25,000 PEOPLE AT ASHLAND'S CELEBRATION

VISITORS FLOCK TO FESTIVITIES FROM ALL PARTS OF SOUTHERN OREGON

Program of the "Fourth" Was Un-qualified Success and Not a Single Accident Marred Enjoyment of Vast Gathering.

Twenty-five thousand people is a conservative estimate of the number who were in Ashland yesterday to attend the Fourth of July celebration. Many believe that this is the largest number ever in attendance at a single event in this city, although in the past the famous rodeos attracted big crowds. Be that as it may, the attendance was a record breaker for any event ever held in southern Oregon.

In order to get an intelligent estimate of the number of people here, it can be said that after the fireworks had concluded the program for the day, a steady stream of automobiles started from the park on the return journey. They followed each other about ten feet apart, three cars passing a given point in one minute. Fifty-five minutes elapsed from the homeward start of the first car to the last, on Granite street. That would total 1650 cars. On the roadway through the park, paralleling Granite street, the cars moved at about the same rate for the same length of time. Estimate that at 1650 cars. There were probably more, as they moved somewhat faster. Then on the lower, or ditch drive, they moved in a steady stream for thirty minutes, and even a larger number for the same period, took the homeward route via the scenic drive. Taken all in all, a very conservative estimate would place the number of cars leaving the park at five thousand. Add to this the cars parked on Main street. Both sides of the street were lined with cars almost from the city limits on the north to the Boulevard on the south. Every side street too, had its quota of cars. How many it would be impossible to even conjecture, but it can scarcely be taken as an exaggeration to say that there were six thousand automobiles in the city and that they carried an average of four persons. In many instances the cars contained all the way from four to a half-dozen—even more, but on an average of four to a car, it would easily account for an attendance of twenty-four thousand people. Add to this the number who came in on special trains of the Southern Pacific from Grants Pass, Dunsmuir and Weed and you have an attendance of twenty-five thousand.

In point of attendance the celebration marks a record, but not the only one. There was not an accident during the day. There was not an arrest made during the day. There was not a fire reported during the day, except for a five-inch hole burnt in an awning and the burrlap wall of one of the concessions in the park.

Too much credit cannot be given the police department for the manner in which the vast crowd was handled. Chief Hatcher had fifteen extra policemen sworn in, and had he picked his men from the traffic squads of Portland, they could not have rendered better service.

At no time, either during the parade or afterwards was there a congestion of traffic anywhere. How six thousand automobiles could be parked in a city the size of Ashland, without obstructing traffic, or how twenty-five thousand people could be handled without an accident and without a row during the entire day, is one of the things that passeth the point of explanation. The fact that it was an actual accomplishment will have to stand for itself.

The parade was a great success. For one thing it started on time and during the passing of the procession there was not a dull moment. So fascinating was the spectacle that the crowds lining the sidewalks, seated and standing, at every available point on the line of march, held its ground until the parade

HEAT CAUSES RED BLUFF'S SIDEWALK TO JUMP UP

RED BLUFF, Calif., July 5—The intense heat of the last few days caused an odd break in the West Side State Highway, just north of Proberta, yesterday, when the paving fairly "jumped into the air," leaving a stretch of several yards in length dangerous for travel. The heat, according to reports brought here, forced the paving to rise a foot or more, and there it remained in a peculiar looking formation. The thermometer registered 109.

NINE MEN SHOT WHEN WEED MAN FIGHTS SHERIFF

TRIES TO MURDER WIFE THEN BARRICADES HIMSELF AND GIVES BATTLE

House is Biddled With Bullets and Attempt Made to Snook Him Out But Unfit Wounded He Was Not Made a Prisoner.

WEED, Calif., July 5—Following an alleged attempt to murder his wife by cutting her throat at an early hour yesterday, Joe Sharboro held officers at bay at his home in Shastina, wounding nine of them, until a shot from the gun of a Deputy Sheriff, who had managed to slip into the house, wounded the gunman and closed the battle. He was taken to the hospital by Sheriff Calkins and it will probably be necessary to amputate his arm. His sanity will be examined into as soon as he is able to be taken to Yreka.

Sharboro, who barricaded himself in his six-room home, used a shotgun to keep the officers at distance. After the exchange of volleys into the house by the Sheriff and his posse had failed to drive Sharboro from cover or to cause him to surrender an ineffectual effort was made to drive him out by sulphur fumes. Burning sulphur was thrown into the house, but to no avail.

It was not until after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon that a deputy sheriff was able to slip into the house and found Sharboro crouched behind a sewing machine. A shot from the deputy's shotgun, which wounded Sharboro but slightly, put an end to the battle.

Sharboro, according to the officers, attempted to take the life of Mrs. Sharboro at 6:30 a. m. yesterday. He managed to cut her throat, but a serious wound was not inflicted. Seven children then were driven from the home.

Joseph Fortunato, a neighbor, who attempted to pacify Sharboro, was shot in the back. Following the shooting it was believed Fortunato's right arm would have to be amputated.

