary trail, And mankind came into his own, San Salvador welcomed Columbus' white sail. But God's masterpiece slumbered unknown, And men founded homes in our beautiful land. On the shores of the far eastern sea, And builded a government splendid and grand, Granting freedom to you and to me; And westward they surged in a great seething horde, Ever building, and building with care, But the voice of that silence still whispered unheard, While Old Baldy stood sentinel there.

And then, afterwhile, in the Builder's own time, When the ripeness of harvest was right, He lifted the veil from the temple sublime. And a world stands aghast at the sight!

Chicago Jail Riot Is Suppressed

Rebellion of prisoners in the Cook county jail in Chicago the other day was suppressed summarily by Capt. Wesley Westbrook, the jailor. He and his guards gave each of the rioters a good whipping. The illustration shows County Commissioner Mrs. Bemis, Captain Westbrook and a guard looking over the stuff the prisoners threw from their cells; and a portrait of Westbrook.

Calumet is more economical than other brands selling for less because its quality is the highest-no losses from spoiled bakings.

Use Calumet once—that's enough to prove to you that it's "best by test."
