"If I Could Only Get Up That Gas"

I KNOW I WOULD FEEL BETTER
How often have you felt that way? How often have you wished for something to give you genuine and lasting relief from gas?

Don't buy any ordinary dyspepsia tablets for temporary results. Go to a first class drug store and ask for a bottle of genuine Baalmann's Gas Tablets. Take three tablets an hour before meals and again three after eating—then watch. Now comes a surprise. No more gas, no more smothered feeling, no difficult breathing, no bloating.

Remember, Baalmann's Gas Tablets are not only for the relief, but also for the prevention of gas. Most people with gas suffer from nervous dyspepsia—not common indigestion. Baalmann's Gas Tablets in the famous yellow package are sold by Elhart's Drug Store and other reliable druggists. J. Baalmann, chemist, San Francisco. —2

CONTRASTS THAT ARE VIVID

Good for Pessimist to Dwell on Difference of Life Today and Three Centuries Ago.

Just to learn how far we have come, take a look at the present and then glance backward anywhere from three centuries to times within the memory of men who are yet scarcely gray-headed. Take a walk down Leyden street and gaze on the model log cabin of the type which was once one of the best dwellings in the chief residential section of the town (Plymouth), back in 1621 and 1622. Imagine what the interior would be like on a winter day with only one fireplace harnessed to a chimney which needed a woodlot to feed it, but was a fine ventilator. Consider what the furnishings must have been and having completed this mental picture drop down several generations to the time of your great grandmother who used a smaller fireplace to do her cooking, or else had a brick oven instead of a Dutch kitchen or bake kettle for her bread and such, and the bathing facilities were—well, primitive to say the least. Yes, and she used candles dipped at home and made her soap in the backyard, the sort which took off dirt all right and seemed to carry along cuticle with it.

Later came wood-burning stoves and still later some coal was used, but not so very much, for wood by the cart load was brought into town from the back lots and sold daily in town square not 50 years ago. Lumber was sawed by hand at times and the lumber mills used the old slow single sash saw; shingles were rived by hand and split laths can be found in houses about here even now, but they are old ones. Nails were made and window sash formed the winter job for the carpenter who was building a house. Plenty more contrasts will occur if one stops to think a moment and thinking is just what the really successful preacher tries to get his audience to do. The foregoing is only the outline of the heads of the sermon about houses and their contents and surroundings.—Old Colony Memorial.

SEES LACK OF IMAGINATION

Cleveland Writer Thinks Blunders of School Children Are Less Funny Than They Were.

"It doesn't seem to me," says the Cleveland observer, "that the blunders school children make nowadays are as funny as they used to be. And this, as the sociologist will tell you, argues that the school children haven't the imagination they used to have. It takes imagination to produce entertaining blunders of this sort, as any school teacher will tell you."

Here are two related by a Cleveland teacher. To the question, "What do you know about George Washington?" a ten-year-old replied, "George hit the tree with his hatchet an' his father sed, who dun it, an' George sed, I dun it, and his father sed, enny American boy can get to be President, an' he did."

The other question was, "Who was Commodore Perry?" This was the answer: "He was out on the lake fighting an' he said, we have meet the enny an' then they turned him into stone."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Dead Nebulae."

There has been photographed a most singular object in the constellation Taurus, the appearance of which suggests the term "dead nebula." It is a long, straggling mass, which seems to shut out the stars behind it. All round it the stars are strewn thickly, but within its boundaries very few appear and it is suggested that these may lie on this side of it. At one point there is a small, bright nebula, which gradually fades out. The feeble portions of the nebula would almost suggest that a large nebula exists here, but that the major portion of it is dead or non-luminous. In some places the dark object is manifestly darker than the starless parts of the sky around it.—Washington Star.

Work in Madagascar Compulsory.

All idle persons in Madagascar must work or pay a tax for the privilege of living an unproductive life. As the end of the war released thousands of native troops, the colonial government has decided that something must be done to check idleness, especially as there is plenty of work for all comers. A decree just published insists that every European sound of limb must work at least 250 days a year up to the age of fifty, but natives are not compelled to work more than 180 days. Of course, anyone with a private fortune can be exempted, but that will cost 25 francs per diem for leisure. All "oisifs" taxes will be used to buy agricultural machinery and tools for the development of the island's resources. The aged and crippled will receive a small salary to seek out evaders of the new regulation. "oisifs" are the equivalent in French for "lounge lizards."

Oil experts tell you that the destructive "sulpho" compounds in motor oil reduce its lubricating value. These impurities cause the oil to break down and thin out almost immediately under engine heat.

Cycol is the motor oil from which destructive "sulpho" compounds have been removed. The new Hexeon Process, used only by us, does it. Cycol does not break down nor thin out rapidly under engine heat—Cycol maintains an unbroken lubricating film—Cycol prevents many motor troubles.

Prove it yourself! Flush your engine with fresh lubricating oil, not so-called flushing oils or kerosene, and refill with Cycol.

Different brands of motor oils have different bodies. The safest, surest way to get the best performance from your motor and avoid expensive engine troubles due to incorrect lubrication is to use the grade of motor oil specified on the Cycol Lubrication Chart.