Shortly after this Weed officers arrived, led by Constable Joseph Lockyer, who attempted to rush into the house. Lockyer was shot in the leg.

Seven others who attempted to rush into the house to overpower Sharboro also were slightly wounded. Among these were George Cahoun, a hotel man, and Lucine White, a barber.

The members of the Presbyterian church at a congregational meeting Sunday voted an increase of $200 per year on the pastor's salary, to date from April 1, of the current year. As this was a unanimous, unopposed action of the church, it cheered the hearts of the pastor and family more than words can express.

WINBURN MAKES PLANS TO GIVE CHILDREN OUTING

Jesse Winburn, who promised the kiddies who took part in the parade an outing at Sap and Salt in the Woods has extended the list to those children who took part in the various athletic events of the day in the park.

All children who took part in the parade or in the athletic events of the day who have not already received a ticket for the outing, may get same by calling at any time at the office of the secretary of the chamber of commerce. Mr. Winburn is giving this outing to the kiddies as a reward for having helped to make the Fourth of July a success and in as much as some ladies will be on hand at all times to take charge of them in the place of the parents, they will not need care of the parents for the afternoon.

Mrs. F. G. Swedenburg is chairman of the committee that will have charge of the children and will be assisted by the following ladies: Mesdames Pernie Johnson, Fred Homes, Charles Loomis, Henry, W. M. Barber, C. W. Fraley, E. A. Woods, Louis Dodge, McWilliams, Mrs. John Fuller, all of Ashland and Mrs. C. E. Gates and Mrs. Barnett of Medford.

The above ladies are asked to be at the chamber of commerce rooms at 2:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon to take charge of the children as they arrive and one or more of the ladies will accompany each truck load of children on the trip going up and returning from the trip.

T. L. Powell transfer company will have charge of transporting the children to and from the cabin and Mr. Winburn announces that special arrangements have been made with the police whereby the road up the canyon will be closed to all vehicles coming down the canyon between the hours of 2:00 and 3:30 o'clock and to all traffic going up the canyon between 5:00 and 6:30 o'clock in order that there may be no possibility of any accident to the children by having to meet a machine going in the opposite direction at some point where the road is narrow. Mr. Winburn also announces that the road has been put in much better condition than it was last year at the time that the children were taken to the cabin and that every precaution will be used to prevent any accident of any kind.

Mr. Winburn has a number of surprises for the children and does not care to announce all of his plans for the afternoon, only announcing that a base ball match will be held in which the boys will be matched against the girls. Chester Woods being captain of the boys team and Genevieve Swedenburg captain of the girls.

The children will all be set down on the return in the chamber of commerce rooms between six and seven o'clock and any parent who wished to meet them there may do so at that time.

Impounding of a cow belonging to Anderson by Johnson and refusal of Anderson to pay $5 to Johnson after the former had forcibly taken possession of the animal is given by Johnson as the event leading up to the slaying.

WRESTLING AND BOXING BOUTS DRAW GOOD CROWD

Walter Miller of Los Angeles is still the holder of the middle-weight wrestling championship, having taken the decision over Ralph Hand of Cottage Grove at the match in the Armory on the night of Ford Day. It was a splendid exhibition for ten rounds, at the end of which time Hand was taken with cramps and was compelled to throw up the sponge.

The boxing matches were well attended yesterday afternoon, the results being two decisions and two draws. In the main event W. Deat Welty lived up to his reputation and carried the fight to Jess Ingram of Medford, from the top of the go. The bout was scheduled to go ten rounds, but it didn't, Welty putting his man down for the count in the early part of the fourth round.

The first preliminary was furnished by Kid Merritt and Young Bentley, who went four rounds to a draw. What was to have been a six-round go between Kenneth McKenzie of Spokane and Kid Wright of Portland, came to an end in the third round, with the decision in favor of McKenzie, who outclassed his opponent. Dave Sargent of Ashland and Bartling Barnett of Klamath Falls went six rounds to a draw.

Espee Expects Most of Shopmen to Return to Work

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 5—General Manager J. H. Dyer, of the Espee, this morning made the following statement:

"The number of Southern Pacific shop craft employees steadily increasing. At Los Angeles, Sacramento and other points many of our former shop craft employees who left their work commencing July 1st are returning to the service. In Arizona our shop crafts working force is fifty per cent of the force normally employed, new men are being employed. These are being added to the force of employees numbering more than one third of those whom the strike called out sought to involve that remained on the job since the first.

It becomes increasingly evident that with the exceptions of a small minority the employees who left the service will take advantage of our offer of yesterday, whereby those who report for duty promptly will have their seniority, pensions and pass privilege restored without prejudice.

After 7 a. m. July 6, 1922, those who fail to report for duty at the regular stated time on the shifts on which they last worked, shall forfeit the privilege of being returned to the service and their former and open to newly employed men. The strike is having no effect upon the usual movement of our freight and passenger business.
