26 School Districts To Open Next Week; Field Covered During 1921-22 Is Given

Twenty-six districts of the county have reported to the county superintendent of schools that they will open their doors on September 4 or 5, among them Ashland, Talent, Phoenix, Sams Valley and Gold Hill. Final examinations for eighth grade pupils will be held September 7 and 8. Arrangements for these can be made through either the county superintendent's office at Jacksonville, or by writing to the home districts. On Thursday examinations for arithmetic and writing will be held in the morning and history and spelling in the afternoon; Friday morning, history and spelling examinations will be given, with geography, civil government and reading in the afternoon.

In the report of the county superintendent to the state superintendent, covering the period from June 20, 1921, to June 19, 1922, inclusive, many interesting facts about Jackson county schools are given: A total of 225 rooms were kept in operation, 60 of them being high school rooms. Of the 107 school houses in the county, 100 of them were functioning. In the district there were 11 high schools, with a total enrollment of 1128. Of these 516 were boys and 612 girls. In the grades, there were 2340 boys and 2125 girls, a total of 4465, or 5593 enrolled in public schools in the county. From the census enumeration, it is learned that in Jackson county there are 3576 boys and 3448 girls between the ages of four and 20, a total of 7024. Enrollment in private schools brings the total in school to 5838. From this it is seen that there were 1186 young people of school age in the county that did not attend any school during the period covered by the report.

In the report made by the county superintendent there follows an itemized list of the various schools, books published, inspections and teachers' meetings held, teachers' qualifications, average salary of all teachers, together with the highest and the lowest, transportation costs, value of school property, with the average cost per pupil enrolled, per month per pupil, enumerated, and the daily average attendance and the length of term.

During the period the cost of transportation amounted to $8,671.15; schools were maintained at a total cost of $442,104.86, with an average cost of $79.05 per pupil enrolled, and a cost of $62.94 per pupil enumerated. The estimated value of school property is given at $951,299.54, total bonded indebtedness amounting to $293,800; outstanding warrants, $63,469.07. This makes a total indebtedness of $357,407.32 to be borne by the county.

A study of the figures compiled in the report show that small, poorly attended schools with short terms are the most expensive, and bring in the smallest returns for the money invested.

Two districts are planning on new buildings. District No. 18, Antioch, is erecting a new, modern one-room school building on the present site, and District No. 68, the Watkins school, has secured blue prints from the state office for a one-room building to take the place of the present old log school house.

WOULD SAVE THE SONGBIRDS

Associated Audubon Societies Have Planned a General Campaign Throughout the South.

A general campaign for the better protection of songbirds is to be conducted throughout the South by the Associated Audubon Societies, a national organization. T. Gilbert Pearson, president of the organization, who has been studying southern bird life, deplors evidence he has found which indicates that bird mortality in the South has about wiped out valuable species in many localities. In South Carolina he found conditions in this respect very distressing, while a survey in Texas revealed a similar situation. But his indictment covers the entire South, and hence the campaign in contemplation is to include all the southern states. Mr. Gilbert directed the attention of farmers to the fact that the fight against the boll weevil is being greatly handicapped by the slaughter of birds. In this connection he said further:

"While they feed on insects and do not specialize on boll weevils, a single songbird will destroy great quantities of weevils. The value of these birds in checking the multiplication of insects is thoroughly understood all through the North, where the laws protecting birds are observed. In most sections of the North a farmer would prosecute anyone killing songbirds on his lands. But in many parts of the South the farmers, his sons and the hired men kill birds constantly, eating the robin and some of the other larger varieties and shooting many of the smaller varieties for sport."—New Orleans Picayune.

QUESTION FOR LAW SHARKS

Nice Point Concerning Ownership of Pearl Which Cook Discovered in Clam She Was Eating.

A nice question of ethics and of law is raised by the case of the cook at Atlantic City who choked on a pearl found in a clam she was eating and whose mistress then claimed the precious obstruction for her own. In the diamond mines of the Rand at Kimberley the native workman who swallows a diamond does not, ipso facto, make it his own. He digs in the blue clay on the understanding that every jewel discovered belongs to the De Beers Mining company, Ltd. But the cook was in a different situation. She was given her food as a part of her compensation. The pearl is an excrescent part of the clam; it is the picturesque result of a diseased condition.

If possession is nine-tenths of the law, then the cook is entitled to the pearl on the principle of "findings is keepings." In any case, the lady of the house would be entitled to boast, as many a mistress has asserted, "I have a pearl in my cook!"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
