JAMES BOYD DIES AT HOME HERE LAST NIGHT

James Boyd died at his home at 317 North Main street last night about 9:30 o'clock. He was 81 years of age, being born in Livingstonville, N. Y., August 9, 1840. He lived there until, as a young man, he came to St. Paul, Minn., where he engaged in business and made his home there until the year 1900, when he moved with his family to near Bly, Oregon. Here he lived until 1908, when the family moved to Ashland, renting the present home on North Main street, which was after purchased and became the family residence.

Mr. Boyd had the misfortune of being deaf, and therefore did not make as many friends as he otherwise would, and lived almost altogether with his family. His vision began to fail about a year ago, and he was compelled to give up the privilege of driving his car, which he had greatly enjoyed up to that time.

He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a member of the Presbyterian church of St. Paul.

Mr. Boyd leaves surviving him, besides his wife, three sons and two daughters—Fred Boyd of Seattle; James Boyd of Nampa, Ida.; George Boyd of Bly, Or.; Mrs. R. A. Lares of San Francisco, and Mrs. J. C. Ferguson of this city.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but Mr. Boyd's request that his body be shipped to St. Paul for burial will be observed. H. C. Stock, funeral director, will have charge of the arrangements in Ashland.
