UNSHAKEN TESTIMONY

Time is the test of truth. And Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test in Ashland. No Ashland resident who suffers backache or annoying urinary ills can remain unconvinced by this twice-told testimony.

Mrs. S. C. McDonald, 685 B street, Ashland, says: "I know from personal experience that Doan's Kidney Pills cannot be equalled for kidney trouble. I have taken them on several occasions for a lameness through my kidneys and it only required a few of Doan's to relieve me of the misery. Doan's have also proven a splendid remedy for another member of my family who has considerable trouble with his kidneys." (Statement given March 15, 1916.)

On March 19, 1920, Mrs. McDonald said: "There is nothing better for kidney complaint than Doan's Kidney Pills. I seldom have any sign of kidney trouble and give Doan's the credit."

English Peer Makes Charge That Revenge is the Root of War Talk

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Hope for revenge is partly responsible for the fear of war which is sweeping Europe, according to Sir William Sutherland, M. P., chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

"It is necessary to arouse throughout Europe and America a vigorous opinion against war," Sir William said.

"How shall we account for the prevalence of this talk of new wars?"

"It is partly due to hopes for revenge. Having recovered from the first stage of defeat and martial humiliation, some peoples are looking forward to a military dawn that will replace defeat by victory. They talk about it; and the hope 'that springs eternal' matures into whisperings and secret preparations.

"I have information, for example, from a friend in Germany, that in his district a small body of men have started a voluntary organization for war, in which each man engages to get 20 others. Each of these in turn to collect 20.

"International fears account for much also—fears justified and fears groundless. They always have, in the clash of national ambitions and competitive armaments, and more than ever now. People who gained their freedom in the war are afraid it will be taken from them. Nations which have enlarged their boundaries consider they must have increased forces to maintain them.

"Thus it is that you have in Europe greater armies than in 1914; when all the time, it is more workers to make good the losses of the war, that are needed.

"The unique concentration of scientific and engineering ability on destructive implements of war during the years of fighting has produced its harvest; and the very existence of this crop arouses a talk of, and an interest in, war.

"As to the spirit of the people, that is a different matter. If the British people were attacked or aroused by what they considered sufficient and just cause, they would

Women Hikers Are Enjoying Trip From N.Y.

Hiking "just to see the west," as they expressed it, three young women arrived in Ashland late Saturday evening and remained over the week-end.

The trio decided last spring that they wanted a trip, and decided upon the original mode of locomotion. All three were from New York City, and set out upon their jaunt June 14. Before returning to the east, they expect to visit Los Angeles, making the trip back by way of the southern route. As many as 25 miles have been covered by foot in one day, though the party is not trying to make a record or to wear themselves out. They have accepted rides of varying distances, but have not been aboard a train. The party hopes to be back in New York sometime next June.

Many of the national parks have been visited, and Yosemite will be seen on the way to Los Angeles. It was desired to see Crater Lake, but they did not think they would make the side trip, as there were many fine trips and sights to be seen along their route. None of the party had ever been west before, and were delighted with the way they were treated by all whom they met.

Those in the party were Rose Adams, Laura Sand and Mildred Selsman.

Visits Medford—

Miss M. Conaty was a visitor in Medford the latter part of the week.
