JOHN W. THOMAS, well-known insurance man of Wilmington, Del., who declares Tanlac promptly overcame his stubborn stomach trouble and run-down condition following two attacks of influenza. Gains weight and now feels fine.

"The flu left me in such a run-down condition life was miserable and work a burden," declared John W. Thomas, well-known insurance man, 609 Tatnall street, Wilmington, Del., in a recent statement regarding Tanlac.
"Twice I was a victim of the flu" he continued, "the last time about two years ago, and since then I suffered from stomach trouble, nervousness and dizzy spells. After eating, gas on my stomach worked up through my chest and made my heart beat so fast it alarmed me, and I nearly smothered. I could never get a good night's sleep and got up mornings with a mean taste in my mouth and all tired out."
"Other medicines seemed to do me harm instead of good, but three bottles of Tanlac rid me of indigestion, the nervousness and dizziness. My sleep is restful, and I am feeling like a different man. Tanlac is certainly great."
Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

"GOLDEN DREAMS" MAKES HIT AT THE VINING
There's a compelling lure to the story unfolded in "Golden Dreams," a Paramount production at the Vining tonight and tomorrow night. The scenes are laid in Old Mexico, just over the border, and has to do with the fortunes of an Americanized family of Spanish origin, and interwoven is, of course, a tale of love. It could hardly be otherwise in the land of romance and adventure. In one of the scenes there is perhaps one of the best climaxes ever worked up on the screen or stage, where the wild animals of a circus are turned loose on a Mexican mob bent on destroying the hero. The flight of the mob, terror-stricken, before the animals and the combats between them and the two arch villains of the drama, furnishes about as many thrills as it is safe to assimilate in a single entertainment.
